Didn't Get Even the Brick. "Did that man hand you a gold brick?" "I should say not," answered the amateur financier. "He sold me an interest in the gold brick on credit and took a mortgage on that, together with everything else I owned. Then he called the loan and foreclosed the mortgage and took possession of the gold brick, along with the rest."—Washington Star.

The Power of Beauty. "Brown's wife is a beautiful woman, isn't she?" "She surely is." "If I had a wife as beautiful as that she could buy me all the neckties she wanted to, and I'd wear 'em by gum!"—Cleveland Plain-Dealer.

The Time to Do the Counting.

In the old days of impetuous warfare caution was not regarded as so much a virtue on the part of a military commander as at present. In a battle between French and Austrians, in which Marshal Bugeaud commanded the French forces, an officer of the staff said to the marshal: "The enemy are advancing. Shall I send a party to reconnoiter and see how numerous they are?" "No," said Bugeaud; "we'll count 'em after we've beaten 'em."

CANDIDATES MUST FILE BEFORE LONG

ATTORNEY GENERAL SAYS FEBRUARY 17 IS LAST DAY FOR PETITIONERS.

Statement is Given Out By Miller Yesterday Before Leaving for Grand Forks.

Attorney General Miller before leaving for Grand Forks to assist tomorrow with a case in district court there, was asked as to the dates for filing petitions for the nomination of candidates for president and vice president. General Miller said the law provided that the petitions must not be filed more than sixty days nor less than thirty days before the primary election, which would mean that the last filing day would be February 17.

"Petitions for nomination of presidential electors, delegates to national conventions and for national committeeman" said Mr. Miller, "can be filed any time prior to March 1." There having been some discussion as to the right to file petitions for the nomination of alternates, Attorney General Miller said that while there was no provision in the law for filing petitions for alternates or even for their election, he could see no harm in their names being put on the ballot if the secretary of state chose so to do, as no injustice would be done anyone and it would safeguard the full representation of the state in the various conventions.

McKENZIE TEACHER WAS LOST IN THE DARKNESS

ALEXANDER, Feb. 5.—Miss Agnes Gargan, the Trenton school teacher, has not been seen since last Friday evening and as the days pass the hope that she is still alive is also passing.

She left her school Friday evening afoot for her home on the McKenzie county side of the Missouri river. It is known that she crossed the river. Arthur Sator saw her about midnight near the O. H. ranch. She was then about a mile from home. She did not reach her home and no trace has since been found.

The evening was somewhat stormy though it was not cold and the missing teacher evidently became lost in the storm and wandered away.

A party consisting of about one hundred men are searching for the lost girl among the breaks along the river, while the grief stricken mother and sisters are anxiously awaiting the outcome, hoping and praying for the best.

DOCTORS HAVE PROOF OF PNEUMONIA GERM

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The Rockefeller Institute, announced that it had succeeded at last in producing pneumonia experimentally, thereby proving to the experts of the institute that pneumonia is caused by a germ, the pneumococcus. While that has long been a theory there has not been direct proof of it until now.

The institute experiments, made by Dr. R. V. Lamar and Dr. S. J. Melzer of the Rockefeller laboratories, are described in the Journal of Experimental Medicine.

All the experiments were made upon dogs. The method consisted in injecting pure cultures of the organisms taken from human patients into the lungs of the dogs. Forty-eight of the animals pneumonia was produced by the pneumococcus injections. Ten of the dogs died thirty-four were killed within from one to twelve days and four several weeks after the injection.

SURVIVES SON THREE WEEKS.

C. E. Halbert, Former County Commissioner, Dies Soon After Son's Burial.

FARGO, Feb. 5.—Surviving his son by three weeks, C. E. Halbert, a pioneer resident of Cass county, died last night at the home of his daughter-in-law, 2 Tenth street north. The son, C. E. Halbert, Jr., died three weeks ago last night.

Mr. Halbert was 85 years old and his death is the result of a general decline. He was in Florida at the time of his son's death and the shock is said to have caused him to fall rapidly. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. W. E. Porter of Chicago. No funeral arrangements will be made until the daughter is heard from.

Mr. Halbert was a former commissioner of Cass county and had numerous friends in the state, having lived here a large part of his life.

ELKS CONVENTION AT FARGO.

FARGO, Feb. 5.—The date for the two days' convention of the North Dakota Elks association was not definitely fixed Saturday night at a meeting called by Col. Morton Page, president of the association, but it will take place either June 14 and 15 or June 18 and 19, these two dates being comparatively open dates during June. The convention month for Fargo, June 14 and 15 comes on Friday and Saturday, and it was at first decided to have the convention take place then, but hotel men stated that the last two days of any week were busy ones about the hotels of this city and it would be better to take the dates June 18 and 19, which will come on Tuesday and Wednesday. The question will be decided within a day or two.

IS THERE A REASON?

Do you know of any reason why you should not have an account at this bank? We think of none. Is it because you have no money? We think not for everyone must have some money in order to live. Is a bank account convenient? It is much handier to write a check than to lug around a lot of cash. Isn't it safe? Well, yes, since there is no possible way of losing it if you have your money in the bank. Vault is fire-proof—everything insured against burglary and daylight hold-up. There is no sufficient reason for not having a bank account. It is safe, most convenient, requires no great capital. In addition to this there are the many advantages of a bank account for which the customer pays nothing. An account of your earnings, savings and expenses is ever at hand. Your return checks ever serve you as receipts for the bills you have paid. Yes, without the shadow of a doubt EVERYONE should have a bank account.

EXPLODING LAMP BURNS STORE AND POSTOFFICE

ALEXANDER, Feb. 5.—A lighted lamp exploded in the store of E. E. Harkness at Ellsworth, setting fire to the building.

Mr. Harkness, who was standing near the lamp, narrowly escaped being badly burned. His clothing caught fire and he was obliged to make a hasty exit from the building to save himself. When he succeeded in extinguishing the fire in his clothing the building was a mass of flames and nothing was saved.

In addition to the building and stock of goods, the postoffice, which was located in the building, and all the books and accounts of Mr. Harkness were destroyed. The loss is about $3,500. About $2,800 is covered by insurance.

GOOD ROADS LAW IN S. DAKOTA COUNTIES

PIERRE, Feb. 5.—The good roads convention at Deadwood renews state interest in the "good road" law enacted at the last legislative session. So far as can be learned about eighteen out of the fifty-seven organized counties of the state, the county commissioners submitted the question to the voters, but it is claimed that in many of these counties the submission was only on petition of a majority of the voters, and that the names presented did not include the names of a majority of the free-holders, and that in such counties there may be tests of the question in case their action should at any time interfere with the progress of road projects in this state. Beside the counties in which the question will be submitted next fall, attempts were made to carry the proposition failed in several counties for lack of names on the petitions presented.

SLEIGH RIDE PARTY.

Miss Irma Logan entertained 12 of her girl friends Saturday morning with a sleigh ride party to the home of her sister, Mrs. Milan Ward north of the city, where a six-course dinner was served at noon. The afternoon was spent with indoor and outdoor games. The joyful party returned to the city about 6 o'clock and all reported a very enjoyable occasion.

COLLEGE LIFE TODAY.

Student Ideals Much Higher Than They Were Fifty Years Ago. Not only upon the shields of our American universities do we find "veritas." In spirit at least it is also clearly written across the face of the entire college life of our times. Gentleness, openmindedness, originality, honor, patriotism, truth—these are increasingly found in both the serious pursuits and the play life of our American undergraduates. The department in which these ideals are sought is not so important as the certainty that the student is forming such ideals of thoroughness and perfection.

Furthermore, the standards of morals and conduct among the American undergraduates are perceptibly higher than they were fifty years ago. There is a very real tendency in the line of doing away with such celebrations as have been connected with drinking and immorality. To be sure, one will always find students who are often worse for their boozing associations.

and one must always keep in mind that the college is on earth and not in heaven. But a comparison of student customs today with those of fifty years ago gives cause for encouragement—Century Magazine.

Testing Coins.

"There goes another man suffering from degeneration of public manners," said the clerk in an aggrieved tone. "I gave him five pieces of silver in making change, and he tested every one of them to see if it was counterfeit right before my eyes. It is only lately that people who buy have got rude enough to do that. Clerks always did it with coin that customers gave them, but that was a prerogative of the trade. For the customer to assume the same privilege is a usurpation of ancient rights. The worst of it is most people nowadays are pretty good judges of bad money, and every little while a coin is refused because it is counterfeit. The only way tradesmen can teach customers the respect due them is to turn their own backs when testing money. That has always been the custom in England. No tradesman over there would dare flip a coin under a customer's nose, and as a consequence no customer has ever taken that liberty with him."—New York Press.

Tennyson and His Pipe.

Tennyson was an unwavering devotee of the clay pipe. "I take my pipe," he wrote to a friend in 1842, "and the muse descends in the fume, not like your modern ladies, who shriek at a pipe as if they saw a 'splackmuck'—'splackmuck' being the word which the dwellers in Broodingnag applied to a man. When invited on a visit to Mr. Gladstone in 1870 Tennyson wrote, 'As you are good enough to say that you will manage anything rather than lose my visit, will you manage that I can have my pipe in my own room whenever I like?'—London Chronicle.

Joy of Shopping.

Hub (shopping with his wife)—If the goods you were just looking at suit you, why try other places? Why didn't you buy them and let us go home? Wife—How foolish you talk! Why I'm not half tired out yet!—Boston Transcript.
