

MURDER OR SUICIDE.

Finding of a Dead Man in Cass County Last Saturday.

FARGO, March 28.—A man whose name is supposed to be Arthur Chadeayn, from letters found on his person, was discovered Saturday last near Gardner, Cass county, by Deputy Sheriff McLaren. The search of the ground where the body lay brought to light a 32-calibre revolver nearly new with only one good cartridge remaining in the cylinder, the others having been discharged. In searching the remains a pocket book containing $21.61 in cash and a promissory note for $50 made by Scott Richardson to Arthur Chadeayn was found. In his pockets were many minor articles, such as men are wont to carry, and a package of letters. The latter were of a decidedly racy nature and were from women and men, one dated from Moorhead, March 19th, being the last. They were all addressed to Arthur Chadeayn. It was evident, from the fact that his money was undisturbed, that robbery was not the motive for the crime, if such it should prove. A coroner's jury from Fargo went to the scene and, after considering the evidence, returned a verdict of suicide.

The deputy sheriff says in the Argus: "The body must have been there two or three days, because directly under the body there was unmelted snow—it snowed on Monday afternoon. He was lying directly on his face with his head bent under him as if he had been thrown from a rig. A soft felt was jammed down over his nose. The hat was frozen to him and the ground. I pulled the hat to one side and caught a glimpse of blood under his left eye and under his head a pool of congealed blood. He had on a heavy overcoat buttoned around and dressed well throughout. I remarked that there was no mud on his shoes or clothes."

UNCLE SAM'S LIBERALITY.

How the Poor Indian Gets Paid
For His Services.

Devils Lake Inter-Ocean: S. H. Elrod, special disbursing agent of the government, arrived Sunday and in the afternoon was taken over to Fort Totten. His business was to pay off the scouts who aided the whites during the Sioux rebellion in 1862. These scouts and their descendants are now scattered all over Minnesota and the Dakotas, nearly every reservation having one or more among its inhabitants. The Totten reservation is said to contain the largest number and here Mr. Elrod has paid out about $35,000 of the $125,000 appropriated for this purpose. He completed the work of paying on Thursday. This money has made some of the Indians richer than they ever were before or ever will be again and they show a very natural inclination to get rid of it as rapidly as possible, although using generally very good judgment in making purchases. A number of them have bought horses. They refuse to look at anything except young mares of good size. After buying a team, naturally a new set of harness would follow and George Jameson has been doing a rushing business in that line. Wagons, buggies, sleighs and cutters have also been purchased in limited numbers. Thompson, Schultz and Wineman have done a good business in ready made clothing. So also have the general stores where dress goods, shawls, caps, gloves, canned goods and provisions have been the articles most generally called for. They have also purchased a number of cook stoves, as well as tinware and cutlery.

The purchases made, with hardly an exception, indicate that the Indians are as competent to manage their own business and are as little given to spending their money foolishly as the average white man.

WORLD'S FAIR MATTERS.

Information About North Dakota's Preparations for the Big Event.

H. C. Southard, president of the North Dakota World's fair board, has the following communication in a Fargo paper, relating to the board's organization. He says:

I have observed within a few days that our state papers are displaying more interest in the relations of North Dakota to the World's fair than formerly and also a disposition to know something about what was being done in the interest of the state.

Our state board has not held a meeting since the appointment of Mr. Tyler and does not expect to meet until his return, and I therefore will take the liberty myself of endeavoring to gratify somewhat this very natural interest—not to say curiosity.

In the first place when we formed an organization we appointed Mr. McKenzie to the office of executive manager, believing that, from his experience, energy, ability and business connections he was the very man for the place.

Without formally accepting the position he went east during the summer and we were unable to communicate with him. There was no special necessity for his services at the time and the matter drifted along some months, until a few weeks ago, when the board met and appointed Mr. Tyler, it being understood that Mr. McKenzie's health would forbid his undertaking the work. Meantime the members of the board visited Chicago and personally acquainted themselves with the officials in charge and acquired a knowledge of affairs without which intelligent work could not be pursued in this state. And

I may say right here that the salary of a manager which was saved during this time, his duties being performed by members of the board who are under no salary, more than paid the expenses of this trip.

At this time also, a site for the state building was secured which is as choice as any on the grounds and plans and specifications secured for a building for headquarters for the citizens of this state and for our special characteristic exhibit. The board also arranged to solicit $1 subscriptions from the people of the state for a special building fund, and are now having certificates to be used in that work printed.

Immediately upon his appointment Mr. Tyler, under the instruction of the board, started east upon a difficult task. I need only say of it that he is working upon it with intelligence and enthusiasm and is meeting with splendid success so far, and that upon the result of his work in the east will largely depend the success of our standing at Chicago during the fair.

We expect Mr. Tyler back in a short time, when all these contemplated plans will be pushed and new plans laid before the people and their assistance obtained, if possible, in making our work vigorous, sensible and profitable to the state.

W. B. S. TRIMBLE.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY! SAVE YOUR SEED WHEAT, SAVE LABOR IN PLANTING IT.

four horses and one man or boy; will plant three hundred acres during seeding time. One-half bushel seed saved per acre is one hundred and fifty bushels. It has been demonstrated by careful and repeated experiments that one bushel of good seed planted with the HAVANA PRESS DRILL is better than one and one-half bushels scattered broadcast. It has been demonstrated that seed planted with the HAVANA PRESS DRILL in dry ground will grow immediately, while if sown by any other method, it will not.

It has been demonstrated that seed planted with the HAVANA PRESS DRILL will all grow at the same time, all blossom at the same time, and consequently all ripen at the same time. This is the most important point in grain raising. A full crop will never be harvested under any other conditions, and these conditions cannot be assured by any other method of seeding.

WE wish to call the attention of farmers and wheat raisers to the fact that we are prepared to furnish them with the BEST LINE of Farm Machinery in the market.
