

WHITE BEAD.

Special Correspondence.

White Bead, I. T., June 11.—After so long a time, the heavy rains have ceased and no fears are entertained now from high water.

Last Sunday was children's day at the M. E. church and although the morning dawned with a heavy fog and by 9 o'clock the elements were thick with heavy clouds and a slow rain fell from then till 4 p. m. Despite the inclement weather a large crowd gathered and the program was carried out well.

The farmers around this place are very much down in the mouth. After planting cotton three times they failed to get a stand and every one of them now has a good old case of "blue."

There is much talk now of the old town of White Bead being moved to the railroad just three-quarters of a mile north of here.

The writer has been informed that a company composed of three very wealthy men will soon open a general merchandise house at this place or the new town.

James Thomson, who for a number of years sold goods at Waxahachie, Texas, is now in our midst, and is selling immense amounts of dry goods and notions to our people, which were remnants of his large stock recently closed up at that point.

We have another cold spell this morning and fires are again in demand.

Wheat harvesting is now in progress around here, and the yield will be as good as has been for the past ten years.

Some of the intermarried citizens as well as the full bloods seem to be somewhat disappointed at the closing of the land office at Tishomingo.

J. E. Burch, Sr., and wife of Pauls Valley, I. T., were visiting his son and daughter, J. E. Burch, Jr., and Mrs. Chittman, at this place last Tuesday.

W. L. Cummings, representing the Van Vleet-Mansfield Drug Co., at Memphis, Tenn., was here last Saturday.

Wade Hampton of Pauls Valley was here Monday on business.

PROHIBITION IN TEXAS.

Mandamus Refused in Grayson County Election Knocked Out in Hunt.

Sherman, Tex., June 11.—Judge Maxey today refused to grant the writ of mandamus to compel the publication of the result of the prohibition election in Grayson county last Friday.

At Austin last night at a late hour the court of civil appeals ruled that the election held in Hunt county was invalid on account of the irregular posting of the election notices.
