TROBE OF ARMY JUSTICE IS ORDERED

FORUM'S DEBATE
WARM ON LEAGUE

Judge Campbell Leads Two-Hour Discussion at Y Before Large Crowd.

CAREFUL STUDY IS URGED

Speaker Would Have Country Consider Entering League After Peace Is Made.

MANY QUESTIONS ARE PUT

Hearers Want to Know About Conflict With Constitution Opposed and Upheld.

Three hundred of the most prominent business and professional men of Tulsa spent two hours Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. forum in debating the constitution of the proposed league of nations, the discussion being led by Judge Ralph E. Campbell, and participated in by Judge C. B. Rogers, George E. Black, John Woodard, C. J. Hindman, A. A. Small, the Rev. Hubert Broyles and many others.

Judge Campbell explained the various articles contained in the constitution of the nations written at the Paris peace conference, and pointed out numerous instances where he thought the terms might conflict with the constitution of the United States.

"The framers of the constitution of the proposed league evidently attempted to confine themselves to international questions," said Judge Campbell, "but I can see where there might be infringement upon domestic rights, especially in matters concerning labor and immigration."

"It will be for the senate of the United States finally to ratify this matter and in deciding that momentous issue our representatives will be guided by the sentiment of the people," he said. "It is therefore, our duty as American citizens to determine whether we shall accept the constitution that has been written or whether we shall calmly work out such a one as can enter into for all time to come."

"The wise thing to do, it seems to me, would be to settle now the terms of peace, send the nations that have been at war about their business, and then discuss the matter of a league of nations to prevent future wars, which might require two weeks or two years. I have studied the articles carefully and there are many things that are not clear to me. It is a matter that should have our most thoughtful and earnest attention."

"I cannot see that there has been provided any supreme court of the world to construe this constitution for the nations that adopt it, as the supreme court of the United States construes the constitution for the states of this Union."

Asked if the constitution of the league should be adopted by the senate if the action could be reviewed by the United States supreme court, Judge Campbell said:

"Our constitution gives congress the right to regulate the army—to mobilize citizens and arm them for war. The constitution of the league takes this right away. If any citizens should question the constitutionality of the league's action in ratifying the creation of the league, it seems to me that it could properly be taken before the supreme court for consideration."

A. A. Small asked the speaker if a treaty conflicting with the constitution of the United States could be entered into without its being ratified by the various states.

Do This An Hour

This exercise is to be taken to determine the condition of the blood pressure. If you can't hold your arms out half an hour you are eating too many meals and the wrong combinations of foods and you have auto intoxication. How to correct this will be demonstrated and described at the lectures and classes.

THE YOUTHFUL DAY

There's nothing old about a day. It's always new and fresh and bright. Each morning takes a different way into the sunny realm of night. Sometimes the sun withholds his face. Sometimes the clouds are splashed with rain. Sometimes as children we may race. Or join with men and strive for gain. This day perhaps a friend we find. Tomorrow may a friend depart. The next may bring us peace of mind. Or else the tears of grief may start. One day we reach the hem of fate. The next we witness "death's failure's" start. Nor does tomorrow be the same. For something new each morning brings.

The day is never old and gray. Nor like the ones which went before. Until its young of life's o'er. And he is young, whose life is stings. Who waits with eagerness to see. The changes that each morning brings. (Copyright 1919 by Edgar A. Guest)

VINITA, Okla., March 9.—Self-defense will be the plea of David H. Carroll, a Craig county farmer, who is charged with the killing of Charles Hayden, a renter, in a dispute growing out of the grazing of some of Hayden's stock on Carroll's wheat. The killing occurred Thursday near Hayden's home in the north part of the county. Carroll will be given a preliminary hearing Tuesday in Judge Meredith's court in this city.

Charles Hayden, the dead farmer, was 50 years old and leaves a wife and three children, the oldest of whom is 12 years of age.

David H. Carroll is 60 years old and has a wife and several children, all grown.

Hayden lived an hour after being shot, he did not lose consciousness and several times is alleged to have said "that old man down there shot me."

Attorney W. P. Thompson will defend Carroll. County Attorney H. C. Clark will have charge of the prosecution.

BOARD IS NAMED TO LOWER PRICES

Industrial Body Is Completed to Plan Return to Normal Conditions.

TO REDUCE COST OF LIVING

First Attempt Will Be to Fix Mark for Basic Commodities in Country.

TO CONSIDER WAGES LAST

Food Must First Be Cut Is Opinion Before Labor Can Be Dealt With.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Completion of the personnel of the industrial board of the department of commerce, together with the plans of the board for hastening the prices of food and wages to normal was announced today through the council of national defense.

Associated with George N. Peek of Chicago, a former member of the war industries board as chairman of the new organization, are Samuel P. Hush of Columbus, Ohio; Anthony Caminetti, commissioner of immigration; Thomas K. Glenn of Atlanta, Ga.; George R. James of Memphis, Tenn.; T. C. Powell of Cincinnati, and William M. Ritter of West Virginia.

To increase industry, it was announced, is to bring about the operation of the laws of supply and demand interfered with by the process of war. To his end conferences will be held with representatives of the chief industries "to decide on prices to be offered to the nation as the governmentally approved judgment of a price which will encourage buying and the resumption of normal activities."

"As soon as a stable and wholesome scale of prices is achieved," said the announcement, "the cost of living will have so far been reduced as to create automatically reductions in the price of labor without interfering with American standards and ideals for the treatment and living conditions of labor and thus the last inflating element will have been withdrawn from prices. It is believed that industry will agree that the cost of living must be substantially reduced before labor should be asked to accept lower wages and thus industry should stand the first shock of readjustment."

Basic Commodities First.
"Basic commodities, such as steel, building materials, textiles and food, will be considered first and brought to a stable basis. The governmental policy, as expressed by the bill to authorize purchases by the government of wheat at the guaranteed price and resale of it at the world price, is to assist in bringing prices of commodities to normality by bringing down the cost of living. It is hoped that these steps alone will automatically operate to reduce the price of fabricated articles. If they do not do so in any particular case, the industry affected will be invited into conference."

"The assurance to the country of a market stabilized at the lowest reasonably expected level will loosen a food shortage by the reduction of stocks, the making up of arrears in the building program, the feeding of needs long starved by economy and the invasion of world markets, as may stand unprecedented in this country. From the stable level thus reached by co-operation we may expect a healthy and normal condition created by the complete and unhampered operation of the law of supply and demand."

Is Quicker Way.
In reply to the objection that a general selling reduction in selling prices will force industry and commerce to take a loss on products purchased at war prices, the board's announcement said the losses under the proposed plan would be less than if industry were required to await a natural readjustment, with its consequent long period of stagnation.

"The normal operation of the law of supply and demand," said the statement, "cannot cure what it did not cause. First, because it cannot operate until buying begins, and, second, because buying cannot begin until we have a more normal, stable and homogeneous market."

Forty-Three Bills Acted on Saturday—Hope to Wind Up All Business by Saturday.

LOCAL MEASURES PASSED

Most of Bills Considered Regarding Minor Importance and Refer to Sections of State.

World's Capital Bureau.

SKIRLIN HOTEL.
The members of the legislature seem to have made up their minds that they must adjourn by Saturday. What they did yesterday indicates it. Forty-three bills were put through to final passage yesterday and 42 were advanced to final enactment. That is the biggest day's business accomplished during the entire session thus far.

Twenty-six of these bills were disposed of by the senate and 17 by the house. The house advanced 32 bills to third reading and the senate advanced 10.

The senate advanced the bill which provides an appropriation of $40,000 for the purpose of building a structure for the use of the Five Civilized Tribes at the Oklahoma free state fair at Muskogee and this bill has already been passed by the house. A great majority of the bills passed yesterday are local measures.

The manner in which bills on general order were advanced, indicated a determination to push through the work of the house so that final adjournment could come Saturday with the calendar pretty well cleared up.

Named Road Receiver.

OTTAWA, March 9.—John J. D. Reid, minister of railways, has been appointed receiver of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, it was announced tonight.

Supreme Council Decides That Fleet Must Be Put Under Allied Control.

WILL MEET IN BRUSSELS

Negotiations for Ship Surrender to Be Resumed in Belgian Capital.

PAY FROM THREE SOURCES

Products, Securities and Neutral Credits to Be Accepted for Food.

PARIS, Saturday, March 8.—The Havas agency report on Saturday's meeting of the supreme war council said:

"The greater part of the session was devoted to the discussion of the situation created by the interruption of the sea negotiations. It was decided to notify Germany that she must execute the conditions of Article 8 of the supplementary armistice signed at Treves on January 16, which stipulated that in order to insure the provisioning of Germany and the remainder of Europe, Germany must place her merchant fleet under control of the allied and associated powers for the period of the armistice, this arrangement to have no effect upon the final disposition of the ships."

PARIS, Saturday, March 8.—The plans adopted by the supreme war council tonight under which the negotiations with the German authorities regarding the turning over of the German ships will be resumed after their recent interruption at Spa, provide for the holding of the sessions at Brussels. The allied delegates will leave Paris next Wednesday for the Belgian capital and the first session will probably be held Thursday in one of the government palaces.

The plans determined upon provide for taking over the German merchant ships in return for a food supply for Germany until the next harvest. The chief difficulty thus far has been over the manner of payment for the food supplies.

Three Kinds of Payment.
It is estimated that the payments will come from three sources—first, in the form of products such as coal and potash; second, from credits which Germany has in neutral countries which thus far have been available because of the financial blockade; and third, from foreign securities held by Germany.

It is estimated that these three sources will yield about $500,000,000 which is the sum required to pay for food relief to an extent considered adequate to carry the Germans until the time of their harvest.

The allied delegates have reason to expect that the new proposals will be acceptable to the Germans and that an agreement will be reached under which German ships will be turned over to the allies to move American troops homeward.

Crowder Reveals That
Inspector General
Will Investigate.

POSITION IS DEFENDED

Judge Advocate General
Upholds System Prevailing in Army.DIFFERENCE ONE OF METHOD
Dispute With Ansell Over
Plan of Review of Courts-
Martial.WASHINGTON, March 9.—That the difference between Maj. Gen. E. H. Crowder, judge advocate general, and Brig. Gen. Samuel T. Ansell, former acting judge advocate general, were explained, and the ordering of a thorough investigation by the inspector general of the army into the whole subject of the administration of military justice during the war was disclosed in a letter from General Crowder to Secretary Baker, made public today at the war department.

Accompanying General Crowder's letter was one from Mr. Baker asking the judge advocate general for a complete statement as to the operation of military justice. The secretary wrote that his own acquaintance with facts convinced him that the actions implied by recent complaints "do not exist and had not existed," but that it was "essential that the families of all those young men who had a place in our magnificent army should be reassured."

Crowder Makes Defense.
In reply, General Crowder made a general defense against recent criticisms in congress and elsewhere concerning court-martial cases and charged that General Ansell, without his knowledge and consent, had submitted a brief to Secretary Baker early in the war urging a revolution in the military justice system.

General Crowder also said that at about the same time that this brief was submitted, General Ansell, with consulting the secretary of war, obtained an order from the chief of staff appointing Ansell acting judge advocate general. This was "after General Ansell had requested General Crowder's aid in getting such an order and had been told by the latter to take the matter up with Mr. Baker. The order was revoked by Secretary Baker before it was published after General Crowder had called it to Mr. Baker's attention."

The judge advocate general said the "supposed controversy" between himself and General Ansell as to military justice had been magnified "since the real issue and the only one" were in differences of opinion as to whether the power to review and overturn executed verdicts of court-martial existed and whether that power should be exercised by the judge advocate general or the president.

No Authority for Reviews.
General Crowder held there was no authority for review under present conditions.

Intimates That He Will Resign From Posts Probably During July.

SEES HEAVY WHEAT DEMAND

Notwithstanding Increased Acreage He Hardly Looks for Government Loss.

NO BREAD TO BE WASTED

Australian Supply of Grain Is Spoiling and Famine Increases Needs.

By The Associated Press.

PAULIS, March 9.—That Herbert Hoover, the American food administrator and lately appointed director general of the inter-allied relief organization, is to cease his relief work in the summer was indicated in a statement issued today by Mr. Hoover concerning the wheat situation. "The Indian famine has proved a serious factor in the next year's wheat crop, Mr. Hoover said."

"The question of government loss, if any, will revolve around several different factors. First, whether the world will have any surplus to take a loss in order to lower the price of bread."

Looks for No Surplus.
"As to the supply and demand for the 1918 crop changes in the world demand during the last month, however, the investigation of the food needs of Europe, indicate that there will be no surplus to carry over into the 1919 crop. The Indian famine has proved a serious factor in the next year's wheat crop, Mr. Hoover said."

In addition, a considerable proportion of the Australian supply which has been piling up for years has spoiled.

"The needs of Europe are larger than our previous estimates. Altogether the balance of the supply and demand for our present wheat now looks as though we might see wheat at $3.50 a bushel as it was in the spring of 1917. If there is a free market in wheat and uncontrolled prices, so much for the 1918 crop. There can be no free market of 10 per cent of the world's exports. Wheat is controlled by the wheat executive in London."

"As to the 1919 crop it is too early to come to any precise conclusion. Our crop looks anything from 10 to 20 per cent greater next year than last year."

No Bread to Waste.
Here Mr. Hoover discussed the world wheat crop prospect and added: "Altogether it would appear now that there will be no bread to waste in any quarter of the world for next year, even if the world had the money to pay for it."

"Therefore, to all present appearances it should be possible to market the whole of next year's crop without loss to the government."

"As to whether the government will deliberately take a loss below the price of $2.25 a bushel in order to lower the price of bread is a matter that will have to be determined by the officials of the day. It appears to me that the world price of wheat, if there is a free market, will be above $2.25, and in any event such a loss would be a direct subtraction from bread prices just as it is paid."
