Gambling Damaging To School Athletics, Declares Williams

Madison, Wis., Feb. 27.—The fever of gambling is demoralizing college athletics to such an extent that their educational value may soon be lost. Dr. Elmer Williams, former pastor of Grace church, Chicago, declared yesterday in addressing university students at Madison, Wis., that it is time the young people and the prophets joined against this fever which is sweeping over the country.

He said, pointing out that students in eastern colleges had lost $200,000 on a football game.

Dr. Williams condemned "baby vamps" and boy bandits who he said are making a much more noticeable appearance among the younger generation. He urged that "cheap, dirty magazines which are protests against prohibition and are war crimes against blue laws," be "weeded out" through agitation by women's clubs.

Powerful Wireless Station Alleged To Have Caused Fires

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 27.—The proximity of radio stations is the latest explanation of Antigonish county "spooks," which have driven Alex MacDonald and family from home and baffled investigators. Fire underwriters are discussing suggestions that the mysterious fires have been caused by electric phenomena, caused by the powerful wireless stations at Glace Bay. Several other families in Antigonish county are now reported to have been driven from their homes by mysterious fires during the last dozen years.

Inquiries received here indicate a small army of American newspapermen is preparing to follow Dr. Walter Franklin Prince, director of the American Institute for Science Research, who has accepted an invitation to undertake an investigation of the mystery.

Nothing is so utterly needless as the suffering from itching, painful corns.

It is as easy to peel off a corn as to skin a banana. Touch it with "Gets-It" and the trick is done. No hard corns, soft corns, any corn or callus. All pain stops instantly and the corn proceeds to loosen and soon can be lifted right off. Four money cheerfully refunded if it fails. But it never fails. Costs a trifle. E. ## When Grand Forks Men and Women Recalled "The Days of Real Sport"

The occasion was "program day at a country school," the scene, the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Towne; the time, one night last week; the players, the P. E. O. Sisterhood and their husbands and men friends.

He sat there, literally enveloped in his dignity and self-importance, the teacher, wielder of the birchen rod, none other than that familiar figure, Master Don McDonald. The bell sounded, and there was a shuffling of many feet outside; then the children trooped into the room, and with unusual precision took their respective places.

A number of the little boys that entered bore the appearance of having recently undergone a "severe" "clean-up campaign" at home, and in their best suits of corduroy or navy serge knickers, they were picturesque, indeed. Sweet and bashful little girls were there too, wearing their stiffly starched, high-collared and sunbonneted. The countenance of every mother's child of them shone with a suppressed emotion, and why not? This was a special occasion and excitement was in the air, for was not this program day; and were not visiting parents present; and greater cause still, were not those autocratic personages, the "committees" on hand to see that all went well? What child would dare be guilty of misdemeanor in the presence of the honorables, R. B. Griffith, Dr. E. T. Towne and Dr. C. S. Marston?

The teacher arose. The exercises would begin with a group of games that the children liked best. When the element brought about by "Farmer in the Dell," "If I Were a Lady," and "London Bridge is Falling Down" had subsided, the school was called to order, and Jessie and Orin Libby were allowed to choose sides for a spelling bee. This was the signal for much giggling, until finally, the entire room was spelled down on one difficult word, which was later referred to Committeeman R. B. Griffith, who was able to sustain the faith of the children in his infallibility.

"The national board of directors," said Mr. Deery, "has decided to charter a big liner which will sail from New York and will take the pilgrims direct to Ireland, in all probability making the landing at Queenstown."

Aged Resident Has Narrow Escape

"I was at my work, my limbs became numb, I got dizzy and faint, my ears seemed stopped up. I had been troubled with gas on my stomach and severe bloating after meals. Doctors failed to help me. One dose of May's Wonderful Remedy, recommended by the corner druggist, proved a life-saver to me. I am continuing with it, with splendid results. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and alkalis the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. As druggists everywhere."

Following the spelling bee, lunch was served by little Grace Towne, Kate Jenkins, Maude Griffith, Eva Libby and Medora Knott. After this, the schoolmaster again tapped for quiet, and the program which had been carefully rehearsed by the little boys of the school for some time was presented for the approval of the guests.

The first number was an original composition on "The Horse," by John G. Gillette, who acquitted himself in good order.

Tommy Berge was then asked for an instrumental solo, and he did very well with the first few chords, whereupon his self-consciousness overcame him and he was escorted to his place. Little Howard Simpson delivered a very nice reading entitled, "Monkey, Monkey, Sitting on a Rail," and this was followed by a vocal solo by George and the Cones. Cones accompanied George on the piano part way through his selection, but he was replaced by Gertrude Sturtevant before George began the third verse of his song.

The next number was an oration by Orin Libby, which was followed by a piano selection by Paolo Conte. Paolo forgot the last part of his contribution and was unable to finish.

The program was here interrupted by George Sturtevant, who was discovered sitting on the floor near his desk, playing marbles. George was chastised.

After this, "Free" Fletcher spoke a "piece," and Billy Budge told a series of funny stories about his uncle. With this the program was brought to a close.

When Mr. McDonald had made due apologies for the various failures on the program, a gorgeous Valentine box was opened, and all the children present received a Valentine. The pupils presented "dere teacher" with a select bouquet of flowers, after which each little boy asked his best

Mr. Hoover further declared he was confident the conference would make another "step in the progress which the women of the world are making toward taking their proper place in the civic affairs of all nations."

New Type Of Fruit Car Being Tried Out

Minot, N. D., Feb. 25.—A new type of railroad cars designed for shipping fruit in cold weather and for various similar uses has been seen in Minot this week.

The car came from New Orleans with a load of bananas for the Gamble Robinson Co. Five men were in charge and were closely watching the tests of practicability of the new device.

The car is heated with hot water, which is supplied by the locomotive of the train to which it is attached. Electric thermometers are mounted throughout the car and the men in charge occupied various points inside the car in order to watch the operation and the effect of weather. The weather has been cold enough to give a thorough test. D. E. Maier, Minot manager for the Gamble Robinson Co., says that the car is declared to be efficient in temperatures as low as 60 degrees below zero.

He adds that the banana shipment reached Minot in perfect condition and that the car test proved very satisfactory.

Edmonton, Alta., Feb. 27.—Dr. J. S. Stewart, Conservative, Lethbridge, clashed with the two lady members of the legislature Friday afternoon when he demanded an amendment to the minimum wage bill for women which would prevent married women whose husbands are earning a living wage—$150 a month he suggested—from taking employment away from other workers.

Mrs. Irene Parley, minister without portfolio, denounced the proposal as an infringement of liberty and equality in a free country.

VEREGIN SAYS MASSACRE PLAN IS ONLY THEORY

Says Canada Should Reimburse Doukhobors For Roads Built.

Nelson, B. C., Feb. 27.—The Doukhobors of Canada, otherwise known as the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, merely expressed a theoretical advocacy of massacre of their children and aged, according to their explanation now offered by Peter Veregin, president of the band, in a letter to the Daily News here. His letter expresses some alarm at the apparent indignation of the Canadians over the announcement of the sect some days ago that members were contemplating migration to escape taxation, in which event it might be necessary to kill off children and aged persons who impeded the progress of the wanderers.

After apologizing to the Canadian public, particularly the women, the Doukhobor chief explains that the children of the colony are on the verge of starvation, being deprived of milk through the forced sale of cows in 1920 for the payment of taxes. He protests against income tax collections totalling $4,000, claiming earnings of individual members to be within exemption limits.

The letter concludes with a plea for official inquiry to the end that the Doukhobors be reimbursed for the roads they have built, and asks for a $50,000 loan to be spent in irrigation.

Fontaine, Green Bay, and government attorneys in Milwaukee last Tuesday, the Green Bay lawyers left for home, but the case was continued in the morning and will be heard in the afternoon.

DISC WHEELS FASTER. Bloomington, Ill.—Dr. A. L. Foley, head of the department of physics at Indiana university, believes disc wheels on automobiles will go faster than wire wheels.

While experimenting recently on a means for the measurement of time, Dr. Foley incidentally made the discovery.

In his experiment, Dr. Foley hitched a 10 horsepower motor to a 28-inch bicycle wheel. At high speed the churning of the spokes in the air was so great that it was impossible to make the wheel go faster than some 1,800 revolutions per minute. He then hitched a smaller motor to a 30-inch steel disc, and attained a speed of 1,800 revolutions per minute, more than twice as fast as the wire wheel was driven.

The speed at which the disc was driven was over 400 miles per hour, while the fastest the wire wheel was driven, even with the larger motor, was the rate of about 140 miles per hour.

SCATTERED MEMBERS OF NORTHERN TRIBE PLACED IN CAMP

Edmonton, Alta., Feb. 27.—According to word received at the royal Canadian mounted police headquarters here by Major G. L. Jennings, Constable Grinstead of the Arctic detachment, stationed at Fort Fitzgerald, has returned to that post after a seven weeks' trip during which he covered more than 500 miles through the Barren Lands, where he gathered together the scattered members of the Indian Cariboo Ester tribe, placed them in a safe camp with food and returned to his post.

Last fall word was received in Edmonton that the Cariboo Ester tribe of Indians were in bad shape, some reports stating they had resorted to cannibalism, but the constable's report does not mention this. Accordingly Constable Grinstead was ordered to leave Fort Fitzgerald with relief supplies, being accompanied by three dog teams and native drivers carrying fish-nets and food.

The Cariboo Ester country is situated 200 miles east and north of Fitzgerald in the Barren Lands. This entire country has recently been burned off with the result that caribou in their migration have avoided the district and are not now found west of Fond du Lac post, on the east end of the Athabasca lake. As the caribou form the staple food of the tribe, the absence of the animals meant that the natives were practically without food. After rounding up the band, Constable Grinstead located them further south off Whitefish lake, in the vicinity of the food cache where their supplies could be easily augmented through fishing and small game hunting, rabbits abounding in this locality.

A DESERTED VILLAGE.

Montreal, Que.—A deserted village, rivaling Oliver Goldsmith's immortal classic in picturesque quality, is now nestled in the heart of the grim old Laurentian mountains, owing to the fact that its promoters went bankrupt, compelling the inhabitants to leave the neighborhood or starve.

The village is situated about six miles from Ste. Agathe des Monts, 66 miles from Montreal. It was erected sixteen years ago by persons who hoped to benefit from life in the country. A partly constructed branch of a railway in all that connects it with the outer world, except a chain of lakes, for it is inaccessible by foot or motor.

A short distance from the village there stands a huge chateau, in which there is a magnificent ballroom whose floor has never been scratched by the feet of dancers. The natives believe it is haunted.

What makes a lot of people sore is to hear about all the money the government has been spending in recent years and meditating on the fact that they weren't able to get any of it.

Poverty compels a good many people to lead the simple life.
