COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE

PINGREE POINTS.

The Y. P. S. C. E. is talking of another social soon.

The Cramer boys of Lisbon, are having fine sport near here hunting. They have a tent and outfit and move as often as they choose.

The Helm party of Beloit, Wis., will arrive tomorrow for their fall hunt.

Mrs. L. F. Wanner returned from Cooperstown last Friday, where she had been on a visit to her sons, Fred and Dr. Wanner.

Ernest Wanner can still ride the bicycle if he didn't win the race at the fair. He started out of Jamestown after the train had left and beat it here twenty minutes.

The prairie fire which started near here Saturday did an immense amount of damage east of here. A. Semke lost barn, granary and all his hay. His wife was overcome by smoke and over work and for a time her life was despaired of. Hi Steele lost hay and twenty acres of wheat. Frank Neva lost everything—grain, hay, buildings, etc.

Mrs. Kate Sampson and daughter have moved to Jamestown for the winter.

BUCHANAN BITS.

Farmers are not doing very much fall plowing on account of the dry weather; what plowing is being done is not done with much satisfaction.

Miss Nellie Davis has invited the young people of this vicinity to a party to be held at her home next Friday evening.

Miss Louise Brekke closed her school last Friday.

N. M. Campbell and A. Latta are partners in a tread horse power thrasher. They will hereafter do their own threshing and thus save lots of money.

Mr. and Mrs. Ove Johnson, married a few weeks ago, gave a party last Saturday evening to a host of friends. The host and hostess were the recipients of well wishes and many valuable presents.

Many farmers here are being converted to burning lignite coal since it is being delivered here for the price of two dollars and seventy cents per ton. In burning lignite we have the satisfaction of knowing that the money remains in our own state.

PIPESTONE ITEMS.

Dan Barrett, who has been in Oregon the past two years, has returned home on account of the serious illness of his father.

Mrs. G. W. Smith of Jamestown, paid a short visit to this neighborhood last week.

It is rumored that there will be a wedding here in the near future. The contracting parties have the sympathy of the entire community.

Miss C. L. Barrett made calls at Buchanan and suburbs last week.

Burt Smith is giving valiant assistance to the Elevator company at Buchanan.

There has been some talk of having another social to pay the expenses incurred at the last one. If carried out a literary program will be arranged for the entertainment of the crowd, which we hope will be as large as usual.

A. PARROT.

BEAVER.

A. McIntire is again with us for a few days, looking after the disposal of his share of the crops and shaking hands with old acquaintances.

J. Sabine is bringing out lumber to rebuild his house recently destroyed by fire.

O. Carter is moving his family into town for the winter.

CHRONIC MALARIA.

A Very Prevalent Disease Following the Hot Summer of 1895.

The continuance of hot and dry weather is sure to produce the prevalence of chronic malaria. The past summer has been exactly suitable for the production of a great deal of malaria. Even in localities where malaria has been previously unknown many cases of malaria are developed. This form of malaria is distinguished from the old-fashioned fever and ague by the insidiousness of its attack and the difficulty with which it is cured. It does not come on quickly like chills and fever. The symptoms pester and provoke sometimes for several weeks before the patient is made sick enough to take medicine.

Slight, chilly sensations, cold, sweaty spells, frontal headache, biliousness, furred tongue, bad taste in the mouth, sticky mucous in the throat, constipation, languor, etc.

A medical treatise on chronic malaria will be sent free by The Peru-na Drug Manufacturing Company of Columbus, Ohio. This book is a complete guide to the prevention and cure of malaria in its various forms. Peru-na has long since been recognized as the only infallible cure for the chronic form of malaria. While quinine has become the standard remedy for acute malaria, commonly called fever and ague, many people have found by bitter experience that it will not cure the chronic form. Peru-na cures these cases promptly and permanently.

LOST OR STOLEN.—From Melville a red Irish setter bitch about one year old, answers to name of Lady. She has black nose and mouth. A liberal reward will be paid for her recovery or any information that will lead to same. Address E. F. Porter, Melville, N. D.

TO BE A TRAPPIST.

Father Connolly Resigns the Pastorate of the Catholic Church.

Father Connolly has resigned the pastorate of the Catholic church in this city and Monday morning left for Kentucky where in the future his life work will be a member of the Cistercian or Trappist order. Father McFee of Fargo, assumed the duties of the retiring pastor and assisted in the services at the pro-cathedral Sunday.

The intention of Father Connolly to enter a holy order and to retire from active life, while known for some time to a few intimate friends, comes as a surprise to the general public who had no inkling of the contemplated change. For many years past, in fact since his membership in a similar order in the east six or seven years ago, and especially since his European tour a year ago, he has desired and intended eventually to re-enter that or a similar order. His trip to Italy and Rome, and visits and investigation of monasteries not only in Europe but in the United States as well, strengthened his resolve. Upon securing permission from his bishop, Rt. Rev. John Shanley of Fargo, who immediately appointed a successor, the pastorate in this city was resigned and the journey made at once to Gettysburg, Ky., near which exists the monastery of the order of Cistercians, or Trappists, of whom in a very few days, it is the intention of Father Connolly to be one. The monastery is located half an hour's drive from the town, in Nelson county, and now has about ninety members, one-half of whom have received college education and the remainder are agriculturalists following the old monastic custom of manual labor.

The Trappist order is celebrated among the religious orders of the church for its extraordinary austerities. All intercourse with the world is cut off. The order is founded on the principal of continual prayer and entire self abnegation. By the Trappist rule the monks rise at 2 a. m. for matins in the church, lasting to 3.30. At 5.30 they go to the office of prime. This is followed by a lecture. At 7 they engage in their several daily tasks in or out doors according to the weather. At 9.30 they return to the choir for the successive offices of terce, sext and none; at the close they dine on vegetables—meat is forbidden—frugally dressed and a little fruit. Supper consists of bread and water and is followed by a lecture. At 6 p. m. they recite complin in choir and retire at 8. The bed is a hard straw mattress with a coarse coverlet; and the Trappist never lays aside his habit, even in case of sickness. Perpetual silence is prescribed, unless in case of necessity. The minor practices and observances are to remind the members of the shortness of life and the rigor of judgment. The last scene of life is made signal in its austerity by the dying man being laid during his death agony upon a few handfuls of straw, that he may, as it were, lay aside upon the very brink of the grave even the last fragment of earthly comfort to which the necessities of nature had till then compelled him to cling.

Father Connolly enters his life of contemplation and prayer after four years of continuous and faithful service in the pastorate here. A farewell address to his congregation was delivered Sunday morning and formal leave taken. He said it was with regret that he parted with so many warm friends with whom he has been acquainted and interested. At the same time he considered it his duty to go. His life of prayer would not be for himself alone, but for others. He laid emphasis on the fact that the life hereafter is worth so much that it is worth great sacrifice. He extended his thanks to, and appreciation of, favors and assistance rendered by, those of all denominations.

Father McFee comes to the church from Fargo where for a year past he has been engaged under Bishop Shanley as missionary. His work has taken him to all parts of the state.

Burglars Arraigned.

Bert Bellie, arrested in Mandan for the burglary of Weil's clothing store, and brought to this city Sunday, was given a hearing today before Justice Flint. Mr. B. Emanuel, employed in Mr. Weil's store, identified some of the clothing on the prisoner matching that kept in stock. On Bellie was discovered a key which opens one of the satchels of clothing.

Duncan McGillis of Mandan accompanied Sheriff Eddy here with the prisoner, captured in Bismarck. "Kid" Burns was also arraigned. A pair of pants he had on was also identified as a portion of the Weil stock. The prisoner said he got the clothing from Bellie to whom he traded for them a suit of underclothing. A suit of underwear shown the prisoner he identified as those traded. The suit was found in an empty building in the city, together with some old clothes and a quantity of Weil clothing price tags.

DEATH OF A PIONEER.

After a Brief Illness James L. Sharlow Quietly Passes Away.

Heart Disease Said to be the Cause of His Sudden Demise.

Residents of Stutsman county will be surprised to learn of the sudden death of James L. Sharlow in this city last (Wednesday) night, at 11 o'clock. He has been feeling about as well as usual and was not taken ill until yesterday forenoon at 11 o'clock. While in B. W. Fuller's office he began to complain of sickness and was taken to his mother's house at once. During the evening he had a short nausea, after which he reclined on the bed and made no further exhibition of pain. At 11 p. m. he passed quietly away, no struggle or distress marking the last moments. Dr. Baldwin who was called in stated that the immediate cause of death was heart trouble, but this was complicated with stomach ailment.

Mr. Sharlow was a bachelor and had lived in the county since 1881 removing from Davenport, Iowa, with the colony who came to North Dakota about that time. He entered a homestead, preemption and tree claim in 187-65 and assisted a number of new settlers to take up land. A postoffice is named after him, and his acquaintance throughout the county is as large perhaps as that of any other man. He was a soldier belonging to the 20th Iowa regiment of which he was color bearer, and he served three years in the war. His age was 50 years.

Deceased leaves two brothers, David and Henry Sharlow and one sister, Mrs. Bigelow, all of this city and county.

The funeral will occur at 2 o'clock tomorrow at the residence of Mrs. Sharlow and the burial at Highland Home cemetery.

To Open the College.

Rev. Thomson was appointed by the Presbyterian synod, which closed its annual session in Fargo Saturday, chairman of a committee of three to make arrangements for the opening of the Presbyterian college located in this city, at the earliest possible date. The institution has been closed for a number of years and a small debt—probably not to exceed a thousand dollars—has hung over it. The question of liquidating the debt, largely if not entirely due residents of the city, was brought up in synod. It was thought that if the institution could be opened again that the debt could be easily paid—or with much less effort than if it remains closed. The entire matter was placed in the hands of the committee with power to act. Rev. Edgar Day of Fargo, and a third gentleman from the Missouri slope are the other members of the committee.

It is believed that if the institution is opened as an academy or preparatory school that it can be successfully maintained. If in operation it would relieve the city schools, in the higher departments, of their crowded condition and would be of undoubted benefit at large in the added facilities to complete the education of the youth of the city and county without recourse to institutions of learning in other parts of the state.

A plan is now in contemplation for the opening of the building which may be very successfully put in operation in the not far distant future. The matter should receive hearty support of all interested.

Disastrous Prairie Fire.

A prairie fire which has been burning north of Spiritwood station for several days past destroyed considerable quantities of hay for different farmers. Jas. Price lost 25 tons, G. W. Orange a stack, Frank Klein some, and others whose names could not be ascertained. The losses can't be afforded owing to the scarcity of hay the past season. The fire is still burning.

S. Hager returned Monday from a trip since Saturday in the northeast part of the county. He brings report of the big prairie fire Saturday night and Sunday the light of which could be seen from town. He says the fire started in the vicinity of Kensal, burning over the whole country north of Spiritwood lake, and extended on south and east. At Thos. Kottet's place it swept away everything except his house. Chas. Stuff lost eight stacks of wheat and several racks of hay. Chas. Anderson lost four stacks of oats and one building. Two of his horses were badly burned. John Reid of Courtenay, lost all his hay, as did also E. F. Horn.
