
THE great Empire of the West (the cradle of human liberty) draws the mantle of Death around the form of its Chief Executive and drops a tear of sad regret over the bier of an unfortunate man, who, in the act of friendship was stricken by the hand of an assassin.

Let us believe that He who from the throne of Eternity rules the destiny of mankind will grant to all who trust in Him a safe journey to that undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveler returns.

Without regard to political belief, all join in their expression of sympathy. Public offices, like public institutions, are supported and cherished by the public.
