STATE.

The May apportionment from the school funds has been figured out, and there is a total of $611,833.98 to be divided among the school districts of the state, being the largest single apportionment that has ever been made in the history of the state.

The figures as given by Superintendent of Public Instruction Stockwell, show that with a school population in the state of 148,739, there will be a per capita apportionment of $4.11, $4.06 of that coming from the interest and income fund, and the other nickel from the fines and forfeitures

The May apportionment for 1910 exceeds the entire annual apportion-ment of 1908 and will bring the apportionment for the school year, July 1, 1909 to June 30, 1910, up to a grand total of $1,199,148.23, or a little over $8 per capita.

The apportionment will be made the third Monday in May and should be that are incorporated in the daily available for use about the first of papers of this age.

> Designed by Crunelle The new statue for the city of Bismarck was designed by Leonard Crunelle. It is heroic size, 9 feet tall, and depicts an Indian woman muffed in a blanket, with a papoose upon her back, and her right arm extended as if pointing out the way.

Mr. Crunelle visited the Indian reservation at Elbow Woods, N. D., two years ago to study and sketch Indian figures and costumes, and has had the advice of Spotted Weasel and James Holding Eagle, who have visited Caicago to inspect and criticise the statue. Lived in North Dakota The women of North Dakota have good historical ground for claiming Sakajawea as a fellow citizen, because, although she was a Shoshone by birth, and that tribe lived farther west, in the mountains of Wyoming, she was captured by the Gros Ventre Indians of North Dakota when she was eleven years old, was brought up by them, wore their costume and they bestowed upon her name Tsaka-ka-wi-ash, which means "bird woman." The name is often spelled Sa-ka-ka (bird) Wia-a (woman). After the return of Lewis and Clark to the east she went to her own tribe, whose headquarters were near the present city of Lander, Wyo., and there lived until her death in 1884 at the supposed age of 125 years. She is buried in the Episcopal cemetery near the agency.

Several of her descendants are now living on the Shoshone reservation, and her son, known as "Old Brazil," has been prominent in tribal affairs.

Sakajawea (Bird-woman) was the Shoshone guide of Lewis and Clark across the Rocky mountains in 1804. There is already a beautiful statue of this heroine in the park at Portland, Ore., made by a Chicago wo-man artist, with funds raised through the efforts of Mrs. Eva Emery Dye and others, at the time of the Portland exposition. But Sakajawea is entitled to all the honors that can be paid to her.

PRUDENT PEOPLE

THE SKEPTICS SHOULD CHANGE THEIR MOTTO.

In all probabilities coffee users in Bismarck are a least bit skeptical in regard to the brand they use. If you want a good cup of coffee we suggest that you try Hiawatha, put up in one and two pound packages and retailed at 20 and 40 cents per package. This coffee, without a doubt, is superioir to other grades sold at this price. The stock of teas that Gussner handles are in keeping with other high grade goods sold, in quality and price.

The carload of canned fruit that we purchased recently in California, is possibly the best quality that has been on any merchant's shelf in Bismarck. We want you to try a can of our fruit and if it does not prove to be what we advertise we will gladly refund your money. We save our customers twenty-five per cent on canned fruit, as well as other merchandise.

You can readily see that you make money by saving money, by buying at Gussners.

To those who have not tried our grain fattened meats; if you once try them and find that juicy flavor that they possess, you will be convinced immediately that they have only a peer, and their peer is found in the same kind at Gussners.

The sausage, lard and bacon that s made in a clean work shop and with the best of care, will certainly be appreciated, and people will eat more of it when they know it is home made and has not been stored in packing houses for months, or years. Try what we request above, and you will always be a customer of ours. George Gussners. Phon 60.
