

More Records Set at Toledo in National Golf Tournament

Jock Hutchinson Leads Field With 69, Two Under Par.

BILL MEHLHORN HIGH

Tulsa Pro One of Seven to Play Under 150; Evans Leads Amateurs.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 11.—More records were set today at the national golf championship, Jock Hutchinson of Chicago, western champion, scoring 69 on the first nine holes of the 18-hole links and 69 for the 18 holes, two strokes under par for the 5,563-yard course. While scoring was so good that it required 157 strokes to better a new low figure.

No prominent tournament player was eliminated, however, and most of the amateur contenders remained in competition by comfortable margins. Formerly relatively new names entered into the contest last.

Hutchinson's 69 with yesterday's 72 allowed him to lead the field by several strokes. Jack Burke of St. Paul finished second with 146, and Gene Sarazen of Port Wayne third with 147.

Frank Adams of Winnipeg, who finished fourth with 148, led the foreign invaders.

Aside from the four leaders only three others got under 150, including William Mehlhorn of Tulsa at 149.

Chick Evans of Chicago, former champion, led the amateurs with 150, while Bobby Jones, southern champion, had 151.

pany. It was the large business done by this company which offered to pay 50 per cent interest in 90 days on all loans and which fact, redeemed many notes at that interest in 45 days, that resulted in the investigation now in progress by federal and state authorities. Ponzi claimed that through his manipulations of international postal reply coupons in various European countries he was able not only to pay the large interest rate to investors, but in addition to make huge profits for himself.

When an auditor was employed by federal authorities to go over his books and determine his liabilities, Ponzi announced he would accept no more loans and the investigation was completed, but that he would honor all outstanding notes. For several days last week his officers were besieged by persons who had entrusted their savings to him. Every note presented was redeemed, those which had reached maturity drawing also 50 per cent.

Payments were at first made in cash, and later by checks on the Hanover Trust company. By the last of the week the run had subsided and only a few note holders presented themselves at Ponzi's office each day.

Monday the bank commissioner ordered the Hanover Trust company to honor no more checks drawn by Ponzi or his agents, announcing that it had been discovered that Ponzi's account, entered in the name of a trustee, had been overdrawn. Ponzi then discontinued the payment of notes.

Three creditors, with total claims of $750, filed a petition in bankruptcy against Ponzi on the same day. They alleged he had made preferential payments to other creditors.

On Monday, also, Attorney General J. Weston Allen gave out a statement of some of the results of his investigation on behalf of the state. He said that he had been unable to find anything to verify Ponzi's claims of extensive dealings in international postal reply coupons. The report of the federal auditor has not yet been filed. A subpoena issued in the bankruptcy proceedings is returnable August 16.

Marty McManus Sold to St. Louis Browns

Spencer Abbott, manager of the St. Louis Browns last night announced the sale to the St. Louis American league club of Marty McManus, Chicago first baseman. The purchase price is $5,000. McManus is to report to the Browns at the close of the Western league season.

McManus is only 20 years old and one of the greatest prospects in the minor leagues, according to veteran baseball critics. He came to the Browns last spring with only amateur and semi-pro experience in Chicago. He was retained as utility player and later as a regular when Shortstop Bob Larmore was released. McManus failed and the resolution went over until tomorrow.

The story resolution declares that since the assembly in regular session last year granted the right of presidential and municipal suffrage to the women of Tennessee, ratification of the federal amendment would give them no additional privileges before 1921, that there was great doubt as to the wisdom of action by this legislature and the legal talent of the state was divided on the question of legality.

Action of the 56 members in voting to table the resolution is not regarded by leaders as an indication of the suffrage strength in the house as it was several of the anti-voted to table in order to dispose of the amendment without unnecessary delay.

The ratification resolution in the senate was referred to the constitutional amendments committee without discussion.

"Outside influences" cropped out in the upper house when Senator Lon McFarland of Wilson county introduced a resolution requesting all men and women from outside the state here in the interest either of suffrage or against it. "Please go away and leave us alone, as we feel."

INSPIRATION

She came to me one morning, from where I do not know nor do I care. A woman, old and gray and yet around her mouth Where sorrowed years had left their marks. The sparks of youth still played As if she weighed but happy thoughts. I knew not from whence she came, nor did I care. For this I know, that she was there. And that the words she whispered low and sweet Would mean to me for all the years to come. The inspiration that I needed most To tide me over rocks on life's way. And then perhaps some future day I, too, would smile that sweet, sweet smile. And for some other weary soul Make life worth while. —GLADYS SHULER WHITNEY.

Search Out the Germs of Rheumatism

Find Out What Causes Your Suffering and Go After It.

"What is Rheumatism?" is a question that has not yet been answered entirely satisfactorily. There are still different opinions as to its exact cause, but little doubt that its pains are real.

The medical profession is practically agreed upon one point, however, and that is that Rheumatism is more than a series of local pains, and that the real cause of the disease is deep-seated, and cannot possibly be reached by remedies applied to the surface.

Some forms of this disease have been found to come from tiny germs in the blood, which set up their colony in the muscles, or joints and begin to multiply by the million. You can easily understand, therefore, that the only intelligent method of treating such cases is through the blood.

R. S. S. is such a thorough blood purifier and cleanser that it can be relied upon to search out all disease germs and impurities and eliminate them from the system, and that is why it is such an excellent remedy for Rheumatism.

Go to your drug store and get a bottle of R. S. S. today, and if your case needs special attention, you can obtain medical advice free by writing fully to Chief Medical Adviser, 402 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia.—Adv.

tions and amendments and it was announced that a joint hearing would be conducted tomorrow night, at which probably the only limitation as to argument would be length of time granted each speaker. Tentative arrangements earlier in the day were for a hearing tomorrow night on the constitutionality of action by this legislature and a second hearing next Tuesday night on other phases of ratification. It was stated tonight, however, that there was a disposition to postpone the taking of testimony at one hearing and if possible dispose of ratification by Saturday night.

The resolution proposing that action be delayed until after the proposed man meetings to enable the people of the state to express their opinion for or against suffrage, was tabled after lengthy debate and several attempts to amend the measure. The resolution, a joint measure, would have deferred consideration by the legislature until Aug. 24.

Representative Frank Hall, who with representatives Bond, author, Milliken, and Turner, introduced the measure, stated that the attempt at postponement was not a move of the anti-suffragists but was an effort to ascertain the true opinion of citizens of the state.

Undaunted by the failure of the resolution to defer action, Representative George White county late today introduced a joint resolution which if adopted, would prevent action either for or against passage or rejection. An effort to suspend the rules for immediate consideration failed and the resolution went over until tomorrow.

The story resolution declares that since the assembly in regular session last year granted the right of presidential and municipal suffrage to the women of Tennessee, ratification of the federal amendment would give them no additional privileges before 1921, that there was great doubt as to the wisdom of action by this legislature and the legal talent of the state was divided on the question of legality.

'The Week End' an Unusually Entertaining Play--Orpheum

"The Week-End," a mirthful tale of an uncluttered house-party, is the attraction at the Orpheum theater today. The story is enacted by Marguerite Fischer, an capable cast of players who enter into the spirit of the story with a zest that makes each a stellar part.

There is just enough jazz in the play to keep the audience in good humor and there are many delicious thrills to put life and "pep" into the presentation.

Society backgrounds are tastefully arranged in this new picture play and they are lavishly produced. Other unique embellishments mark the procedure of the play which is sure to be appreciated by theatergoers.

The story of "The Week-End" is by Coomo Hamilton who has given the stage and screen many great presentations. He is always the clever word-builder, but it is doubtful if he has ever written a more pleasing vehicle than this delightful, tony sort of "peppy" comedy. Every moment is entertaining and while there are tense dramatic situations during the rendition, the humorous scenes are of such magnitude that the audience is kept smiling pleasantly.

A brief synopsis of the play tells of the leading lady's family being of rather a conservative type, strictly so, that when that does not allow any indulgence in the flights of youth; but the daughter has other ideas, and being in love with a certain someone, she plans and finally wins the parents' consent to a marriage with the man of her choice, notwithstanding the great opposition heretofore offered by her mother and father.

The plot of the piece is worked out admirably and many laughs are permitted. "The Week-End" will be shown at the Orpheum today.—Adv.

regarded the document as having a three-fold purpose.

First, the extension of moral support to the Polish government and people, second, an appeal to the masses in Russia to throw off the Bolshevik yoke and establish a constitutional government; third, the influencing of other nations to refrain from recognition of the soviet regime.

The dispatch of the note to Italy followed a series of informal conversations that had been in progress for several weeks between officials of the state department and the Italian embassy. Early in the course of the negotiations between the entente powers, preliminary to the Hythe conference between Premier Lloyd George and M. Millerand, the Italian government had made it known that under no circumstances would it be ready to enter into any engagement to go to war with soviet Russia.
