WORD FROM TWO U. S. AVIATORS BEING AWAITED

Technically Arrested in Mexico When Forced to Make Landing.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 3.—Word was awaited today concerning Lieutenants G. L. Usher and L. M. Wolf, American army aviators, stationed at Fort Bliss, who were captured yesterday by Mexican soldiers near Naco, Sonora, Mexico, and taken to Naco, technically under arrest.

The Americans, on a flight from Fort Bliss to Nogales, Ariz., became lost yesterday and were 16 kilometers south of Naco, when engine trouble necessitated a forced landing.

Major General Robert H. Howse, commander of El Paso district, said he anticipated no difficulty in obtaining the release of the aviators.

VILLA RULE IS LIKED BY SOME

Mining Engineer Says His System is Above That Of Carranza.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Because Francisco Villa "reserves all rights to robbery and looting for himself," his operations are looked on with favor by the population, the senate committee investigating the Mexican situation was told today by Henry H. Knox, a New York mining engineer. Mr. Knox said he had had twenty years' experience in Mexico.

"Villa established a certain rough justice," Mr. Knox said. "Whenever he gains control of an area he represses all looting, robbery and drunkenness. His first act is to close the saloons."

"No one else is allowed to rob, and Villa contents himself with making a levy on classes of the population able to pay, saying that the money is to go to his 'cause' and giving a receipt. The levy stands for a certain period."

How does that compare with the Carranza government's methods? he was asked.

"Well, Villa's system has a certain finality about it. During the period for which his levy is made, no more demands are formulated. The Carranza government makes its levy today, and comes forward with demands for more tomorrow, and on the next day."

Munitions for the outlaw leader, the witness said, are captured from Carranza government supply trains, or smuggled across the border.

KING'S VISIT MAY HELP GET TRADE

Madrid, Monday, Feb. 2.—King Alfonso's projected visit to Latin America, according to El Dia, organ of the Liberal party, should be the best means of winning for Spain the trade of South America.

During many years, other nations who are opposed to contracting alliances with Spanish-speaking countries have intervened and by their propaganda prevented Spain getting her share of South American trade, the newspaper says. "They have profited by Spain's domestic troubles, but despite this, the Spanish race win in the end. With all our faults, Spain and South America are much above other countries. The trip of the king will be the beginning of a regeneration of Spanish-speaking peoples—with a population of 300 million people, which can ultimately dictate world policies. This trip should not be delayed, as it means the triumph of the Spanish race."
