

PERSHING ACCORDED HONORS IN LONDON

American Commander Guest of Honor at Dinner Attended by English Commanders.

IS PRESENTED TO QUEEN

Leader and Staff Honoed For Their Royalty—Felic of Good Feeling Between Army and Navy.

LONDON, July 16.—The government gave a dinner in honor of Gen. John J. Pershing and his staff tonight. It was essentially a military function, the guests including Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, who presided, Gen. Sir Henry Dymally, British commander of the Fifth British army, Gen. Sir Henry H. Hore, commander of the British army in France, and other prominent British officers.

General Pershing and his staff were presented to the king and queen at a garden party at Buckingham palace this afternoon, and took tea in the royal enclosure. The American ambassador, John W. Davis, and other members of the diplomatic corps were also present.

Meets Prince. General Pershing conferred for some time with the Prince of Wales, whom he entertained last time at his headquarters in France, and remained at the function for about two hours.

General Pershing was guest today at the American luncheon club. He was loudly cheered when he entered the dining room and again when presented to Ambassador Davis, who was his hostmaster. He thanked the club for its hospitality to him and the American soldiers when joining through two years ago, and paid high tribute to the British for their part in the war.

"It must have been with a sense of great satisfaction," said General Pershing, "that you Americans during the war learned of America's entry into the war and what interest you watched the coming of our expedition to the first of the naval continent under Vice Admiral Sims, who quickly recognized that the difficulties demanded an increase of effort for destroying submarines and only of command. I gave him and the navy thanks for their attitude toward the army and feel safe in saying that never before was there such complete unity of action between these branches of the service. I won't undertake to tell you what the army did.

Encouraged Allies. "But I want you to know that the personnel was imbued with patriotism and devotion to the cause of liberty and filled with an aggressive determination to carry out the will of our people at home. When that first division entered the battle line and fought that brilliant battle at Cantigny, the success set an example for the future of the campaign and had an electrical effect on our allied armies, which had been fighting for three years, and gave them new hope.

"Then came our efforts in the great counter offensive at Chateau Thierry and Somme, where, with the allies, we took the initiative from the enemy and maintained it to the end of the war. I need not recall what the American army did at St. Mihiel, nor how it fought an historically decisive battle in the Argonne, which cut the enemy's line and made further resistance impossible."

General Pershing said that the American army was rapidly being sent home, only about 200,000 being left.

Lead Parade.

A composite regiment of United States soldiers, 2,400 strong headed by General Pershing, will lead the great victory march through London on Saturday, July 19, according to the completed program announced last night. The decision to have the allied troops march in alphabetical order as to nations resulted in the place of honor going to the Americans. The parade will take an unusual route, starting from Hyde park chiefly and proceeding along the south side of the Thames. After the Belgian contingent, the French, 1,800 strong, will follow, and then a rather small body of Italians a detachment of Russians and other allied representatives. The forces of the British empire will march behind the allied contingents.

Admiral Sir David Beatty, head of the navy; Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig and other generals will lead the British army, in which all arms will participate, including the women's corps and nurses all with their medals and decorations. The colors and bands and pipes. The Australians, South Africans and Indian troops will also march in the parade.

One of the most impressive monuments will be in Whitehall, where the procession will salute the statue memorial to the dead, designed by Sir Edwin Lutyens. Special private accommodations have been made for 4,000 female relatives and children of the officers and men who served in the war and also for the wounded.

BRITISH ARE ENRAGED AT CARSON'S ADDRESS

Under Leader Incurs Criticism of Press and Many Leaders for Talk About United States.

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, July 16.—Sir Edward Carson's speech on Saturday has brought the under leader under the lash of the newspapers of all parties, primarily on account of his references to the United States, which are criticized as patently and calculated to breed bad feeling between the two nations and, secondly, because he criticized the aid recently to call out the under volunteers to resist any attempt to place the Home rule act in operation.

The labor unions point out how much resentment to "street action" could be fanned upon to the industrial field for securing political ends. The liberal press finds Carson's speech a pointer to the fact that in points of fact there is no difference between "King of Vators" and "King Carson."

The speaker's attack on the house of commons resulted when the speaker's speech was moved to the house for the purpose of challenging the government to set the law in motion against Sir Edward for a speech inciting violence and endangering the safety of the realm. Mr. Lyones said there were many points in the speech which were in breach of the law and violence had broken down. There was nothing in the speech in question upon which it was possible to found legal proceedings, he said.

ABANDON ATTEMPTS TO RUN SHIPS WHILE STRIKE IS ON

NEW YORK, July 16.—After several futile conferences with representatives of the American Steamship association and union leaders, the United States shipping board decided today to abandon any attempt to operate the ships under its control until some settlement could be reached with the striking seamen, firemen, and engineers. The freight concession in this port is rapidly increasing and the union leaders claim at least 100 vessels are tied up.

EMPLOYED BEAUTY TO ENSNARE HUN PLOTTER

BUNNOR AIDES, July 16.—A beautiful young American woman played a highly important part in the unmasking of a German plot to involve Mexico and Japan in war with the United States, as revealed by the Zimmerman letter two years ago, the newspaper La Nacion declares.

La Nacion states that it received full information of how the United States secret service obtained copies of letters relating to the conspiracy from a man who was until recently in the American secret service. He was a trusted agent of the American state department, the newspaper declares, and traced German agents acting as intermediaries between Foreign Secretary Zimmerman in Berlin and the German minister to Mexico, von Eckhardt.

German plot regarding the United States. The girl was stopped at Laredo, Texas, La Nacion asserts. The state department let the word be spread about that she had merely been refused entrance into Mexico on the ground that it was dangerous to women to enter the country and that she had been set at liberty.

As a matter of fact, says La Nacion, she was held incommunicado and the young American woman who was married, was given the German girl agent's credentials and proceeded to Mexico City. There she represented herself to be the secretary from Bernstorff and was employed as confidential secretary by the German minister. It was while acting in this role that she obtained possession of the documents that were subsequently given public release from Washington, creating a world-wide sensation.

News for the Housewife at Preserving Time. Here is a recipe for preserving syrup that will give you finer jams, jellies and preserves—and save you about one-half your trouble. Instead of all sugar use only one-half sugar and one-half Karo (Red Label). You will find this means clear, firm jelly; rich preserves with heavy syrup; and delicious jams, mellow and "fruity". Karo is a fine, clear syrup, with a natural affinity for the juices of the fruit. It blends the sugar with the fruit juice—brings out all the "fruity" flavor. Furthermore, it prevents even the richest jam or jelly from "candyng". It does away with all the uncertainty of preserving, and just about cuts the work in half. For cooking, Baking and Candy Making Karo (Red Label) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use Karo instead of sugar.
