

THE METALLIC SERVICE.

Council Grants Permission for More Telephone Poles.

TALK ABOUT BARNUM'S CIRQUE

City Fathers All Willing and Anxious to Get the Big Show Here in Winter Quarters—Not the "Rift-Raft" That Follows the Show—Many Other Happenings About Town.

Special Correspondence Evening Journal.
NEW CASTLE, Dec. 24.—City Council held a special meeting last night with President Morrison in the chair, to decide upon several important matters brought up by Mayor Boyd. It was decided to hold the January meeting on Tuesday, January 7, and to avoid the annoyance of holding over, policemen's salaries were ordered drawn.

One of the principal objects of the meeting was a proposition from the Delaware and Atlantic Telephone and Telegraph Company to erect additional poles within the city limits. The company is now providing New Castle with a great modern improvement—the metallic line —which will have the effect of freeing the local telephones from that miserable electric light induction which has prevented any connected correspondence or conversation in this city or Wilmington of late. All the permission desired was granted and the telephone company will erect one pole at Battery station, one at Daly avenue, one at the foot of Second street and one at the City Hall.

Barnum's circus was talked of for the rest of the evening. All the councilmen listened attentively to the statement that this great combination of games and menagerie was about to remove from Bridgeport, Conn., to some locality in lower Pennsylvania, Delaware or Maryland, and had looked at two very desirable sites in the limits of New Castle. City Council sanctioned the granting of as many inducements as the law allowed to this industry, which would bring 300 men with 300 families to the city. One of the Councilmen stated positively that the regular attaches of the Barnum Winter quarters are an entirely different set of people from those who travel with the show.

Made Dollars Out of a Cent.
It is said that a remarkable find was made yesterday by George Woolson while digging a trench across the Cooper Smith property on Front street. Woolson found an old fashioned cent in a remarkable state of preservation. He was impressed that he had made an important find and took the coin to Trustee Edward Challenger, who, upon investigation found that the cent was dated 1795 and was worth $11.

Burial of the Oldest Citizen.
The funeral of William Hukill, the oldest male resident of New Castle, occurred today. Services were held at the home of his son-in-law, John W.
Hudson, on South Third street at 10 o'clock this morning, and interment was made at Delaware City. Mr. Hukill was 91 years old, had been in town for 50 years and was the proprietor of the Delaware City for years when the custom house was situated there.

First Christmas Entertainment.
At the First Presbyterian Church last evening the annual Christmas school festival was held with a large attendance.
The school sang with much spirit. Clara Carter recited "Christmas Day," Hattie McLaughlin, "Our King Has Come to Reign," Laura Wilhelm and Olga Wise, the dialogue, "Jesus's Birthday." There was a distribution of gifts and reception of donations for the poor.

Wild Reports About an Accident.
Some of the wildest reports ever heard here were circulated last night about Boss Schickler George Ford, of the Delaware Iron Works. It was first reported that he had been killed by a trolley car while crossing a bridge over the Wilmington street. Then it was said that both his legs had been severed in the accident. Mr. Ford, who has returned home smiling says that he was slightly struck and knocked aside by new car No. 25 in Wilmington while crossing to the P. W. & B. station.

Something for Everybody to See.
Oh! by the way have you seen these milliners and remotes? Just the thing for a comfortable evening at home. Go in and ask Fleming to show you a pair. Prices from $1.25 to $1.75. Slippers from 75c to $1.25 for old and young; shoes for women and men from $1.25 to $4 and nice shoes for the little folks. Headquarters for Santa Claus in the gum boot line from the little tot to grandpa. J. Fleming, No. 220 Delaware avenue, New Castle.

Incidents of the Day.
A number of New Castle people have been visiting Farnhurst hospital of late, chiefly to see just what attendants there have to contend with.

Albums, dressing cases, chamber sets, Stoops One day will be allowed the workmen at the Delaware Iron Works and two days for those of the New Castle Woolen Mills for a Christmas holiday.

All the prisoners in the Chateau d'Gillis will be treated to chicken to-morrow.
They think Christmas rolls around very slowly.

Mrs. Edward Challenger, will conduct the Methodist primary school exercises in the church auditorium on Thursday afternoon. The church has been nicely decorated for to-morrow's services.

The proper thing to do is to buy your shoes at McDuffy's.

It was reported in this city last evening upon good authority that Rev. T. E.
Martindale, D.D., formerly of this city, but now of Milford, had declined the call to St. Paul's Church, Wilmington.

New line of Christmas goods—Sto ps.
Presiding Elder Barlett held the third quarterly conference of the M. E. Church last night in the church parlor.

Personal Events.
J. Elliott Bigg, of this city, has received a friendly letter from George Gray Knowles who is now in London interested in several investment syndicates.

William McCoy, Jr., of this city, through recommendations of ex-Lov-Courtman R. R. Morrison, has been appointed assistant engineer at the Delaware State Hospital at Farnhurst.

Two engineers are required these throughout the winter season until April to provide for the additional work of heating the institution.

Arthur Murray has gone to Philadelphia on an extended vacation and will spend Christmas night seeing Fancy rockers children's high chairs, $10.00 John R. Lambson, who has been ill for nearly nine weeks, was pleasantly reunited by his friends and old associate passengers on the early morning accommodation train.

TRACTION STRIKE ENDED.

Compromise Brought About Through the Good Offices of John Wanamaker.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 24.—The great trolley strike is ended. This is final.
John Wanamaker is the man who brought about the settlement, succeeding where all others failed. He was aided in the work by members of the Christian league.
The basis of settlement follows:

First.—While the Union Traction company will only treat with the workmen in its employ it will allow them membership in any lawful organization.

Second.—It will take up all grievances and give them full and fair consideration.
Third.—It will, as far as it has vacant places, immediately put on the old men, and as fast as vacancies arise will give preference to any of the old men yet unemployed and endeavor to arrange the trips of the cars to favor the old men as far as possible without violating its contract with the new men.

The questions of compensation and hours are left for future determination.
Concessions were made by both sides.
The battle has mainly been for the question of employees' membership in the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees, which the company has persistently refused to recognize. The new men engaged since the strike began number nearly 1,000. There were about 5,000 strikers. They reported for work this morning.

Mr. Wanamaker submitted the ideas embraced in the settlement to the strikers. They accepted them and in turn submitted them to the company. Considerable correspondence and many conferences followed, and late yesterday afternoon the announcement was made that both sides had agreed to the terms. To properly round out the matter a mass meeting of the strikers was held for the purpose of ratification. Here the strike was officially declared off, all leaders were called upon for speeches, and there was a veritable love feast.

LOST AT SEA.

The Red D Steamer Nansemond Sunk and Seven Sailors Drowned.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—The Nansemond of the D line is lost. Advice received by Houston, Biles & Dallett, the agents, at Pine and Front streets, state that the Nansemond, Captain Lasky, from Curacao to Maracaibo, collided with the Spanish steamer Mexico near the island of Aruba.
The Nansemond sank and is a total loss.
The first cablegram, received from Curacao, Dutch West Indies, reported Captain Lasky and 14 persons drowned. A corrected telegram received later says that the Nansemond was bound from Maracaibo to Curacao and that only seven persons, including Captain Lasky, were drowned.
The tug Augusta saved 35 lives. The Mexican, Captain Cuel, is of the Company's Transatlantic and pilot between this city and Havana and Mexican ports.
She sailed from here Nov. 30, Havana Dec. 11 and was sailing for Porto Cabello for Carthagena when she collided with the Nansemond.

The latter was a screw steamer of 2,220 tons and was built at Baltimore in 1887.
J. M. Cobelli & Co., agents of the steamer Mexico, said that the damage received by their steamer was unknown.

The Dunn Brothers Fatally Injured.

PERRY, O. T., Dec. 24.—A deputy marshal, who arrived from the Orange country, brings news of a serious accident to the four Dunn brothers. They were in a wagon in pursuit of some lawbreakers, when a large can of powder ignited, and four men were blown high in the air. One of them was hurt so badly by the explosion that he soon died, and the other three are said to be fatally injured. The Dunn brothers were once friends of the outlaws who did work along the Creek country line, but some months ago they accepted commissions from the United States government for killing Litter Creek and Tulsa Jack, two noted members of the old Dalton gang.

When We Talk
Of good shoes for little money, perhaps you will say: Oh, yes, I have read that kind of nonsense before. Possibly you have taken the trouble to go and look at some improbable bargains at impossible prices and it stiffened your purpose never to be fooled in that way again. Well don't judge our "everlasting" by that kind of nonsense. We don't promise to save the price of a lot of coal on every pair of baby shoes, but we feel perfectly safe in promising you the best there is in respectable footwear for the smallest amount of money. Try us for your Christmas shoe wants, you will probably find your pocketbook taxed less for good shoes than ever before. Forman's, No. 10 East Fourth street bet Market and King.

Fine Holiday Books Cheap.
We have a few copies of a beautiful work, handsomely bound, containing several hundred pictures of high artistic merit, which will be sold at $1.75 a copy, which is about one-fourth the publication price. Also some copies of Rand and McNally's Cyclopaedia at $2.25, worth four times the price asked. Can be seen at the EVENING JOURNAL office.

Claims Against J. W. Barnett Filed.
Last evening two claims against John W. Barnett, the shoe dealer at Fourth and Madison streets, whose store was closed yesterday by the sheriff, were filed by Christopher L. Ward with Magistrate Daley. They represent $218. A claim of Frank & Fray for $160 was also filed before Magistrate Pritchett.

Candidate for a Second Term.
Joseph L. Cavender, Jr., whose term as notary public will soon expire, is a candidate for reappointment at the hands of Governor Watson. His petition is being signed by many members of the bar and others having use for the notarial seal.

Worried,

gloomy—nervous. Nervous prostration?
No—Dyspepsia Indigestion. Dr. Deane's Dyspepsia Pills cure this sort of nervous prostration, and is almost the only medicine that will.

A sample will be mailed free for the asking. For sale at druggists, etc., and 10c. White wrapper if containing, yellow if boxes are loose.

FELL IN WITH THIEVES

A Miner From Cripple Creek Loses His Gold.

HE WAS ON HIS WAY TO ENGLAND.

Going Abroad to Claim His Fortune of $200,000—He Exhibited His Wealth and a Game of Seven Up Followed—Robbed and Terribly Hent.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—Charles W.
Crawford, who has just reached here from the west with a snug little fortune, fell among thieves and lost a large part of it.
Crawford is a sturdy, well built fellow of 51. He is an Englishman, who has been at Cripple Creek, Colo., trying his luck at gold mining. He was fairly successful, but a week or two ago he learned that there was more money waiting for him in England than he would be likely to dig out of Cripple Creek in a long time.
His father had died, leaving him sole heir to an estate of $200,000. He gave up his claim, started for New York and expected in a day or two to sail for Liverpool.

On reaching this city the miner took a room in a hotel, which he thinks was near Barclay street. There he started out early in the evening to see the sights.

In South street he met four amiable young men, who took him to a saloon, where they had several drinks. Crawford indiscreetly exhibited a handsome gold watch and chain, which he valued at $150. He also showed a bright new $20 gold piece. Somebody suggested a game of cards after awhile, and Crawford readily assented.

Then his four newly found friends took him to the foot of Pine street, where the tugboat Adelaide lay tied up for the night. They went into the cabin of the boat, lighted a lamp and began to play seven up at $1 a corner.

Was an Easy Winner.
Crawford's good luck seemingly had not forsaken him. He was an easy winner, and all the money appeared to be coming his way. There was a goodly pile of it on the table at half past 10 o'clock, when suddenly all four strangers at the same time jumped from the table and attacked the winner from Cripple Creek.

They beat him about the face and head until he fell to the cabin floor, bleeding and almost senseless. They took all the shakes from the table and duly removed Crawford's watch and chain and his gold double eagle. Then the thieves escaped.
Crawford dragged himself up to the dock, and in South street he found Roundman Jackson and Policeman Harvey H. Ware of the Old Slip station. They had his wounds dressed, and he gave them a description of the thieves.

One of the robbers, he said, was about 26 years old, another about 24, and the remaining two were boys, about 18 years old. All were smooth faced. The eldest was about 5 feet 11 inches tall and dressed in dark clothes.

The police think they have a clew to the identity of the robbers. They took Crawford back to the boat but it was then deserted, and nobody in the vicinity appeared to have any knowledge of the robbery.

Crawford did not lose all his ready cash, for he exhibited to the policeman a large roll of greenbacks when he offered to treat them.

His face and head are terribly bruised, both eyes closed, and his nose is badly out.
He says the men, after knocking him down, jumped on him with their feet.
Crawford, before going to Cripple Creek was in the drug business.

Tramps Hold Up a Train.
METROPOLIS, Ill., Dec. 24.—A mixed train of freight and passenger cars on the St. Louis and Paducah railroad was held up at the depot in the outer part of the city by a gang of 15 or 20 tramps, who refused to allow the train to proceed unless they were taken aboard. The operator at the depot telegraphed to the marshal, and an engine carried a posse to the scene of the trouble. A hand to hand conflict ensued, and six of the gang were arrested after they had been clubbed into submission.

Remorse Leads to Suicide.
WATERBURY, N. Y., Dec. 24.—Mrs. Celia Martin, who was convicted of abruptly in the police court and sentenced to the House of Refuge for Women at Hudson, hanged herself with a towel in the county jail. She was about 22 years of age and prepossessing in appearance.

Mrs. Martin was married two years ago, but did not live long with her husband, and her associations had lately been bad.
She confessed her theft to the recorder, but took her conviction hard.

Killed by a Dynamite Explosion.
CHICAGO, Dec. 24.—A frightful dynamite explosion occurred on section 14 of the drainage canal, about a mile from the small town of Romeville. Two men were instantly killed and five fatally and two severely injured. The dead are James Mc-Knight, Daniel McAllister. The fatally injured are George McFittick, John Mc-Fittick, brothers; Barney O'Rourke, Louis Kearney and John Nichols, and the seriously hurt are Michael Harrison and Hugh O'Rourke.

Contract Awarded For Battleships.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The board of naval bureau chiefs, after carefully considering for several weeks the bids submitted for building battleships 5 and 6, has recommended to Secretary Herbert the acceptance of the bid of the Newport News Drydock and shipbuilding company of Virginia to construct both ships on the plans of the navy department for $2,250,- 000 for each.

Locomotive Boiler Explosion.
TREKTON, Dec. 24.—The boiler of a locomotive on the Pennsylvania railroad at Princeton Junction exploded, instantly killing Thomas Palmer of Marion, N. J., the engineer, and wrecking several cars.
The fireman of the locomotive had temporarily left it before the explosion.

Unrequited Love Caused Suicide.
POURBIEKSE, N. Y., Dec. 24.—George W. Kipp, a young farmer of the town of Rhinebeck, shot himself through the heart. Despondency, caused by unrequited love for a young girl in Rhinebeck, is said to have caused him to suicide.

Reception 8 to 12 to night Pyle's Crying School. Admission, Gents 25c; Ladies free.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Christmas Attraction.
The Christmas attraction at the Grand Opera House will be the "Jolly Old Chums." Harry Hughes and Julia Taylor, late with "Hanson's Fantoms," are recent engagements with "Jolly Old Chums," together with Hattie Bernard, a wonderful dancer. Miss Taylor, a soprano with a wonderful range of voice, has a very important part with "Jolly Old Chums" and with Charles O. Wallace, basso and F. Clinton Scott, tenor, will make a mixed quartet hard to equal with any organization on the road.

Clover Bill Hoey.
Clover Bill Hoey, who won fame through his impersonation of "Old Boss" in "The Parlor Match" presents Louis DeLange's comedy "The Globes Trotter" at the Grand Opera House, Friday night, December 27. Hoey has made a success of this play, and has surrounded himself with a more than ordinarily capable cast, including M. A. Kennedy, W. T.
Loyle, Louis DeLange (the author), Paul Barros, R. D. Abbott, Miss Beatrice Moreland, Miss Matie Vickers and Miss Gerome Edwady.

Uncle Tom's Cabin Coming.
"Uncle Tom's Cabin" will appear at the Grand Opera House December 28 with matinee in the afternoon. This company is undoubtedly the largest and best Uncle Tom Company traveling, comprising thirty first class artists. So complete is their scenery that the piece could be put on in a barn with better scenic effects than is produced by any other company. The African mandolin students with this company are the first and only colored people appearing in public and performing on the Spanish mandolin. The African quartet is claimed to be without an equal. The Toises are two young women and their superior in character and repertoire artists have not yet been produced on the American stage. These are two Marks, the best that a good big salary can secure.

Wonderland Museum.
Large audiences were present at Wanderland yesterday afternoon and evening and all who came away were delighted with the mammoth bill of attractions presented. "Me and Him" who are billed as the odd contract are the leading cards in the lecture hall, their burlesque boxing contest being very laughable. In the theatre, the Chicago Meteor Specialty Company presents a diversified program of amusing novelty acts. On Christmas morning the doors will be opened at 10 o'clock and a complete performance will be given before noon.

Fox Hunt.
John Q. Adams invites all lovers of a fox hunt to be at the Practical Farmer Hotel Christmas Day. Fox let loose at 10 a. m.
