NORTH DAKOTA KERNELS

The premium list of the Morton county fair is received. The fair is to be held Sept. 26, 27 and 28. Four thousand dollars is offered in premiums and attractions have been engaged which ought to insure a good attend-J. W. Wilson of Stanley, who had two ribs broken and received other injuries while operating a steam breaking plow on the Stalenecker farm, will sue Stalenecker for $5,000 damages. Wilson claims that Stalenecker agreed to dig out all the rock on the farm that could be seen above ground or mark them, which he failed to do, hence the suit.David Oleson of Arenn, Burleigh county, discovered last week what is supposed to have been a battle field between two hostile bands of Indians, or Indians and whites, a good many years ago. There are several irregular shaped piles of stones, through which the bones were showing, indicating that trenches were hastily dug for the disposal of the dead. The bones were badly decayed, but all had the appearance of being human bones.A mass meeting of the citizens of Wahpeton was held at the court house to discuss ways and means of erecting a city hall.James Pitts, who presided over the first republican convention ever held in Ramsey county in 1883, visited the state recently.Mose, a colored gentleman of Mo-hall, has a misunderstanding with the enforcement league and almost turned white before he got out of town.Williston has organized a concert band.Hans Anderson of Crystal cut barley last week.Stanley has organized a farmers' elevator association.Devils Lake is having a half mile of sewerage constructed.The capitalist who will build a few dwelling houses in Sanborn will find it is a good paying investment. There is not a habitable room vacant in that town.The Devils Lake Journal hints that one of the commissioners of Ramsey county was opposed to publication of the official proceedings in papers of general circulation in the county.Will Stone had a lively coyote chase in the hills northeast of White Earth.
With four in the buggy including two ladies, he succeeded in running the animal down and killing it.The Lisbon County Gazette says a drive through the country will convince anyone that Ramsey county never had better prospects for a bumper crop than it has this year.Miss Anna Hanson of Mohall, has just made final proof on a claim near Cut Bank. She has resided on it for five years and during that time taught school in her residence on the claim.Rosholt's hardware store at Edmore was broken into and the safe opened.
There was no money in the safe, but they took three shot guns, two razors and seven pocket knives from the cases.Somebody found a rope near Lakota and an effort is now being made to locate the man.The city well at Mohall was filled.
The populace will have to get drinking material elsewhere.Mrs. Andrew Paris, of Mohall was thrown from a buggy in a runaway and had a leg broken.Geneva, 20-year-old daughter of Mark Walters of Lidgerwood went suddenly insane. The girl, who has been in poor health lately was visiting friends and while there became violent.
She entered the room where the household dishes were and smashed them all, and finding a basket of eggs threw them about the house, bedaubing walls and furniture. The case is made the sadder by the fact that she was to be married soon to a young man, who was with her at this time.John Peterson, a new arrival from Sweden, was arrested at Church's Ferry. He was armed with a rock tied in a handkerchief in a sling shot, and his pockets were filled with the same kind of weapons. He was insane, but was turned loose by the sheriff and left for parts unknown.C. Clark of Michigan City had his knee dislocated while playing base ball. He continued the game until it ended.

was unearthed which it was thought is the remains of a buffalo, herds of which roamed the verdant prairies of North Dakota decades before the advent of the white man.Box car peddlers for a grocery house ness in Griggs county.The Minot Reporter intimates there may be another investigation of the county commissioners.When the Minot gang of pen birds

WHERE CROOKS WORK

Difference of Opinion as to the Location of the Pickpockets — They Get the Money."The only complaints we have had of robberies have occurred at the fair grounds," Chief of Police Wade.
"With the exception of Wednesday afternoon during the shower, the robberies have occurred downtown," Deputy Sheriff Bingham, who is acting as chief deputy for Sheriff Hunt at the fair grounds.There is at least one clever pickpocket in the city and he is reaping a golden harvest. There are others who are not so clever but who are getting the money.Just where the crooks are operating the authorities do not seem to be able to agree upon. Chief of Police Wade is inclined to believe that they are making the state fair grounds their exclusive headquarters. Deputy Sheriff Bingham thinks otherwise.Wednesday afternoon, when visitors to the fair grounds huddled together in the different buildings at the fair grounds to escape a wetting, many people were robbed. The amounts, however, were mostly small."Keep your hand on your pocketbook when you are in a crowd."This is especially good advice to follow tomorrow, the last day of the fair.
It is suspected that the visiting crooks will make one last grand effort to fatten their bank rolls and will take even greater chances than earlier in the week.Numbered among the crooks in the city just now is a fellow who is so clever that he has been able to extract fat pocketbooks from deep pants pockets without the owner realizing his loss until some time after."Don't tempt him by carrying large sums of money around in crowds," said Chief of Police Wade this morning.

Real Sad.

Grafton News and Times: The saddest thing about the recent republican convention was that fully half the supposedly insurgent delegates voted the straight gang ticket, and the saddest part of it is that the secret ballot law made it impossible for the supporters of these frolicsome delegates to single them out and soak them when they got home.

AT THE PLAY HOUSE.

July 27-28—Hooligan's Troubles.

Don't forget Hooligan's Troubles, the well known farce comedy which is built on the doings of Hooligan in the Sunday newspaper comic supplements, appears at the Fargo opera-house this evening, also tomorrow afternoon and evening. Hooligan is not like the average tramp of the average "tramp" comedy. He can sing and dance and he can find trouble always awaiting him but when he laughs it off it is only to plunge into fresh difficulties for the enjoyment of the audience. Seats now on sale at Casselman's drug store. Matinee price, adults 25 cents, children 10 cents to all parts of the theatre.

Aneta.

Aneta, N. D., July 25.—To The Forum: Yesterday afternoon while laying steel on the Aneta extension one of the men who bolt the rails together was run over cutting his leg from the body almost to the hip. He was taken to Aneta, but had died so much that the doctors were unable to save him. He died last evening.
His home is in Allegheny, Pa., where the remains were shipped. His name was Conway.The Aneta Farmers' Elevator Co. held its special election yesterday. All the officers reported and the elevator has been doing business at a loss of approximately $1,200. This was caused by a fierce fight both on price and grades between the farmers and the old line elevators.The meeting was enlivened by political factional fights and red hot oratory flowed in streams like lava. The political sores caused during the past campaign in Nelson county were not yet sufficiently healed, and the old troubles were soon revived. Also the elevator fight of a year ago with all its sequels boiled anew. All in all it was a scrappy meeting until the voting began. Tom Huso, Tom Haw, W.
S. Christen, Harris Oakland, Anfin Helgeland, Chas. Colson and J. P.
Sundquist were elected directors for the coming year.The streets of Aneta are being raised and the drains repaired and constructed.The new city hall and fire engine rooms are completed. A good building for the size of the city.The railway company has established a pumping station one mile northwest of the city to supply the engines the needed water.Rails are laid about six miles out of Aneta on the extension.Crops around Aneta are in fine condition. There is some red rust on file and blue stem, but on durum there is none and flax is the very best. The crop outlook taken as a whole is very bright.Several farmers are attending the state fair at Fargo.
