

GROWTH OF BARKER BAKERY REFLECTED IN MOTOR VAN FLEET

Eight New Delivery Cars Put On to Serve Dealers Over Large Territory

CITY'S LARGE INDUSTRY

Working Into Leadership of Bismarck Plants After 52 Years of Existence

At the annual meeting of the Association of Commerce, J. C. Taylor, president-elect, suggested that instead of waiting for new industries to locate in Bismarck, attempts be made to develop those already in existence. He instanced baking and suggested that expansion of the Barker baking business would be a means of creating a big payroll here.

The Barker Baking and Candy company by years of developing and expanding and with absorption of new ideas had itself foreseen that and was in a fair way to realize the vision of Mr. Taylor when he gave utterance to it. Since then there have been further developments of its expansion and modernization. It has become one of the outstanding bakeries of the state.

The latest phase of this policy of progressiveness and expansion is expressing itself in the fleet of Barker motor vans by which deliveries are made into the contiguous territory served by the bakery from here. The vans reach Dickinson to the west, New England and Mott to the southwest, Zeland, southeast, Killdeer on the northwest and the various towns in between along the Soo Line.

The picture shows eight of these "bun" vans lined up along the Broadway side of the auditorium. Three of them deliver the Barker products in Bismarck and Mandan and the other five cover the contiguous territory to the limits of the towns named. The object of their quick service is to deliver the company's baked products in a comparatively fresh state and with regard to clean transportation. The products, Wonder Loaf, Humpty Dumpty, buns, doughnuts, pastries, etc., are placed in specially constructed compartments in the vans and they reach their destination very much as they left the bakery. There is no chance for deterioration or loss of quality.

This is a fine foresight for dealers in small towns who are not equipped to keep large stocks because they do not have the preservative conveniences. By daily rapid delivery, the drawbacks of this are minimized and obviated. They get fresh supplies in the very best condition daily. The delays and inconveniences of shipment by express, often round about to reach inland points, is a thing of the past. Nothing so satisfactory existed before these vans were put in service.

This expanding industry has been coming up from the hard days of 52 years ago into its present extensive mechanized development, and a large amount of capital now is invested in the plant. A great deal of change has been made in the last year. The company has established a policy of keeping abreast with the latest developments in the industry, which means still added facilities as this evolution in baking proceeds.

CAPTURE OF CANTON BY KWANGSI FORCES IN CHINA REPORTED

Police Guard Against Demonstration as Body of Dr. Sun Yat-sen Is Moved

Shanghai, China, May 20.—(P)—Chinese and Japanese reports state that Kwangsi forces captured Canton at noon today. No confirmation was available here.

Factional warfare between the provinces of Kwangsi and Kwangtung was in full progress by May 8 when the Kwangsi forces were threatening the capture of Canton, capital of Kwangtung.

Behind the warfare lay the struggle between the Nanking or nationalist central government and the Kwangsi military clique as well as a more localized rivalry between the two provinces. Kwangtung had always been more or less under the domination of Kwangsi but during the recent fighting in the region of Hankow between the central government at Nanking and the Kwangsi leaders. The Kwangtung leaders announced neutrality, an action regarded as tantamount to a declaration in favor of Nanking.

Peace parleys between the two provinces went on for some time, but eventually these broke down and open warfare broke out. The Kwangsi troops made a steady drive on Canton and have been threatening it ever since.

Koza who pleaded guilty Friday to two charges of uttering forged instruments did so only after officials had promised him that his baby would be brought from Leeds that he might see it and have its picture taken. The baby was brought to Minot by its mother who is estranged from Koza.

Sentencing of Koza has not as yet taken place but he anticipates the maximum penalty of 10 years.

SENATE AND HOUSE MEMBERS DISAGREE ON DEBENTURE PLAN

Further Meetings Are Planned to Patch Up Differences, McNary Says

Washington, May 20.—(P)—The farm relief conference committee sent to ask house party leaders and senate met for an hour today but reached no agreement on the export debenture plan.

The senate conferees argued for the debenture proposition while the house group opposed retention of the proposal. After the conference, Chairman McNary of the senate agriculture committee said:

"The meeting ended in a disagreement over the debenture scheme. Further meetings are planned. If in the end of the conferees fail to get together, as has been predicted by some, the conference group must ask their respective houses for instructions."

As a step toward reaching an agreement, the house conferees consented to ask house party leaders whether arrangements could be made to have a separate vote in that chamber on the debenture scheme.

McNary said he had informed the committee that the way to a final agreement would be much easier if such a vote were taken. The house conferees promised to take up the question at once and to report to the conference group tomorrow.

CHURCH FAMILIES DOWN FROM MERCER

A large delegation of farmers from Mercer came down to Bismarck, today, in family groups to have the members of three German Lutheran confirmation classes from four churches photographed at St. Mary's. The girls came attired in their white silk and satin confirmation gowns or brought them in suit cases to don in the studio. Pictures were taken in groups and singly, with the Rev. J. Hueltmeyer, posing with the boys and girls.

One of the girls was Emma Wolf, the lone survivor of the Turtle Lake tragedy of nine years ago, when Henry Wolf killed her and their nine members of the family with an ax. She was less than a year old at the time and the ax slayer spared her life.

There were classes of three years, one of eight members; a second of 15 and another of 34.
