GRAIN AND PROVISIONS. New York, Jan. 15.—The week end session of the stock exchange was dull, but the list developed a firm tone after an uncertain opening. Further buying of Reading at an additional advance of two points prompted the shorts to extend their retent covering movement.

Steels, equipments, oils and shippings gained 1 to 2 points, the outstanding features including Crucible, Vanadium, Lackawanna, Bethlehem ness and carried prices downward. Hedging sales by cash houses was the feature in the corn market. After opening 1-4 to 1-2 lower, including Mary 73 5-8 to 73 3-4, the market continued to weaken. Oats, like other grains, were weak and after starting 1-8 to 1 cent off with May 48 to 48 1-8, declined cialties.

The closing was strong. Sales approximated 300,000 shares.

The stock market lacked a definte trend at the listless opening of today's short session. Prominent industrials and some of the rails were firm to strong, especially Befinlehem. Crucible and Republic Steels, International Paper, Ajax Rubber, Reading and Atlantic Coast Line.

Reactionary shares included American International. Mercantile Marine Common, Studebaker, American Sugar. Sears-Roebuck and Colorado Fuel, the latter falling 1 1-4 points. Preliminary quotations for foreign except such as was given by holders of bids, the sellers of the latter being forced to protect themselves on the way fown.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 15 .- Thousands of dollars will be saved Wisconsin traveling men as a result of a new income tax ruling announced today by Collector Burt Williams, enabling salesmen on a commission to deduct expenses in excess of ordinary cost of living at home. Heretofore only the cost of transportation was allowed. Under the changed regulations a traveler will have to list his board and lodging costs while on the road and subtract from it what he would have paid at home. The ruling applies to 1920 incomes.
