The cooking exhibition at Stevens, Kimball & Spradlin is well attended and many persons dropped into the store today to drink a cup of coffee and eat a hot biscuit. The Never Break range demonstrates the efficiency in cooking and the range is so perfect, yet simple in construction, that cooking is made a pleasure. Instead of a burdensome task. The exhibit is in charge of Walter Erdman of St. Louis, representing the Brothers Malleable Range company of St. Louis, and he takes pleasure in showing the points in favor of the Never Break range.
