GERMANY AND HAITI

German international activities are apparently not confined to the effort to obtain a foothold on the eastern coast of Morocco, to the discomfiture of both France and England. There is some evidence that the government at Berlin is casting eyes longingly in the direction of the West Indies. A dispatch of a German warship to Haiti "to protect German interests" would ordinarily not be especially significant, for in a situation such as that which exists in the black republic it is more or less the duty of every foreign government to be prepared for eventualities. The relations of Germany to the Haitian revolution, however, are such as to suggest a more than ordinary concern. It has been recently reported, with some show of authority, that Germany's interest in the Haitian affair is direct and specific. It is even alleged that the revolution now in progress is financed in Berlin. Be that as it may, the American government's concern for the preservation of its rights is founded upon a more substantial basis, in the Monroe doctrine, than any casual German interest can possibly be. Evidently this country has no distinct cause to apprehend active German interference in Haiti, else it would have served notice on Berlin that it would regard any interference in Haitian politics as unfriendly. If Germany wishes to prevent the destruction of German property and to afford a safe refuge for Germans menaced by the revolution, it is entirely within its rights in so doing. But it is certain that there will be swift and effective protest against any action which will result in placing in power in Haiti, a government which would be so friendly to Germany that such a grant as that of a naval coaling station or coaling base would follow as an act of reciprocal consideration. The Washington Star thinks the Monroe doctrine would be definitely violated by any territorial grant whatever to Germany, however small in acreage. It would be flagrantly violated by the grant of a strategic naval station.

Those eastern buyers who took a flyer in Mochelle lots may learn that their investment is depreciating in value when they see that the appraised value of lots in that corporation has been reduced from $30 to $3.

BIG TAX VALUES

The State Board of Equalization late yesterday announced that in order to meet financial demands of 1911, the total assessed valuation of the state for taxation purposes would have to be three hundred millions of dollars.

From estimates made by State Auditor Brightbill the returns made by the county boards would leave the amount about seventeen millions short and the efforts of the state board will be in the direction of making up the deficiency.

The fact that the late legislature was prodigal in making appropriations is responsible for the condition. Many thousands of acres of land have been added to the tax duplicates in the western half of the state where many claims have been proved up, but not enough to raise the state taxables to the required figure.

There is a disposition on the part of the county officers attending the board meetings here to have the realty appraisement remain the same as in 1910; any effort to increase it will undoubtedly meet with resistance.

There has been a large increase in improvements and personality over last year. The taxes on all property are assessed at about one-fourth of their cash value.

It is three hundred millions of taxable values the State Board of Equalization is looking for. The law says taxables must be assessed at their true cash value. If this was done, perhaps the state would get a low tax rate.

There is an opening in Mochelle for some enterprising politician. Being no inhabitants to bother about, some good man ought to have little trouble in electing himself "the city administration."

WEDDINGS

HINES-HUMPHREYS.

The wedding ceremony of Miss Ruby M. Hines and Mr. George Humphreys was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. T. J. Hines, on Ninth street, last night at 5:30 o'clock.

Only the immediate family and a few friends of the bride and groom were present and the ceremony was a very quiet one. Both the young people are very well known and highly regarded in the Capital city.

Immediately after the ceremony they left on No. 2 for the home of the groom at Hamilton, Ont., where they will visit a short time, going on by the lakes before returning to Bismarck, where they will make their home. In spite of their efforts at concealment, they were given the usual send off at the depot by a large number of friends.

FATHER DETAINED, THEN SON

Appeal Made to Nagel to Save North Dakotans from Deportation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Thos. Nijem of Williston, N. D., is having unusual difficulties in securing the entrance of his nearest relatives to the United States. Three months ago his father and sister were held at Marseilles, France, while on their way to this country, because the father was suffering from trachoma. Nijem went to Marseilles, placed his father in a hospital and lately secured his release as cured. Meantime a younger brother joined the family. On the way over from Marseilles, however, the boy developed the disease, and at Ellis island he was detained. According to the law if the boy is deported, as is threatened, the father, as his guardian must go with him.

Thomas Nijem has appealed to the secretary of commerce and labor for his consent to place the boy in a New York City hospital for treatment. Representative Hanna requested Secretary Nagel to permit this course.

SUB-COMMITTEE APPOINTMENT.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—When conferees on the wool tariff revision bill met today, Senator LaFollette and Representative Underwood were appointed a sub-committee to consider and report upon the differences by tomorrow. The motion for their appointment was made by Senator Bailey, and was made on the ground that they represent the extreme limits of the senate and house respectively.

EQUALIZATION BOARD FINDS LITTLE TO DO

This afternoon Governor Burke announced that the board of equalization would not hold a regular session and would meet on the call of the auditor if anything comes up before the abstracts from the county appraisements are received. This means that the work of the board will be delayed for some days and probably until the middle of next week. The railway corporations and express companies having had their say the next to appear will probably be representatives of the telephone companies and the bankers. Other interests will be represented in their order, but their presence is not likely to win changes in the appraisement fixed by the county boards unless glaring irregularities are shown to exist.

It is the belief that the work of the board will not consume more than two weeks this year after the assessment abstracts are in.

The State Board of Equalization is still hearing from the county officers present with reference to the appraisal ment in the different counties represented by them, but nothing can be done in the way of equalization until the returns are all in.

Auditor Brightbill reports the following counties still out: Real estate, Williams, Divide and Burke; personal, Dunn, Mercer, Oliver, Pierce, Richland and Williams.

In 1910 the state levy was four and four-tenths mills. The total valuation of all taxable property was $278,622,164. The total sum levied on the taxable of the state for 1911 was fixed at $335,866, or 3 mills on the dollar.

For 1911 the levy for the payment of wolf bounty was fixed at $55,725, or one twentieth of a mill. The same levy is provided for the payment of cattle destroyed on account of tuberculosis.

Following is the action of the board in 1910 as to the levy and appropriation.

The state board of equalization for the year 1910, having completed the equalization of assessments as turned in by the several counties of the state, and having made assessments to cover such property as required by law, it was found that the total assessed valuation of all property in the state of North Dakota for 1910, was $278,622,164, apportioned among the several classes of property as listed below:

Real estate	$184,589,989
Personal property	51,909,319

The following resolution was introduced:

Resolved, that the tax levy to defray the general expenses of the state of North Dakota for the year 1911 be fixed at the specific sum of eight hundred thirty-five thousand eight hundred sixty-six ($835,866) dollars, and the said sum of $835,866.00 is hereby levied, being at the rate of three mills on the dollar, of the assessed valuation of all property in the state of North Dakota, as equalized by the state board of equalization for the year 1910.

And that the special tax levy for the payment of wolf bounty for the year 1911, as provided by Section 1936 of the Revised Codes of 1905, be fixed at the specific sum of fifty-five thousand seven hundred twenty-four ($55,724) dollars, and the said sum of $55,724.00 is hereby levied according to the above mentioned section, being at the rate of two-tenths (.20) of a mill on the dollar of the assessed valuation of all taxable property in the state of North Dakota, as equalized by the state board of equalization for the year 1910.

And that the special tax levy for the maintenance of state institutions (called "Educational Tax" or "Mill Tax") apportioned as follows:

33-100 University and School of Mines at Grand Forks.
20-100 Agricultural College at Fargo
15-100 Normal School, Valley City.
13-100 Normal School, Mayville.
6-100 School for Deaf at Devils Lake.
2-100 School of Forestry at Bottineau.
4-100 Academy of Science at Wahpeton.
7-100 Industrial School at Ellendale.

It is the aim to keep the levy down for 1912 for state purposes as low as possible and the equalization board is working to that end.

The Grand Forks contingent took up most of the time of the state equalization board Thursday afternoon. After considerable discussion it was decided that no objections would be raised to the assessment on real estate if placed at the figures of 1910, or $5.82.

The question of taxing automobiles came up for a good deal of talk. The county boards fixed the value of these vehicles as follows:

Grand Forks.
Autos owned in the city.....$345.00
Autos owned in the country..... 145.00
Average for county..... 245.00

Fargo.
Autos owned in the city.....$270.00

Average for county..... 208.00

Grafton.
Autos owned in city.....$202.00
Autos owned in country..... 123.00
Average for county..... 138.00

It was decided by the board that on this showing, taking the exhibits as an example, equalizing in this instance was necessary.

Grand Forks also asked that her appraisement on structures be lowered.

TOPPING WAS "PASSIVE."
NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—John A. Topping, former chairman of board of directors of Tennessee Coal and Iron company, told Stanley steel trust committee of inquiry today that he was not in favor of plan of Grant B. Schley to sell Tennessee company to U. S. Steel corporation in 1907.

"My mind was rather passive on question," said Topping. "I saw no reason any viewpoint to sell property. From Schley viewpoint I could see no reasons why he should want to sell and I aided him at his request to extent of explaining to Lewis Cass Ledwards advantage of property." "In these negotiations I did not represent
