

Published weekly and entered at the Post Office at Wausau as second class matter.

TAFT's recent political trip it seems, will count for nothing—LaFollette is going out after his scalp. The latter has told the "peepul" that he will commence to do business with his mouth Dec. 15th.

CONGRESS convened at noon yesterday. This is the 62d congress. A committee from each house was appointed to notify the president that congress was in session and business commenced and the battle between it and the president will rage with a good deal of animation until the red hot days of next summer. A good many good tariff bills were passed last summer which would have been a benefit to the public, but President Taft vetoed them because he thought it was the wrong quarter of the moon or something of that sort.

WOLGAST, the so-called Michigan wild cat, received his first knockout last Wednesday, but not by Welsh. Just on the evening of his fistic battle he was attacked by appendicitis and he had to be operated upon. He is now out of danger and will pull through, but it will be six months or a year and perhaps two years before he will be able to enter the ring again. There were two contests on Thanksgiving day, in which McFarland and Welsh took part, but neither convinced those present that they could have stood up against Wolgast.

The Calamity Howl.

Is calamity to be the republican issue next year?

Congressman Mann, minority leader in the House, says: "Business languishes and manufacturing is partially paralyzed. The black plague of Democratic success threatens and enterprise and prosperity flee."

In like vein the Republican editors of Illinois resolve "that since the election of a Democratic Congress we have witnessed the closing of mines, mills and factories and a general depression in business."

And yet, think a moment, there has been nothing but the closing of mines and factories since Taft was elected.

Gov. Harmon Coming.

In a trip, that will take in central and western states, Judson Harmon, Gov. of Ohio, and candidate for the democratic nomination for president, will speak in Milwaukee and possibly Fond du Lac, on the 15th of January. His many Wausau admirers should try to get him to come to Wausau.

M'NAMARAS SENTENCED.

Judge James Bordwell this afternoon pronounced sentence in the McNamara cases. John J., if his sentence is carried out, will spend the rest of his life in prison. John B. will look through iron bars for the next fifteen years.

JAMES O'CONNOR, of Milwaukee, is favoring Woodrow Wilson, for the nomination of president on the democratic ticket. Mr. O'Connor has the right of that privilege in this free American country. So have other citizens the same right to express their opinions and urge their particular choice for the position. The democrats of Wisconsin, on National issues have followed Mr. O'Connor's advice for the past twelve years. He has stumped the state at each succeeding national election and the democrats have followed his advice with one possible exception, and gone down to bitter defeat every four years. It has even been said of Mr. O'Connor, that in our state elections he has favored LaFollette—a man who has done and is doing more to disrupt the democratic party than any other man. The influence of such men as James O'Connor backed up by Milwaukee's weak republican paper and also a supporter of LaFollette, the Journal, are some of the sources worked on by LaFollette. They are under his hypnotic suggestion and they jump every time LaFollette snaps his finger.

There is no question in the mind of any democrat but what Woodrow Wilson is a brilliant man. So is William Jennings Bryan, but there is such a thing as saying too much, and the democratic party has found this out to its sorrow. It has also found out that jumping to the other extreme, and nominating such a man as Judge Parker, is equally as impolitic. There should be a middle man upon which all democrats can stand. We cannot go to extremes. Gov. Harmon of Ohio, comes the nearest to being the one upon which all can unite. He is preeminently a man fitted for the position of president, that he has done more for the people of Ohio during his term of governor than any other governor ever has, goes without the saying. He is a man of his word as is shown in carrying out his pre-election promises. He is a growing man and has taken no step backward. He is not a demagogue; does not spring a new theoretical idea every ten minutes as to how the government should be conducted, in fact he is a wise conservative, constructive statesman and the democratic papers in Wisconsin should think seriously before throwing their influence to any other man than Gov. Harmon.

McNamara Bros. Confess.

The most startling news of our country the past week was the confession of James B. McNamara at Los Angeles, of having been instrumental in the great tragedy of blowing up the Los Angeles Times printing office with dynamite, which set fire and entirely consumed the building, causing the death of twenty-one persons. His brother, John J. McNamara, secretary and treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, also pleaded guilty to the charge of having caused the destruction of the Llewellyn Iron Works, by dynamite.

Ortie E. McManigal, another dynamite, was a tool of the McNamara Bros. and under their direction he destroyed much property with dynamite or nitroglycerine and his confession played an important factor in bringing about the McNamara confessions. McManigal confessed to having commenced his damnable work as early as 1907; that he caused the destruction of the Russell Wheel Foundry company's building, which was in course of construction, on June 25, of that year; that he left Chicago Dec. 12, 1910, for Los Angeles, with twelve quarts of nitroglycerine and placed the whole of it at the Llewellyn Iron Works.

The arrests were made by William J. Burns, chief of the detectives, who says: "I consider the outcome a personal vindication for me, especially, after men occupying such exalted positions as Samuel Gompers and others repeatedly have charged me with 'planting' the dynamite at Los Angeles. Following them every socialist paper in the country and every labor paper has so often printed stories of 'frameups' in the case that some people were beginning to think that the prosecution was not 'on the square.'"

"I had absolutely no personal feeling against either defendant. I was employed by the Mayor of Los Angeles to investigate this case. My sole purpose was to make a thorough inquiry. The evidence has been just what I said it was—'overwhelming.'"

The date fixed for pronouncing sentence on both men was set for December 5th, to-day.

It is probable that a number of others will be arrested and brought to trial charged with having a hand in this wholesale murder. These are the most dastardly crimes ever committed in America or any other country. Just think of it, because institutions doing business dared to ignore certain labor organizations, men of this character sought to wipe them out of existence and commit wholesale murder for doing that which they had a perfect right to do. Of course, their actions were not countenanced by those labor organizations but they raised vast sums of money to defend these guilty men.

The McNamaras, McManigals and others engaged in this dynamiting and killing have the ordinary masked thief and cut throat beat a hundred different ways. They are the intelligent, designing, crafty murderers who would kill every person who differed from them on the labor question.

The papers say that John B. McNamara will get a sentence of life for blowing up the Times office and murdering twenty-one innocent persons, and this, too, in a state that hangs for murder. What a travesty this would be. If ever a man deserves to dangle at the end of a rope it is this man.

John J. McNamara, it is learned from the same source, will get about ten years in prison. A man guilty of dynamiting another man's property deserves no better fate than hanging.

Walter Drew, chief counsel for the National Erectors association, which employed William J. Burns and his detectives to investigate the Los Angeles dynamiting case, says:

"The McNamaras in pleading guilty, have said that they were sent out there and acted for a principle." Mr. Drew continued, "It is obvious that the men representing this 'principle' have kept them well supplied with money. It is to find out who these men are that becomes the important issue from now on."

Mr. Drew emphasized the importance of the federal investigation now under way at Indianapolis.

"Compared to this the prosecution of the McNamaras is a side issue," he continued, "We of the National Erectors association have no personal malice against the McNamaras and hope that clemency will be extended to them. We, too, are fighting for a principle, just as they were."

The big principle behind it all, on our part, is the prosecution of the men who paid the McNamaras and countenanced and instigated this outrage. I have every reason to believe the federal authorities will continue a rigid investigation of the case. The National Erectors' association will, of course, give every aid possible. There will also be co-operation with the Los Angeles authorities.

"The whole thing is a national issue, and the sooner union labor frees itself of the criminal element the better it will be for labor, and the sooner the country realizes that it is such an issue the better and the sooner the problem will be put on its proper footing."

Mr. Drew said that messages of congratulations had been pouring into his office all morning from every section of the country.

Cincinnati on Harmon.

"If Governor Harmon is as popular with the democrats of America as he is with the farmers and taxpayers of Ohio his boom ought to assume terrifying proportions."

"Speaking to a reporter Henry Hunt, the Good Government Mayor of Cincinnati, the young David that smashed Goliath Cox, said of Governor Harmon: 'He is idolized by the farmers and taxpayers, he has lowered their taxes for them, and they think he's the greatest man on earth. As it is, though, I believe our present governor would come mighty near to taking Hamilton county away from President Taft.'"

"With Ohio lined up for Harmon, and with the weakness that the Republican party has shown in its candidates and its policies, 1912 ought to be a Democratic year. Like the farmers of Ohio, the American voters want their taxes lowered and the cost of living reduced, something that the Republican protective policy has never given and can never give."—From the Richmond (Virginia) Dispatch.

Dear Me, Bob, Why Didn't You Slap His Wrist!

"It was during the speakership fight, in which the interest of the country was intense, that I first met Theodore Roosevelt. He was at that time Civil Service Commissioner, and was much interested in the success of Reed. I liked him. I thought him an unusually able and energetic man, but I think no one then realized the power of growth that was in him. We were about the same age, we were both interested in Reed's election, and I saw quite a little of him that winter. I recall an amusing incident of one of our meetings. It was at a reception given by Secretary of Agriculture Rusk. Mrs. La Follette and I were a part of a little group which included Lodge and Roosevelt. We were all drinking coffee. Roosevelt grew characteristically animated about something he was saying, and in gesticulating he struck the cup which Mrs. La Follette held in her hand, splashing the black coffee down the front of the white gown she was wearing!"

"Years later when I came to Washington as Senator, Mrs. La Follette and I attended a reception at the White House. The instant Roosevelt saw us he stopped the receiving line and laughingly recalled his first meeting with Mrs. La Follette and the coffee incident, saying:

"Why, when I wake up in the dark and think about that, I positively blush!" (from La Follette's autobiography—December issue of the American Magazine.)

How interesting and positively shocking. What if Roosevelt should really blush—in the dark?

SHORT NEWS ITEMS.

New methods have been introduced in picture framing by Callies. Nearly 100 samples of moulding to select from.

The board of education met yesterday and agreed upon the purchase of about 1,200 cords of wood. Bids were opened and as a number of the bidders were present at the time contracts were let immediately. Some of the school houses have a supply of wood left from last winter to last nearly through the present season. The city purchased the wood at the rate of $4.35 per cord, regardless of whether it is green or dry.

At a meeting of the city council to-night Dora Dosse will ask for a license to conduct a saloon at 818 S. Third avenue. F. W. Krause will ask for an extension of time to complete the W. Bridge street sewer. His contract called for the completion of the job by Dec. 1, but he says in his petition that high water, followed by cold weather, prevented him fulfilling his contract. He asks for an extension to Sept. 1, 1912.

The Monday Evening Study club met in social session last evening and were entertained by Mrs. John Lull. Mrs. Lull had decorated the rooms in Christmas colors and the scheme was carried out through the eternal music. Bridge was played and after the scores were counted up each player was presented with a stocking filled with Christmas candies. Refreshments were served before the guests took their departure.

Pastor Howe was brought into court yesterday charged with burglary. On Thursday last while Emil Braun was eating his turkey, someone entered his quarters and stole a watch, revolver, cornet and some cash. Circumstances directed suspicion to Howe and he was arrested. When brought into court he waived examination and was bound over for trial. Howe has a few bad marks set opposite his name. He served a term in the state reformatory for participation in the robbery of a saloon in the northern part of the city. At that time one of his pals hid for several days in the Stinchfield creek sewer. Later Howe got mixed up in the burglary of the Collins hardware store and was presented with a ticket to Wausau.

Lightning Kills Few.

In 1900 lightning killed only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chance of death from liver, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used, as Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from violent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50c at W. W. Albers.

The PILOT yesterday received a Hall-Herring-Marvin safe purchased through the agency of the Albrecht-Bock-Obelits Co. It is larger than the safe usually used by commercial enterprises of our calibre, but there was a purpose in ordering so large a one. The most valuable thing in a print shop is the files of the paper, and to preserve the ones which we lay claim to we ordered a safe of sufficient size to hold them, in addition to our money and other collaterals. The safe stands over six feet in height and is 31x40 inches—a other dimensions. It weighs two tons.

You will find many select offerings by inspecting the foot wear stock of Kuhlman & Brach. Big bargains, low prices.
