Oil Well Supply Company to Erect $45,000 Warehouse This Summer.

NEW $10,000 BUILDING.

The contract for a new brick warehouse, to be built on the corner of First and Elmwood avenues, will be let by the Oil Well Supply company during the latter part of the month, according to J. H. Stockton, of the office.

Officials at the present warehouse on Boulder street said yesterday morning that the building would cost about $40,000.

Buildings in the downtown Tulsa district aggregating $350,000 in cost will be finished during the summer months. Four of these are office buildings, one hotel and one an apartment house.

Banking Building.

The R. P. Daniels building, the ten-story fireproof structure on the corner of Third street and Boston avenue, when finished, will be the best equipped and most modern office building in the southwest. There will be 457 office rooms, each of which will have outside lighting and direct ventilation. The corridors, halls and entrance will be finished with gold marble. All corridors will be floored with tile.

The building will have a special heating and lighting system in its basement. The first floor has not yet been leased but it will be available for either offices or retail merchants. The second floor is set apart especially for lawyers, the third floor for doctors, and the fourth floor for all men. The other floors will also be let for offices, but no others exclusively for one profession. Over two-thirds of the space has already been reserved, although the building will not be completed until October 1.

The outside is beautifully enameled terra cotta throughout, decorated with floral designs between the first and second floor. The contractors are Van Horn & Son.

Finish Trimble Structure.

The Trimble building on the corner of Third street and Boulder avenue is an office building which will be finished July 1. It is a three-story structure, being built at the cost of $30,000. All the offices and two or three of the ground floor rooms have been reserved. The corner is still to let. Brickner-Laws Construction company are the contractors.

King's meat market has a rented the first floor and basement. All the offices also have been let. The Brickner-Laws Construction company are the builders.

Rooms All Rented.

The Hagley Thompson office building between Third and Fourth streets on Boston avenue is a two-story brick structure which will be finished July 1. All its rooms were spoken for before the foundation was

A mistake on the part of Miss Blanche Fees caused a misfigure in the report of the average circulation of The World for the month of May. Miss Fees overlooked the fact that there were 27 publication days for The World in May, instead of 26 (the average for the year), and divided the total of 271,610 copies for the month by 26, instead of 27. This mistake caused the average to read 10,446, when it should have read 10,059.

It has always been the policy of The World to be absolutely frank and honest in its circulation reports, and we are glad to make this correction.

Miss Fees has had absolute charge of these reports for the past year and a half, having resigned shortly after completing the report in question.

Considering that it is a difficult task to keep a thoroughly correct tabulation on circulation reports, as is demanded for World advertisers, this one mistake in all her months of service is not worthy of such space, excepting The World considers it important that our advertisers be properly informed of the circulation delivered to them for the money they pay.

started. The Hill Furniture company will be in one of the ground floor rooms and the Campbell Glass company will be in the other. N. E. Corbett is the contractor. The cost when finished will be $12,000.

The Saint Louis hotel, a three-story rooming house on the corner of Fourth street and Elgin avenue, will be finished July 1 at a cost of $20,000. The ground floors will be let to business houses, but none of them has yet been spoken for. The upper stories are arranged for hotel purposes and have been rented. The contractor is A. E. Wausonewski.

Big Apartments.

The Rollins Apartments, three in number, at modern levels buildings, which will be finished July 1, at a cost of $20,000. They are on Elgin avenue between Third and Fourth streets. The contractor is A. F. Wausonewski and the architect H. Thompson.

GET ONE! TURNED HOSE ON THE REBEL PRISONERS

PRISONERS IN THE COUNTY JAIL STARTED A REBELLION LAST NIGHT.

Part of the ceiling in the district court was ruined Friday night as the result of an incident which occurred in the county jail. For several days a bunch of ten or more city prisoners have been threatening to break loose unless they were allowed to have some.

Friday night they began yelling and cursing at the top of their voices and disregarded the jailer's threats to lock them up separately. Finally the night jailer was forced to resort to drastic measures, and bringing the hose into play, soon quieted the rebellious prisoners.

He was forced to use the "water cure" for some time and the water soaked through the floor and damaged the ceiling of the district court room, just below.

These Hot Days.

Discussing the weather, the Battle Creek News says:

"Does the thermometer make it hot?"

"The answer, spoken out of all the experience which humanity has been able to gather up, is 'No!'"

"Worry and fuss and fret and bad conduct makes it hot. Heat is internal. Heat is the product of mental and physical bad diet."

"That's the negative side of the problem. There's another side. Believe the weather is right, is beneficial if right rules of action are followed—and the heated becomes the happy term of the year."
