PROMISING YOUNG ARTIST
Allyn T. Telford, who will assist Mr. McCalley in the Riley-Foley program this evening, at the Presbyterian church, is a young organist of more than ordinary ability. He is but twenty-one years of age and holds degrees as bachelor of music conferred by several institutions, and his grasp of the tonal effects of a pipe organ is conceded to be equal to any artist of the northwest. This is a noble instrument and in Mr. Telford's playing is revealed power and sympathy to an extraordinary degree. Mr. Telford is a young man who will be heard from in the world of musical art. Tickets for this recital have been placed at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students and children, and a record attendance should greet the entertainers.—Adv.

Hear Mr. McCalley, Impersonator, and Violinist, and Mr. Telford, organist, in fine program of Riley-Foley readings and violin and organ numbers THIS EVENING at Presbyterian church, 8:30 o'clock. Tickets on sale at Kimball Piano store or at the door, 50 and 25 cents.—Adv.

VAUDEVILLE SCORES AT AUDITORIUM

Big House Greets Bill, Proving Popularity of the Amusement.

Vaudeville probably will be given weekly at the Auditorium because of the enthusiastic reception the bill received last evening. It was a success, both from a financial and amusement standpoint.

Mr. Vesperman will offer another bill, even better than the one last evening, next Thursday. If one show can be given weekly at the Auditorium the management thinks it will soon become a very popular form of amusement in Bismarck.

The bill last evening was a scream from start to finish. Dr. Joy's Sanitarium is a good burlesque upon hospital life. Hal Stephens was excellent in his portrayal of famous characters. His impersonation of Joe Jefferson in the role of Rip Van Winkle was well done.

Milton and Herbert and Rae and Wynn furnished good singing, dancing and chatter.

CORRESPONDENCE

STEWARTSDALE.

Vane Irvine drove to Menoken the first of the week.

Angus Stewart took his sister, Mrs. Brown, to the hospital Monday.

Norman Stewart, who has spent the past winter with his brother, near here, left the first of the week for Wyoming.

Rev. Horis will soon have his new home completed.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Clarke were in the capital city the first of the week.

The material for the new telephone line has been ordered and work will soon be started on the line, which runs southeast from Bismarck through Stewartdale.

Ronald Mackintosh spent Monday and Tuesday in Bismarck.

TO THE PUBLIC.

As the spring season opens up and the refuse of winter has gathered in back yards and alleys, the city health department orders that each and everyone, in order to prevent the spread of contagious diseases and the formation of breeding spots for mosquitoes and flies, clean up their yards and alleys adjoining.
