TUESDAY, NOV. 30, 1906.

Published weekly and entered at the Post Office at Wausau as second class matter.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The setting apart of one day in each year to acknowledge the Almighty God for his manifold blessings, has been sanctioned by long usage, and should be regarded as more than a mere formality. In this country, more than in any other, the people have reason to feel grateful for the blessing of liberty and for the abundant opportunity open to all who are sober and industrious to improve their condition. We, at this time, are blessed with abundant harvest. Prosperity is universal throughout the land. Our own state shares in full measure this general prosperity.
Mindful of these great blessings and privileges, and in accordance with time-honored custom, and in conformity with the proclamation of the president of the United States, I, James O. Davidson, governor of the state of Wisconsin, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, Nov. 29, as a day of thanksgiving and praise, and do recommend that it be suitably observed by all our citizens in their several places of worship by appropriate religious observance.

Gov. Davidson.

About Politics.

Everywhere there seems to be a good spirit in the democracy of Wisconsin. Democrats feel that the contest has settled down on its merits and the most corrupt political wave that ever swept the state has begun to subside. There are voters in every party ready to follow inducements; these have been worked in every way; nationality has done its work and even religion has been dragged into politics. The municipal elections in the spring have been barred for support, and the kind of state elections in the fall. There was less of this in the election just passed in the two or three just previous and there is a prospect that the kind of politics has passed for possibly a generation. Contests can now be made on principle and that is a glorious thing for democrats. The party should organize early and make ready for a good campaign, but care should be taken to keep the organization in honest hands. With this down and in the face of the great corruption on the other side there is no reason why the democratic party should not march to victory in the next election.—Hudson True Republican.
Every word of this is true and well put. Let the democrats of Hudson get together and make a new law. There isn't a better or stronger man in that city to take the initiative than George D. Cline. He may even let you hold the line. Then you have him going right. In education as well as in politics when the people place confidence in you and trust to your intelligence and business methods it is easy to work out desired reforms. But don't get too far away from the people. When your light begins to scintillate take a shot at it and you will fall with your light into the sea of oblivion. Too many teachers stand in a community that for a reason. They are running the school this year, but next year they will find to their sorrow that the school is run by a different party. If you don't need wall paper just at present buy any while the fifty cent paper is at Calles last. You will need the paper in the future and will then pay more for it.

Milwaukee Fall of Democrats.

Every day opens our eyes to the fact that there is a very large number of real democrats in Milwaukee—citizens who sincerely believe that representative government is being destroyed by men who chase after power for its own sake. Every time poor old human nature shows some of its evils. If these men could be gotten into a party, what a magnificent front it would present. Isn't there somebody in Milwaukee who knows how these things are done, with patriotism enough to get under way an organization founded on democratic principles? There's a name and fame in such work.—Milwaukee Journal.
Of course there's somebody. There's W. H. Graebner, John Toohy, John

Roemer, Adolph Schwefel, E. C. Weil, W. J. Zimmers, Adolph Schmitz, Leopold Hamill, Geo. W. Peck, Young Miller Souers, Dr. Fred Weber, Henry Cummings, J. H. Stover, Frank Fink, Gen. J. B. Doe, Lawyer Scanlon, William Kershaw, J. A. Sheridan, Alex. Wall, and a hundred others who can each give you the names of a hundred others who are ready to take hold and build up a democratic platform that will surprise the natives.
Why not the democrats of Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Oconto, Waukesha, Whitewater, Jefferson, Madison, La Crosse, Ashland, Merrill, Marinette, Sheboygan, Manitowish, Wausau, Grand Rapids, Marshfield, Antigo, Portage, Hudson, Racine, Kenosha, Chilton, Stevens Point and all the other large towns of the state, organize Jefferson clubs and expound Jeffersonian doctrines to the people?

ECHOES FROM THE SCHOOL ROOM.

By Phil O. Sopher.

As the experienced teacher by skillfully shifting his sails can steer his ship into a desired port in the face of a perverse wind, so can a skillful teacher by artfully shaping her methods to existing adverse circumstances win over a whole community to her way of thinking as did that plucky little teacher the "old woman" in Jean Mitchell's school. But she must be sensible and practical, and above all human. She must work along moderate lines. She must not be too eager to introduce innovations or remove the ancient landmarks. She must accept conditions as they are and ever bear in mind that the district and the fullness thereof belongs to the people. It is natural for them to adhere to their customs and methods of thinking. One generation of schoolmasters is three years. Three into thirty goes ten times. It will take ten generations of Yankee schoolmasters together with the best efforts of the superintendent to introduce a considerable reform in the educational status of the rural school. Of course in the city where the people have not so much to say in the matter it is different. There educational reform, so to speak, is not infrequently thrust upon them as a matter of experiment by some over-zealous educational patroness who in the interests of suffering humanity has invented some "natural system" by which children are fed reform with a spoon something after the fashion portrayed by Dickens in his famous novel.

Take the system of "dramatizing" reading lessons, for instance. It is remarkable to note what extremes nature will lead to in this respect if left unbridled. I also the "natural system" of writing. What a beautiful natural scrawl it develops in the child if nature is allowed to assert itself. But to return to our subject, the teacher must show a disposition to work. Nothing inspires confidence quicker or places the teacher in better standing in a community than for the rural folk to see the smoke arising from the chimney of the schoolhouse at an early hour. Build up. Be constructive as well as destructive. Replace that broken pane with a new light without calling a meeting of the board. Even a schoolmaster can do this. Oil the rusty hinges on the doors and keep things moving without too much friction. Get in line with the children. They are moving and growing. Keep going and growing with them. Progress is made on the march. Don't stop to preach a sermon on moral reform or block the way with pedagogical pedantry. Adjust the individuals to the column as you proceed. Talk as you walk. Be enterprising. Get a cosmopolitan swing on you. Cultivate an air of progress and independence. Don't stick on conventionalities. It is oftentimes etiquette to disregard etiquette. Don't ride a hobby. It may throw you. Get into the lumber wagon with the farmer. He may even let you hold the line. Then you have him going right. In education as well as in politics when the people place confidence in you and trust to your intelligence and business methods it is easy to work out desired reforms. But don't get too far away from the people. When your light begins to scintillate take a shot at it and you will fall with your light into the sea of oblivion. Too many teachers stand in a community that for a reason. They are running the school this year, but next year they will find to their sorrow that the school is run by a different party. If you don't need wall paper just at present buy any while the fifty cent paper is at Calles last. You will need the paper in the future and will then pay more for it.

COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE.

TOWN OF BERLIN.

Willie Fehlhaber, of this town, went to Merrill last Thursday on business. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Boike, of this town, were Wausau visitors last week, Thursday.

Anton Emmerich, chairman of the town of Berlin, was in Wausau last week attending the county board meeting. A. J. Fehlhaber, of Naugart, is at present busy hauling rock for the foundation of a new house he intends to build next spring.

Mr. Fred Sellin, of the town of Hamburg, passed through this town, Monday morning, on his way to Wausau to attend the meeting of the county board. Frank Reinke, agent for the Town Berlin Fire Insurance Co., spent several days last week in town of Marathon, Cassel and Wisc., on insurance business.

Last week, Sunday, Nov. 11th, the home of Gust Bauman was brightened by the arrival of a little daughter. Gust and his wife were very happy. "If you don't give it away I'll buy the cigars," of course we promised, and consequently are at present smoking a fine Havana. On Tuesday, Nov. 13th, the reaper of death knocked at the door of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bauman and called away Agnes, their youngest daughter. Funeral was held on Thursday in St. Paul's church, Rev. Theo. Hartwig officiating. The remains were laid to rest in St. Paul's cemetery, at Naugart.

EAU CLAIRE NEIGHBORHOOD.

Nick Grimm shipped four Holstein calves to parties in Fond du Lac last week. Otto Zillmer, chairman of the town of Ringle, attended the meeting of the county board last week.

While unloading stock in Wausau last Wednesday, Dennis Roach smashed his little finger in bad shape.

The fur scarf lost by Miss Clara Schepke, at the Ferris party, has been found and is now safely in the hands of the owner.

A. F. White and son, Nelson, and Will Zillmer, of Brookfield, were guests of Otto Zillmer and G. B. Ingersoll the first of last week. Pat Roach had the misfortune to get his leg badly bruised while helping saw wood on the John Shultz farm last Friday, which will cause him to use a cane for a few days.

The Harvest Home festival held at the chapel, Nov. 11th, was a success in every detail; the program given by the children of the neighborhood was very interesting and the part given by the friends from Wausau was exceedingly so, especially so the address given by Mr. Campbell and the solo sung by Mr. James. At noon a bountiful New England dinner was served. The following persons from Wausau attended and assisted in the program: Mr. and Mrs. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. James, Mr. and Mrs. Benson and Miss Gertrude Boller.

LINCOLN SCHOOL NOTES.

Drawing stands, which are a great improvement over those formerly used, are being made in manual training by the boys of room A.

Instead of the usual two pianists there were three last week. Lucretia Beck in the morning and Lawrence Bernhard and Alma Peterson in the afternoon.

The traveling library has again been welcomed into our building and each room was glad to receive its allotment of books. We regret that we cannot have more.

Hattie Feilbaum, Elsie Priebe and Anna Rothenstein entered the ungraded room last Monday morning. The two former had been attending St. Stephen's school.

The ladies of the Literary club extended an invitation to the rooms of our school to visit the art exhibit in the Spencer building on Third St., Friday afternoon. The children were very much interested in the pictures and no doubt profited by it.

The upper rooms had a speech, Monday afternoon by Mohammad Ali, a Hindu. He spoke about the habits, customs and education of his people. The talk was intensely interesting and much more instructive than any geography lesson could be.

Whips are very much in vogue. Not inside of the building, however, but the play ground. It has taken the nature of the game of ball which was recently carried on between the children in which the boys and girls were antagonists. It is rather difficult to decide which has the advantage the girls or the boys.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

J. Mohammad Ali gave the school an hour talk on India, last Friday which was very interesting. Among other things, he told us that in certain parts, people perish their dead to be eaten by vultures, instead of being buried underground.

Mr. Scholes was very doubtful as to the financial success of the game last Saturday. A meeting was called and inside of fifteen minutes twenty dollars was subscribed by the boys, to help defray the expense. This shows up the high school spirit in Wausau.

The Needham school teachers had a visiting day and ten of them visited the Wausau schools. The list included: L. W. Brooks, Gertrude O'Shea, Edwin F. Sanders, Nellie Close, Julia Torney, Frances Torney, Edna Allen, Maria Gaffney, Elizabeth Fletcher, Agnes Taylor. They all spoke highly of the Wausau schools and went home well satisfied with their visit.

There will be no ice cream next Friday, but the program will be held the day before Thanksgiving. As a rule the ice cream programs are too long or the time is too short for the exercises usually last over half an hour after closing time. A way to remedy this would be to have ice cream once a week and make the programs shorter.

Anna E. Schaefer, inspector of deaf schools spent Monday with Miss Hurley and inspected her school. There was a regular school board meeting last evening at which only regular business was transacted.

The fourth year cooking class prepared the following menu, last Saturday:

Fish Chowder Oyster Crackers
Cabbage, Celery and Nut Salad
Bread and Butter Crisp
Cream Tapioca Cocoa.

The Band S. club held a meeting at Adie Pett's last Friday evening.

Now that the football season is over, basketball will be taken up in about a week. Challenges have already been received from Antigo, Grand Rapids, Wittenberg, Marshfield and Stevens Point.

The Wausau high school team met the Grand Rapids team last Saturday and played a tie game, although outplayed by ten pounds to the man, Wausau clearly outplayed the Rapids. Despite the fact that the field was one mass of mud Wausau put up a defense that held like stone. In the first half the heavy Rapids team, Kraatz for Wausau, and Arpin for the Rapids, both put up a good kicking game, although a great many of the latter's attempts were blocked by the Wausau forwards. Arpin seemed to be the star for Grand Rapids, while Stuhlfauth, Jones and Gorman did particularly well for our side. The game was opened by Jones kicking off to Grand Rapids. Wausau held and secured the ball but could not advance. Grand Rapids again took the ball and carried it to our thirty yard line, where Wausau again held. After straight football and exchanging punts, Wausau put the ball on the Rapids' eighteen yard line. Lamotte then tried a drop kick but the ball went wide. The whistle soon sounded with the ball in Grand Rapids' territory.

Grand Rapids kicked off and Lamotte fumbled but recovered and by a pretty run, brought the ball back twenty yards. The Rapids soon secured the ball and advanced down the field to Wausau's eighteen yard line, and a little later the ball was brought to the six yard line, when a touchdown was soon made. No goal was kicked.

Grand Rapids S. Wausau 0.
Wausau kicked off to the Rapids' boys but they were unable to hold it. Wausau securing the ball in the middle of the field. By steady football the ball was advanced to Grand Rapids' twenty yard line, when Jones went fifteen yards for a touchdown. Kraatz kicked out and Lamotte made a punt, but Jones missed the goal, Grand Rapids again kicked off to Wausau but the whistle soon blew with Wausau's ball in Grand Rapids' territory. Wausau S. Grand Rapids 5.

Following is the line up of the two teams:

Wausau: Smith, Smith, Campbell, Heiser, Speer, Early, Gorman, Hamilton, Stuhlfauth, Voyer, Lamotte, Jones, Kuhlman, Schaefer, Moffat, of Stevens Point, of Wausau, of Grand Rapids, and Scholes, of Wausau.

The following pathetic story was written by one of the little tots just out of kindergarten:

"One time I was a girl and she taught school and she had a necklace and a little watch to it, and brutes to it, but on one place they had more necklaces than bracelets and necklaces sent her fifty dollars, and there was a girl and she was so poor, Margaret said that girl can have that necklace and she is so poor."

THE HIGH SCHOOL FOOT BALL TEAM. '06.
Last Saturday's game closes another foot ball season for Wausau high school. The spirit of hard, determined work, which brought us out of defeat at the hands of a heavier team and a hostile referee in this last game, has characterized our team during the season.
When school opened, and a master of foot ball material was called, the showing was not very hopeful. All the back field of last year's eleven, with the exception of Jones, who played a part of the time at full-back, were gone. The line was in fairly good condition, however, so that the largest problem was the selection of a line of backs.
Captain Schofield was moved from end to left half, where he played with dash and vigor in our first two games, but sustained a bad knee in the game with the Tomah game which kept him out of the remaining games, to the loss of the team. "Harve" is a strong defender, and a great help as a field captain. "Jack" Morrison was picked for right half. This was his first year on the team. A good line player, his skill at handling and passing the ball was in evidence, and he is a heady player.
John Kuhlman was selected for an end at first, but later took the place of Schofield at left half. "Coolie" is fast and strong, and when running will play the ball. Rather too nervous for a back field position, he kept himself well in hand during the games, and for a first year player showed a fine development. Merritt Jones is a line tucker of a peculiar type. His speed when hitting the line is not fast, but his remarkable faculty of keeping his feet enables him to make long gains when well supported. His work shows the advantage of two years' experience in playing, and full-back position was easily his place.
Arthur LaMotte, the 130 pound quarter back, began the season by bringing a collar-bone at Antigo which kept him out of the line until the last game. "Art" earned his position by his facility in handling the ball, his certain catching punts and his speed with the ball. This is his first year on the team, but he has played on the second team for two seasons.
Arnold Wegner played a strong, sure game at center. His work in blocking punts was fine and no fumbling ever resulted from his passes. He was a bulwark of defense, as he was last year, and the line loses a good man when he graduates. Wegner was supported by Gorman on the right and Campbell on the left. "Pat" Gorman, though not a heavy man, made up by hard playing what he lacked in beef. When we say that he "made a hole" for Jones' touchdown, we have told a good deal about him. Campbell is a guard of the heavier, slower type, who has profited by his first year on the team and will make a great lineman next fall.
Earl Kraatz and John Stuhlfauth filled tackle positions. "Full" Kraatz' punting was always reliable and he is one of the players who gets in every play. "Stoolie" had to learn a new position, having played guard last fall, and he learned it well. The fierce struggle on tackle, by which Grand Rapids had won her games previously, came to grief Saturday.

Zeno Speer and Robert Sipes filled the terminal positions, and pressed for their jobs by Conrad Althen. "Rosie" is faster than "Speery," but both were usually on hand when a punt was being kicked. Speer played at half on defense and the enemy's interference was in consequence badly smashed. They are both on the team for the first time.
Earl Lake is deserving of considerable credit. With five days' practice in the position he played quarter-back in the Tomah game without a fumble, and helped to win from Stevens Point. His skill as a drop-kicker ought to place him on next year's team.
The games were as follows:
Sept. 29th—Antigo 17, Wausau 0, at Antigo.
Oct. 5th—Tomah 12, Wausau 0, at Tomah.
Oct. 13th—Stevens Point 0, Wausau 5, at Wausau.
Oct. 19th—Grand Rapids 5, Wausau 5, at Wausau.
We have not produced a championship team, but we can say that in the face of adverse circumstances the boys have faced the situation with courage, have practiced faithfully and have finished the season with credit. We are not making excuses; we lost games because we played better teams than our own. The Wausau H. S. eleven of 1906 is one that has played hard foot ball in a sportsmanlike manner.

—Dr. A. J. Rosenberry, of Oak Park, Ill., is visiting his brother, Dr. H. L. Rosenberry. The former's family has gone to Los Angeles, Cal., to spend the winter and Mr. Rosenberry expects to go there, too, in a few days.
—Rev. and Mrs. Brigham tendered a banquet at the M. E. church Monday evening, to the members of the Quarterly Conference and their wives and friends. Rev. Perry Millar, of Appleton, presiding elder, and Rev. Lewis, of Brookau, were present.

The towns of Tomahawk, Merrill, Wausau, Mosinee, Antigo constitute a district and meetings are held in one town or another at intervals, to promote a fraternal spirit.
ANOTHER BIG HORSE BULLETIN.
Bulletin No. 141 of the Wisconsin experiment station entitled "The Horse Breeding Industry of Wisconsin," is now ready for distribution, free of charge to residents of the state. This bulletin which is profusely illustrated, comprises some 160 pages, and contains in addition to much important reading matter a complete directory of owners of licensed pure-bred, grade and cross-bred stallions. It discusses fully and impartially the results of the enforcement of the stallion service law enacted by the state, and also contains a good and poor features of the law and suggests amended or new legislation required for further progress in the same direction.
As one of the chief objects of this bulletin is to stimulate general discussion on horse breeding matters throughout the state, and to continue the good work begun by Bulletin No. 127, which dealt with the principles and practice of horsebreeding, it is hoped that every man interested in the improvement of Wisconsin horses will at once send postal card addressed to Agricultural Experiment Station, Madison, Wis., calling for Bulletin No. 141.
J. P. Eich, who is justice of the peace at Hatley, was in the city today and secured a warrant for the arrest of Wallace Mead, whom he suspects of making away with one of his sheep. A fine run for which he paid he was arrested and killed in the woods and the carcass carried away. Mead is a teamster working in a camp for Barker & Stewart.
