

Women and War Work

Red Cross Calendar.
Catholic unit of Red Cross meets at headquarters.

It was with a feeling of deep regret and satisfaction at the completion of a task that could not be termed small that women and their workers met yesterday the closing of Tulsa's quota of battle robes. Notwithstanding the fact that Red Cross activities were suspended to help principally with the signing of the armistice, a body of faithful women have been at work on certain days every week making up the large amount of material on hand. Soon the quota of pajama units also will have been finished and out of the way and following their completion the final task of making children's undergarments for the refugees will be undertaken.

Of Interest to Women

DAILY THOUGHT.
The best men, doing their best,
Know peradventure least of what they do.
Men, according to the world, are simply gods.
The nail that holds the wood, must pierce it first.
And he alone who yields the hammer, sees.
This work advanced by the earliest blow. Take heart!

THE IDEAL WOMAN

The great Napoleon once said: "My ideal woman is not the fair, full-featured society belle, whose physician tries in vain to keep her in the flesh; she reaches middle age in complete preservation, that woman is indeed beautiful by perfect health. To attain such health in middle life, a woman must guard against the vice which drag her down and produce nervousness, headache, backache, sleeplessness and the blues." The standard remedy for such conditions is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for thirty-five years has been restoring women to health and strength.
