and, as the prophets declare, he shall said, his following during this age is be (ike unto Solomon who had no wars, but to whom every knee bowed and every tongue confessed. His Kingdom of righteousness will be a Kingdom of righteousness will be a Kingdom of the fulfillment of our text, "Peace on earth, dom of peace, notwithstanding the act that it will be ushered in by such a time of trouble. "I Came Not to Send Peace." But do the Scriptures contradict themselves? What did the Great

Teacher mean when he declared, "I came not to send peace on the earth, but a sword?" (Matthew x, 34.) Ah! he referred prophetically to the eflove and favor would produce in the world during the reign of sin. He well knew that the Prince of Darkness would oppose all of his followers, as well as himself. He foretold that whosoever would live godly would suffer persecution-and so it has been. Eighteen centuries have proven it! He sent forth his followers, like himself, un armed, to be peacemakers, to be helpers, to "follow peace with all men and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord." He counselled his followers, "He that taketh the sword shall perish by the sword." But their message of peace and love and the coming Kingdom which shall bless the whole world and fulfill the angelic prophecy of our text-these things seem to anger the world-not merely the vicious, the ungodly, but the worldly professors of godliness who have schemes and plans and theories of their own to work out which are contrary to the Gospel Message. The darkness, more or less mixed with selfishness, hateth the light, the Truth, the love of God, neither cometh to the

The Master knew what the effects of his Gospel Message would be in the world and that only those who would compromise his Message could possibly live at peace-that all who would be loyal and faithful to him would be traduced, slandered, persecuted-"beheaded," either literally or figuratively. His words, therefore, were a prophecy respecting the tribulations which all his footstep followers would surely have.

But more than this, his words were a prophecy respecting the nations. What is it that has brought us to our present degree of civilized savagery? What is it that makes of every business corporation a buccaneer seeking the destruction of every competing financial craft? What is it that has thus sharpened the wits of humanity to such an extent that the majority find it difficult to be honest, because they see so many opportunities for disnonesty, while it is impossible for lawnakers to make new laws with sufficient rapidity to keep pace with the intelligent methods of circumvention.

The Desire of All Nations Coming. Notwithstanding the eighteen centuries of delay our text as a prophecy will surely be fulfilled, and be fulfilled, too, by and through the One whom the angels announced and whose birth is very generally celebrated today. good will toward men?" We answer that our Master, who declared that he was not the Prince of this age, declared also that his Kingdom of the next age will be introduced with power and great glory and that, although clouds and darkness and a time of trouble such as never before has been. nevertheless his reign will be glorious, triumphant and eternal. "He shall take unto himself his great power and reign" until "he shall have put all enemies under his feet;" "the last enemy that shall be destroyed is death." "Unto him every knee shall bow and every tongue confess." The victory of Emanuel means the overthrow of sin-the crushing of the erpent's head. At the very beginning of his glorious reign Satan shall be bound and following its close he shall gether with all those who love unrighteousness, after they shall have had full knowledge and full opportunity for recovery from the snares of sin and death. Then, indeed, the whole world will proclaim the glory of God. There will no longer be discordant sounds. As the Scriptures de clare, There shall be no more crying, no more sighing, no more dying-all the former things of sin and death shall have passed away (Rev. xxi, 4).

The Great Restorer of All.

The great King who, eighteen centuries ago, died, the Just for the unjust, that he might, judicially, bring mankind back into harmony with God, is to be the Great King of earth, the great Restorer of all that was lost in Adam, and he will make all things new" (Revelation xxi, 5).

Everything appertaining to this great Plan of Salvation outlined in the Word of God is reasonable. The crucial testing of the elect Church is nec essary in order that, as faithful and merciful priests of God and of Christ, associated with him in his kingly glory, they may be God's instrumen tality in succoring mankind from the fallen conditions which have resulted from six thousand years of sin, and from the malignant influence of the Prince of darkness, during the thousand years which the Bible stipulates as the period of Messiah's reign (Revelation xx, 6)-a period neither too long nor too short in which to accomplish the great work of the world's salvation. True, some one might say, If it has required eighteen centuries for the development of the Church, how much more time will be necessary for the uplifting of the world? But we answer that it is not the Divine Purpose to uplift the world to the station of spirit nature and glory, but rather to restitution blessings and conditions. It is because of the high exaltation testings of sacrificial obedience even unto death is required. With the Prince of darkness bound and the Sun of Righteousness arising with healing in its beams the darkness of sin and rime and sorrow will soon flee away. One century of such blessed influence mon the world will surely work wonders, bringing in also inventions and comforts and blessings, as yet undreamed of Next will come the gradual awakening of all who have fallen asleep in death. They will come forth from the prison-house of death, as the Scriptures declare; will come forth the principles of righteousness in contrast with the principles of sin. We cannot suppose that it will require the majority of men, under those conditions, to sit long counting the value of the blessings of eternal life and restitution proffered them The upward move, resurrection, uplifting, regeneration, will go rapidly on, while meantime, generation after generation shall come forth from the tomb and enjoy similar experiences. Finally all shall have come forth, because the love of God made this provision through the death of our Redeemer, who delighted to do the Father's will and who has already been rewarded gloriously with high exaltation to the divine plane of glory, honor that they may be made acquainted with the true God and with his glo-rious Son, the Redeemer, and with and immortality. Good Will Amongst Men.

The attainment of the condition of ood will amongst men will mean the attainment of human perfection. God is Love. And when our first parents were created an earthly image of God, love must have been the predominant quality of their characters. What we ee of selfishness is largely a matter of heredity, and all of life's customs are in line with it and continually inhas been waging, as the Great King of creasing its weight and its hold upon us. But with the new King and the new eighteen centuries against Satan, sin reign of righteousness will come the and death. But here we learn from glorious uplifting and transformation, the Great Teacher's own lips that his Gradually, during the thousand years Kingdom is not of this Age. It belongs of Messiah's domination of the world, to the "world to come"-the Age to the evils of selfishness will be made apparent and the beauties of holiness and love will be shown in contrast.

Restitution rewards will lift all the willing and obegient up out of sin and selfishness to holiness and love. Then er. The dominion of earth was given with love the very essence of man's beto man. But Satan, deceiving our race, ing, good will towards men will everyputting darkness for light, has become where prevail, because the Divine law, thereby the real ruler, using humanity almost effaced through the reign of merely as his tools.
