CONSECRATION OF ST. MARK'S CHURCH

AUSPICIOUS CEREMONIES YESTERDAY AFTERNOON HELD TO CONSECRATE ST. MARK'S ENGLISH LUTHERAN CHURCH—MANY ATTENDED SERVICES.

With solemn ceremonies yesterday afternoon which were attended by a large number of parishioners and outsiders, the beautiful new St. Mark's English Lutheran, on the corner of Fourth avenue and Eighth street north, was consecrated. The afternoon services were followed by similar ceremonies in the evening which were also largely attended by many citizens of the city who came to see the handsome new edifice which is such an ornament to the city.

The ceremonies yesterday afternoon began with a procession headed by the members of the board of trustees of the parish and the members of the choir followed by the officiating ministers. At the doors of the church Rev. Mr. Ulrich, pastor of St. Mark's, offered a prayer of guidance, following which responsive reading were read and then Thorvald Osthey, builder and contractor of the new church, turned over the keys to the pastor. As the assembly entered the doors of the edifice, Rev. Mr. Ulrich repeated the words "peace be to this house and to all that enter therein."

At the altar the bible and sacred vessels were deposited in their proper places. After the singing of several hymns and the repeating of a psalm, Miss Ella Beckman rendered a beautiful solo. Then Rev. A. F. Elmquist, president of the English Lutheran synod of the northwest, offered the consecration prayer.

Rev. Mr. Ulrich performed the act of consecration himself saying: "and now we do set apart and consecrate this edifice to St. Mark's English Lutheran church as a house of God, in the name of the Father, of the Son and of the Holy Ghost."

The nicene creed was then repeated by the congregation who sang a hymn afterwards. The principal address of the afternoon service was delivered by President Elmquist who spoke of the work of St. Mark's parish and of the achievement and its success in erecting such a handsome church in this city.

Frank W. Steele, the city's well-known baritone soloist, rendered a vocal number and this was followed by the sermon preached by Rev. G. H. Gerberding of Chicago, professor of theology in the Chicago Theological seminary. He was formerly a pastor of St. Mark's church.

The afternoon services were concluded with a soprano solo by Mrs. A. J. Stephens. In the evening Rev. Mr. Elmquist and Rev. J. H. Kunsman, superintendent of the English Lutheran church, delivered the address and the music was furnished by the Orpheus choir.

SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL

Another College Play This Week—Fourth Year Preps of Fargo College to Put it on.

The dramatic season is at its maximum at Fargo college. The fourth year preps have been preparing for some time the famous play written by Richard Sheridan, School for Scandal.

Under the direction of Miss Read, the amateur players have progressed wonderfully, and an entertaining evening will be the result. Manager Boise has secured the Fargo college gymnasium for Wednesday evening when it is expected that a large audience will be present.

The play is a very interesting one and a familiar one, having been played for the first time in 1777.

The Theatres

Fargo Opera-house.
March 25—Juvenile Bostonians.
March 30—The Barrier.
April 1—Get Rich Quick Wallingford.

Delightful, fascinating, enjoyable, captivating, and dainty. It would take all of the above and many other complimentary expressions to properly describe one of the performances given by the Juvenile Bostonians. This charming organization of girls have been very aptly called the "saviors of the theatrical menu, which expressed the refreshing tastiness of their entertainment perfectly. This season they will appear in that tenuous opera, The Dream Girl, which is said to be one of the cleverest song shows on tour this year.

The Post-Intelligencer, Oct. 24, 1910: No more realistically profound play Rex Beach's Barrier is one of the latest and most realistic stage stories of the last west, and was greeted by enthusiastic applause.

The company was excellent, and unusually well balanced, and numerous curtain calls testified to its undoubted success.

After the knightly refreshments will be served and the best cigars ever will be indulged in.

EVENTFUL DAY AT GLAD TIDINGS

GREAT DAY AT GLAD TIDINGS MISSION—LARGE AMOUNT OF MONEY RAISED FOR WORK OF NEW CHURCH AND WORK OF EVANGELISTIC PASTOR.

The meetings at the Glad Tidings mission yesterday will ever be remembered by those who attended as among the best of their lives. Three services with a full house at each were held and the interest grew with the day's work and the evening meeting was the crowning one of all the special series, closing at 11:30 with the shouts of praise going up from many hearts.

In the afternoon Rev. Mr. Flower, the evangelist, spoke of the importance of this mission work in Fargo. A free will offering for the building fund was asked for and in 10 minutes $250 was given for this purpose.

The superintendent at the morning service asked for a free will offering for the evangelist and received nearly $10 more than he asked for. Surely Fargo is interested in religious work. Rev. Mr. Flower will conduct a closing of farewell meeting at the mission tonight at 7:30 p. m., 110 Front street.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Orator at High School Talked Against Ownership—Showed Bad Features of Plan.

Wm. Wilson gave an oration on Municipal Ownership at the high school this morning. Both sides of the question were presented and then the speaker, taking a stand against the question, gave a number of good instances and arguments showing that municipal and governmental ownership was undesirable. The oration showed the result of extensive research on the question and careful preparation.

The speaker cited examples of the plan's failure in Great Britain, France and Canada, as well as numerous large cities of the United States. In every case the losses have been heavy. "Under governmental ownership, every citizen of control among the political parties bringing to it does, new heads in each department, will result in a like change possibly even to the lowest positions, of the employees of all the utilities controlled. For the political leader will favor their supporters and friends with responsible positions even though they may be unfitted for them. Then, just as the inexperienced men are becoming able to do their positions justice, a new change will come.

"Thus efficiency of service will be impaired and public safety endangered by the inexperience of the men thus installed."

Third warders are invited to look over the Bitulthie pavement exhibit, room 222, Gardner hotel.

Daddy's Bedtime Story— And a Nice Woolly Muff

EVILYN liked kittens. So did Jack, and Tabby's latest family seemed the loveliest and cleverest in catdom.

"Well, if you want a kitten story," said daddy, "I will give you the story of three little kittens."

"The kittens were black, with white trimmings. Pansy had a white (flower shaped) patch on her pert turned up nose. Nobby's full name was Nebuchadnezzar, after the king in the Bible who ate grass. Nobby was fond of grass too. Cinderella was just black, except her feet, on which were little white slippers—pussy cat slippers of fur, you know.

"Every day Patsie cuddled and played with her kittens, and they learned a heap of cunning tricks. Cinder learned to climb up on the lace window curtains and when she got a good grip swung back and forward.

"The kittens liked anything soft and woolly. They loved to cuddle on Patsie's woolen sweater, digging their little claws into it happily.

"Patsie's little white muff was the pride of her heart. Her auntie had knitted it for her as a birthday gift. Mostly Patsie took pretty good care of it for Patsie, I mean. Patsie was a little careless. Generally Patsie's mother or some member of the family would follow her when she took off her wraps and put them away if she forgot.

"But one day when she came from school there was no one else at home except the cook, who was taking a nap in her own room.

"Patsie threw her things on the settee in the hall and after she had some bread and jelly out of the pantry got a fairy book and stretched out on the couch in mother's room to read. The kittens had been asleep when she came home, and it was not until tea time that she saw them washing their faces demurely after their evening dish of warm milk.

"It was while Patsie was enjoying her second biscuit with honey that Hannah, the cook, stepped into the dining room with a black and dragged looking thing in her hand.

"The kittens have had this down in the cellar playing with it this afternoon, ma'am," said Hannah to Patsie's mamma. "I just can't make out what it is, ma'am."

"But Patsie could. 'Oh, mamma, it's my white woolen muff! These naughty kittens must have carried it off. Where did I put it? Why, yes,' answered Patsie guiltily; 'I did lay it down in the hall, but I never thought the kittens would be so mean.'"

"Perhaps," replied mamma, 'the kittens would say that they also never thought.'"

"And now Patsie has to wear mittens instead of a muff, for the muff had been in the coal bin and nothing ever would wash it clean."

The weather for the last week has been fair. There is little or no snow and it is almost like spring. We hope the weather will continue to be this way.

April 16 is the date fixed for the new mayor to take his office and on this date a council session will be held when it is expected the new mayor will make his appointments.

Bishop and Mrs. Cameron Mann returned today from New Mexico at the request of the presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church, there being a vacancy on account of the recent demise of the bishop of the diocese.

Rev. G. H. Gerberding, D. D., of Chicago, Ill., former pastor of St. Mark's English Lutheran church, will preach at that church this evening.

Rev. Mr. Gerberding was pastor of St. Mark's eighteen years ago and old friends are cordially invited to hear him tonight. He is here attending the consecration services.

A large number of people are expressing their appreciation over the prospect that the grounds about the central and high school buildings are to be illuminated by large arc lights. The light committee of the city council has given instructions for the erection of one light to be suspended from the south end of the building and one from the north end from ornamental arms which will be placed on the building. There is not a darker place in the city than the high school grounds when the trees are in full foliage, and the installation of the proposed lights will be just the thing.

THE TEST OF TIME

Is a sure test by which to gauge the efficacy of any remedy for human ailments, whether advertised or ethically prescribed by a physician.

A medicine that has stood the test of time is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Its intrinsic merit has been proven by the fact that for nearly forty years it has been relieving womanhood from suffering and has constantly grown in popularity.

The demand for it today is larger than that of any similar remedy in the world.

This famous remedy for female ills has proved to be of incalculable value to hundreds of thousands of American women.
