TULSA DEFENSE IS TIGHT Only One Error in Both Games—Last of Series Played Today.

OMAHA, July 13.—The Tulsa Oilers slipped the Houckes a double dose of four medicine in the Sunday feature, taking the first game by a score of 5 to 2 from Charles Kopp and the second 9 to 7 off Left Townsend.

The results of these games are apt illustrations of just what a couple of homers will do to a ball club in the first game of a series. Barba and Mason each made a costly home run. The Tulsa runs were scored in the first, fourth, fifth and ninth innings, the extra before the Oilers' inning being a tie at 7 to 7. The Houckes tied the score in the first inning when they scored the second and third runs, took the lead in the fifth when they counted for three runs. The Oilers tied it up in the seventh when they scored the first run with a homer by Jackson. The Oilers then pushed into the lead in the eighth when they added three more to the count. The Omaha team was blanketed every round save the seventh when they pushed up to level with a single and a three-run homer by Jackson. In the eighth, Graham leading off with a two-bagger. He went to the plate with a runner on first and a runner on second. Another score was made in the eighth, Graham leading off with a two-bagger. He went to the plate with a runner on first and a runner on second.
