NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

MR. D. STILLWELL'S

BOILER TUBE BRUSHES.

Patented March 29, 1865.

13 different sizes from 1 1-4 to 6 inch. Manufactured from Spring Tempered Flat Steel Wire.

FOR Use and Durability the above Brush will be found far superior to all other articles for cleaning Boiler Tubes of Scales, Soot, Ashes, &c. In all Tubular Boilers a great saving of fuel may be made by the daily use of the above Brush, as it will remove the scale that forms (which is a non-conductor of heat) as well as soot and ashes.

Being made of SPRING TEMPERED FLAT STEEL WIRE, gives greater elasticity, adding more than double to the wearing surface. The wires are firmly soldered to the shaft, which will allow the tubes to be cleaned while hot. They are made in angular form, so that when tubes become clogged with ashes; by turning the brush, it acts as a borer, easily removing all obstructions.

THE NEWS.

GUILD closed last night at 130.

THAD. STEVENS continues ill.

A SCHOOL-HOUSE in Augusta, Georgia, was demolished by a tornado on Tuesday, and seven children killed and nine wounded.

THE Richmond Examiner has a bad spell. It calls the proposed result of Fenianism "a Celtick Republick."

THE Fenians made an attempt at Rochester, N. Y., yesterday, to seize two Canadian steamers, but were frustrated.

A COMPANY of one hundred and fifty able-bodied Canadians and Britons left Cincinnati night before last for Canada, to lend a hand against the Fenians.

SENOR ROMERO still declines having anything to do with Santa Anna, although the latter has written him a full explanation of his motives and objects.

HON. ANSON BURLINGAME, our Minister to China, and Gen. Von Valkenburg, Minister to Japan, have sailed from San Francisco to their respective posts.

THE Oregon State election has been held recently, and although the returns are not all in, a Union triumph is claimed of from 700 to 1,000 majority.

THE Canadian Parliament opened in Ottawa yesterday. A synopsis of the Governor General's speech will be found in the dispatches.

GEN. SWEENY and Col. Mahan were arraigned before a civil tribunal in St. Albans yesterday, and will be kept in custody until they give bail, the former in $20,000, and the latter in $500 bonds.

AN accident happened night before last on the Pottsville, Pa., Road at Valley Forge, caused by a switch being left open, by which two persons were killed. One young girl had both her legs broken.

THE ex-rebel soldiers in the lower counties of Maryland are said to be drilling, and threaten a raid on a Government farm in that locality. Measures have been taken to put a stop to their proceedings.

JUDGE LAWRENCE, of the Supreme Court of Illinois, has decided that the gift enterprises of Chicago are lotteries, and the District Attorney has taken steps to drive the various enterprises of that kind from the city.

STRAGGLERS from the Fenian army, just over the line in Canada, on returning to St. Albans, are furnished transportation to their homes by the U. S. authorities, and are very grateful for it. They say as soon as that fact is known at the front, the Fenian army will be among the things that were.

GEN. BARRY, commanding the district of Buffalo, has issued an order, by direction of Gen. Meade, prohibiting the transportation over railroads or by water of any person or materials of war designed or supposed to be designed to violate the neutrality laws. The transmission of telegraphic messages in cypher relating to Fenianism is also prohibited.

ROBERTS had an interview with the U. S. District Attorney yesterday, and offered to give bail in his own recognizance of $20,000, but emphatically refused to give his parole to desist from any further attempt to "attain the object he has been endeavoring to accomplish." He was remanded to the custody of the officer in charge of him, and probably passed last night inside of a jail.

GEN. SPEAR, (now that General Sweeny is placed hors du combat,) the commanding officer of the Fenians, is a tall, gentlemanly Irishman of fifty, "one of the rale ould sort," with frizzled hair and moustache, and a military air. He graduated at West Point thirty years ago, commanded a Pennsylvania regiment during the rebellion, and says he resigned a brigadier's commission in the regular army to join his fortunes with Fenianism.

F. P. BLAIR, who fought against rebels during the war, is now fighting for and fraternizing with his late enemies. At Kansas City, Mo., on Saturday, he was entertained by a committee of ex-rebels and their sympathisers. Among them was one Capt. Pulliam, who drilled and commanded the first company of rebel recruits in the place. When Pulliam was introduced to Blair, he said: "General, you and I differed quite materially three years ago, but I am now happy to welcome you back on my platform."

THE second trial of Coovert for the murder of the Roosa family is now in progress at Lebanon, O. Some new and important testimony has been produced. The State has proven by two witnesses, that there was on the frame of the window through which the murderer escaped, the mark of a bloody right hand, without a thumb on his right hand. The testimony of Mary Shaffer, of Middleton, that she heard Coovert give a full account of the murder at daylight the morning after it was committed, hours before information of it could have reached that place by the papers or any other means, was corroborated. An attempt was made at middletown, before the trial commenced, to murder Mary Shaffer. Five shots were fired at her as she was passing along the street at night, one of them grazing her head.

The King of the Pestilence.

The arrival of the steamer Peruvian in the harbor of New York, carrying on board that terrible freight, cholera, is the third warning which we have had during the present season, of the approach of the Asiatic pestilence. It is not often that death takes such pains to herald his coming. And, sudden and swift and terrible as is the plague whose omens fill the air, we have this at least for which to be grateful to it—that it has sent its messengers before it to prepare a way for its coming. We owe it the more thanks because this is of all diseases the one against which care and cleanliness can most easily provide. Forewarned; forearmed. By giving us fair notice of its approach it has enabled us to take arms against it. And we believe that the country has made provision against it to a greater extent than ever before. When the cholera comes it will find us ready, and the scourge will be a light one—much lighter than in former years. In order that our readers may understand what the cholera has done in Cleveland during the periods of its visitation here, we print to-day in our local columns a very interesting article in reference to the history of the plague in this city on its three visits here. It will be seen that the cholera has never raged here so virulently as in many cities of the country, owing in part to the excellent location of the city, on a hill sloping in one direction to the lake and in the other to the river, and in part to the general good habits and cleanliness of our population. The same causes will, we trust, procure for us a like immunity should the pestilence visit us during the present season. And we believe that it will not be as fatal in its present visit as in former ones. The people and the physicians have alike become more accustomed to it, and the municipal authorities have made very thorough preparation against it. We trust that, in view of the repeated warnings which we have had of its probable approach, these preparations may be continued without relaxation, not only by the city authorities, but by private citizens.

LETTER FROM MIDDLEBURG.

An "Ancient Village"—Its New Start—Manufactures—Mineral Coal—Prospective Advantages.

[Special Correspondence of CLEVELAND LEADER.]

MIDDLEBURG, June 5, 1866.

An interesting place is this ancient village of Middleburg, as from a short sojourn of one of your subscribers, among the scenes of its business and of its rural beauties, he is able to testify. I call it ancient, because for twenty years—before such a place as Akron, within two miles of it, was known, or even thought of—Middleburg was the business center of all the surrounding country.

As early as the year 1807, its mill seats upon the little Cuyahoga became improved, and were the resort of the inhabitants for many miles around. It was not, however, until the year 1817 that its village plot was established by Wm. Hart—one of its enterprising founders—when it commenced upon a growth, destined to make it of a very high rank, which, long ere this, it would have fully attained but for the Ohio Canal, which suddenly built up Akron—its near and successful rival. But, although retarded and kept in the background for a long time by this event, Middleburg is coming up again, to realize the expectations of its enterprising founders.

It is becoming as distinguished for its potteries, for which it possesses remarkable facilities, as the far-famed city of Sheffield is for its cutlery. Its manufactories, rapidly increasing, now more than twenty in number, line the banks of the little Cuyahoga, the deficiency of which in water power for so great a business, is made up by the appliance of steam. In these are produced every variety of earthen ware known to the art, and it is marvelous to see what can be done with clay in the hands of the potter. Among the other manufactories is that of Hill and Adams, for the sewer pipes, which supply our Western cities, and of Wetmore, Robinson & Co., for the finer wares. Without going into statistics it is safe to say, that in the production of earthen ware, in quantity and value, Middlebury exceeds every other place in the country.

I must not omit to speak of the recent development of an extensive bank of mineral coal in the immediate vicinity of this village, by Cross, Payne & Co., of your city—by which we have an important item bearing upon the prosperity of Middlebury, and no small interest to Cleveland. In the explorations of D. W. Cross, Esq., of your city, whose specialty seems of late to be mineral coal, an extensive bed of the same, of superior quality, was discovered to be underneath one of the farms of Miss A. L. Sumner, and of Mr. Moore, ninety feet below the surface, and in strata of more than four feet in thickness. This valuable mine is now being opened and made available by Cross, Payne & Co., who have become the proprietors, by an outlay of expenses which proves the saying in this instance to be true, that "it takes a mine to work a mine."

The existence of this bed of coal, within forty miles of Cleveland by the canal, and with a capacity to yield more than five hundred thousand tons to its market of the best of coal, is of importance to Cleveland, and to Middlebury of immense advantage, as the material for the creation of steam will be furnished almost at their door, without the usual cost of transportation. The benefits to result from the enterprise of Cross, Payne & Co., I believe, are well appreciated by the people of Middlebury.

Time will not permit me to speak of the churches, schools, and other institutions of Middlebury, which are giving it a rising importance. S. S.

The New York Herald had the following startling caption to a long editorial: "Shall we have the cholera or some other dreadful disease in New York?" To which the Louisville Journal replied: "You pays your money and you has your choice."

Cholera! Cholera!!—It is coming! All should be prepared to ward it off, not only by the adoption of proper sanitary means, but by having at hand some effectual remedy for ready use when the dreaded disease appears. It is the opinion of eminent physicians that most cases of Cholera can be readily cured if a proper remedy is used early. Such a remedy we now offer to the public in the article of Dr. J. R. Miller's Universal Magnetic Balm, with the fullest confidence in its remedial qualities as a Preventive and Cure for Cholera. It has been thoroughly tested, and we speak advisedly when we commend it to the public as the best known remedy for Cholera and Bowel Complaints.

There were no arrivals of Fenians this morning, but numerous departures of the brotherhood for their homes.

Colonel Hugh Donnelly's company of 65 men left for Springfield, and 75 or 100 men who have straggled in from the front and loitered around the town, left on the train for Boston. They were provided with transportation by the United States government, and were very grateful for it. They say that as soon as it becomes known at the front that the government is furnishing them with transportation homeward the entire Fenian army will be among the things that were.

Parliament Opened.

OTTAWA, C. W., June 8.—The Parliament opened to-day. The following is a synopsis of the Governor's speech:

Allusion is made to the Fenian movement as follows:

The threats and preparations for an attack on Canada are constantly openly made by a body organized in the United States known as Fenians, compelled me since the last Parliament by advice from my ministers, to call out for service a large portion of the volunteer militia force of the Provinces. The spirit displayed by the people in responding to the Proclamation, have received the merited approval of her Majesty's government. The events which have occurred within the last few days afford continued proof of the necessity for precautionary measures being adopted. The Province has been invaded by a lawless band of marauders, but I congratulate the country that they were promptly confronted, and within twenty-four hours compelled to make a precipitate retreat. I deplore the loss of life and suffering entailed upon the gallant body of Canada volunteers in the engagement which took place, repelling so promptly the invaders who attacked the country, and I feel assured you will not omit to alleviate so far as may be in your power the miseries so wantonly inflicted on many families, but while I grieve the individual loss I congratulate the country. The danger has shown that Canada possesses in the volunteers a body of men ready to peril life in defense of the Queen and the country. The entire people has been thoroughly aroused by the recent occurrences, and it must now be apparent to all that the whole resources of the country, men and means, will any moment be cheerfully given to repel any invasion on their homes. In the measures of defence which have been called upon to take, I have received the unremitting support of Lieut. General Commanding, and Admiral Hope. It is also a source of unfeigned pleasure to acknowledge the gallant devotion displayed by the officers and men in her Majesty's military and naval forces engaged.

I am happy to be enabled to state that the President of the United States has issued a Proclamation declaring that serious infractions of laws of that country have been and are being committed by evil disposed persons within the territory and jurisdiction of the United States against the British possessions, and requiring all officers of his government to exert every effort for their repression and I trust the course thus adopted will ere long prevent this country from being subjected to further attacks from the citizens of the nation on terms of amity with Great Britain. The maintenance on the active duty which the government is compelled to call out, has involved the expenditure to a large amount not provided for. The vote last session accounts for this expenditure. It will be laid before the House and I feel confident you will immediately pass the bill, indemnifying the government for unavoidable expense from the provision act.

Recent occurrences show the necessity of extending to lower Canada the act to protect the inhabitants of that section of the Province, against lawless aggressions from the subjects of foreign countries at peace with Her Majesty. It has also been necessary for the preservation of law and order to adopt the course similar to that which was taken at the present session Imperial Parliament for the temporary suspension of the habeas corpus. I invite your immediate attention to these necessary measures.

I congratulate you on the satisfactory results of the commerce of the country during the past year. The revenue is so largely in excess of the estimates as to enable us, without inconvenience, to provide for the heavy and unexpected changes entailed on the country.

The position which the great question of union of the Provinces of British North America has assumed is now such as to induce expectation that the measure will be shortly carried into effect. I therefore hope and believe that it will be practicable during the present session to adopt such proceedings as may be necessary for the completing of the details as regards Canada. I venture to express a confident expectation that the new parliament held within these walls will not alone be confined to the assembled representatives of Canada, but will embrace all the Provinces of British North America.

I congratulate you upon your general prosperity, and pray that your councils, guided by Divine Providence, may secure the moral and material advancement of the great body of the people.
