COLONEL GEORGE HARVEY SAYS COUNTRY ALL RIGHT.

THE WRITER SEES NO CLOUD

Striking Article in North American Review That Is Attracting Wide Attention.

The attention of business and pro fessional men in all portions of the country has been attracted to a strikingly strong article by Col. George Harvey in the September issue of th North American Review in which the writer takes a view of the greatest hopefulness for the future of America and Americans. The article is entitled "A Plea for the Conservation of Common Sense," and it is meeting with the cordial approval of business men of all shades of political opinion throughout the entire country. In part, Colonel Harvey says:

"Unquestionably a spirit of unrest dominates the land. But, if it be true that fundamentally the condition of the country is sound, must we necessarily succumb to desponde abandon effort looking to retrieval and cringe like cravens before clouds that only threaten? Rather ought we not to analyze conditions, search for causes, find the root of the distress, which even now exists only in men's minds, and then, after the American fashion, apply such remedies as seems most likely to produce beneficent results?

Capital and Labor Not Antagonistic

"The Link that connects labor with capital is not broken but we may not deny that it is less cohesive than it should be or than conditions warrant. Financially, the country is scronger than ever before in its history. Recovery from a panic so severe as that of three years ago was never before so prompt and comparatively complete. The masses are practically free from debt. Money is held by the banks in abundance and rates are low.

"Why, then, does capital pause upon the threshold of investment? The answer, we believe, to be plain. It awaits adjustment of the relations of government to business. * * * The sole problem consists of determining how government can maintain an even balance between aggregations of interests, on the one hand, and the whole people, on the other, protecting the latter against extortion and saving the former from mad assaults. "The solution is not easy to find for the simple reason that the situation is without precedent. But is not progress being made along sane and cautious lines? * * *

Conserve Common Sense

"Is not the present, as we have seen, exceptionally secure? What, then, of preparations for the future? Patriotism is the basis of our institutions. And patriotism in the minds of our youth is no longer linked solely with fireworks and deeds of daring. It is taught in our schools. A new cours has been added—a course in loyalty. Methodically, our children learn how to vote, how to conduct primaries, conventions and elections. how to discriminate between qualifications of candidates and, finally, how to govern as well as serve. They are taught to despise bribery and all necessary to irritate the animal by a forms of corruption and fraud as treason. Their creed, which they are made to know by heart, is not complex. It is simple, but comprehenlofty in aspiration. These are the

"As it is cowardly for a soldier to run away from battle, so it is cowardly for any citizen not to contribute his share to the well-being of his country. America is my own dear land; she nourishes me, and I will love her and do my duty to her whose child, servant and civil soldier

I am. "As the health and happiness my body depend upon each muscle and nerve and drop of blood doing its work in its place, so the health and happiness of my country depend upon each citizen doing his work in his place.

"These young citizens are our hostages to fortune. Can we not safely assume that the principles animating their lives augur well for the permanency of the Republic? When before have the foundation stones of continuance been laid with such care and promise of durability?

"The future, then, is bright, And the present? But one thing is needful. No present movement is more laudable than that which looks to conservation of natural resources. But let us never forget that the great est inherent resource of the American people is Common Sense. Let that be conserved and applied without cessation, and soon it will be found that all the ills of which we complain but know not of are only as attend upon the growing pains of a great and blessed country

CAPTAIN KLAUS LARSEN MAKES SUCCESSFUL TRIP THROUGH NIAGARA'S RAPIDS.

Engine of Motor Craft Gets Out of from Completing Scheduled Trip-Is Slightly Hurt.

SHOOTS RAPIDS LIKE A FURY

Niagara Falls, N. Y.-Capt. Klaus Larsen Sunday in his motor boat Ferro made a successful trip through the whirlpool rapids of Niagara.

Because the engine was put cut of order in the vicinity of the whirlpool he did not go clear to Lewiston in the boat which, after leaving the pool, drifted into Dead Man's eddy near Niagara university, where it was swung to shore. Larsen was picked up by an electric car and taken to Lewiston, three miles further down stream, where his injured arm was treated. The boat was apparently undamaged.

Starting at five o'clock, it took Larsen five minutes to reach the railway bridges and the next minute his boat, the Ferro, had ridden the first wave. Then came a frightful tumult of strike after strike. Never before had a motor boat been in such a sea, but it was clear that Larsen was in control as the boat responded nicely to the helm. He shot through the rapids and into the pool like a fury and was soon being rushed across the great river pocket, having failed to make the outlet as he expected. He swung to the Canadian side and into the driftwood. But from this he hurried away under ower. He drove his boat away across to the New York side and swung out of the outlet. It was about this time that the engine went wrong and he drifted into an eddy near Niagara university besive, no less beautiful in diction than low the Devil's hole. As the Ferro low the Devil's hole. As the Ferro swung toward shore it seemed as pledges which are graven upon their though it would be beaten on the rocks, but people on shore prevented this and helped Larsen land.
