Being personally acquainted with the proprietors, and knowing the merits of the Union Business College, we cheerfully recommend this favorite institution to all our readers.

MONTHLY MEETING.—The next monthly meeting of the Freedmen's Educational Society will be held on next Sunday afternoon in the Ohio street M. E. Church. An address will be delivered by Dr. J. P. Robinson.

THE WEATHER.—The following meteorological record is reported for the LEADER by L. H. Solomonson, optician, under the American:

	July 31.
6 A. M.	Thermometer,	73 degrees.
12 M.	do	78 do
6 P. M.	do	77 do

THE 179TH O. V. I.—The officers of the 179th O. V. I. will hold a re-union at the Weddell House on Monday evening next, the 7th of August. Colonel Barber informs us that he has received letters from a number of the officers stating that they will be on hand. A fine time is anticipated.

The propeller Arctic, of the N. Y. C. line, goes to Buffalo at noon to-day. The propeller Rocket, of the same line, goes to Green Bay at 6 this evening.

THE KENNARD.—The Cincinnati Commercial says of the Kennard House that it is "one of the most elegantly-furnished and best-conducted hotels in the country. This house has recently been refitted and refurnished throughout, and is now under the supervision of R. M. N. Taylor, who enjoys a world-wide professional reputation."

MICHIGAN SOUTHERN EARNINGS.—The following are the comparative earnings of the Michigan Southern Railroad for the third week in July:

1866	$70,546
1865	69,737
Increase	$3,809

DETROIT STREET, WEST SIDE—For one mile it is in very bad condition, being almost impossible for a loaded team to pass over. The Rockport Plank Road Company used to keep it in repair, but since they sold that portion of the road to the city they have done nothing to it; but they still charge toll all the same. Now, what right have they to take toll for that portion of the road they have sold to the city? They claim that the city agreed in its contract with them to keep the road in good repair but have not put one hour's work on it since they bought it.

LAKE SHORE GRAPE GROWERS CONVENTION.—The Lake Shore Grape Growers Association will hold their summer meeting on the 15th, 16th, and 17th of this month; at the same time making an excursion to the Grape Islands and Sandusky, according to the following programme:

Members from the eastern and central districts, and all who can reach Cleveland as easily as Sandusky, will go on board the fine steamer Lac La Belle, which leaves Cleveland for Lake Superior on Tuesday evening, 14th, at 9 o'clock, her Captain, John Spaulding, a member of the association having kindly perffered the Society a free ride to Kelley's Island, landing there early on Wednesday morning.

Those from the western district, and around Sandusky, will find a steam boat leaving that city on Wednesday morning, by which they can easily join the other party at Kelley's Island. There is also a boat leaving in the afternoon, by which persons can join them there, or at one of the other Islands without difficulty.

Wednesday afternoon the society will go from Kelley's Island to North Bass, and in the evening to Put-in-Bay, stopping there over night, and probably the next forenoon, then visiting one or two points on the Peninsula, and reaching Sandusky in the evening.

Friday forenoon may be spent in viewing the vineyards around Sandusky, after which it is expected the Executive Committee will commence their visitation of vineyards along the Lake Shore towards Cleveland. They will also fix the time for such visitation Eastward, to the borders of Pennsylvania and New York.

The grape crop is not a full one this season, but the vines and fruit are now doing well, and, as this is the best time for observing the different modes of summer pruning and culture, and the injuries by insects, rot, mildew, &c., it is believed that this excursion and inspection of vineyards, cannot fail to afford much instruction as well as pleasure to all whoparticipate. It is hoped that as many of the members of the Association as possible will be present, and they are expected to invite others who are interested in grape culture to accompany them, and also join the Society. Membership tickets and copies of the annual report will be furnished to new members by the Treasury or Secretary on board the steamer at Cleveland, or on the island.

The Committee ad interim, of the Ohio Pomological Society, and several prominent horticulturists from other States are expected to join in the excursion.

FIRE PREVENTED.—Private Watchman Gibbons, and officer Alcord, of the Metropolitan Police, are entitled to credit for the discovery and extinguishment, on Monday morning last, about three o'clock, of a fire that, had it gained a little more headway, might have proved very disastrous. These officers, while making their rounds, were halted when in front of the American House by an odor that was so unusual as to arouse their curiosity, and upon making investigation, smoke was found to be issuing from the basement under the tobacco store of Mrs. Walters. The officers descended into the basement and there found a quite considerable fire in a barrel of snuff, which was growing rapidly. Pails of water were promptly obtained and the fire extinguished. The basement was filled with tobacco, snuff, clothing, etc., and there can be little doubt that but for this timely discovery the result would have been a serious loss of property. The fire is believed to have been incendiary.

LORAIN COUNTY FAIR.—We have received a list of premiums and regulations of the Eleventh Annual Fair of the Union Agricultural Society, to be held at Wellington, Lorain county, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 26th, 27th and 28th, 1866.

Any person paying one dollar will become a member of the Society, and will receive six single admission tickets for his family, and a member's ticket for himself, which will admit him to the fair ground during the fair; he will also be entitled to make entries; and he will be permitted to drive his wagon or carriage on the Fair Ground.

The premium list is extensive and the premiums worth competing for. The best sample of bread made by a girl under fourteen years of age, receives a premium of the "Ladies Repository" one year. The best young lady pianist, under 15 years of age, receives the same prize.

SUBSTITUTE FOR AN ICE PITCHER.—People who have no ice pitchers will be glad to know that there is a very simple method of keeping ice water for a long time in a common pitcher. Between two sheets of paper place a layer of cotton batting about half an inch in thickness, and form a cylinder by fastening the ends of the paper and batting together. Then sew or paste a crown on one end, so as to make a box the shape of a stove pipe hat, minus the rim. The cylinder should be made large enough to go entirely over the pitcher, so that the open end will rest upon the table or sideboard, and thus exclude the air. Any one trying this simple method of keeping ice water cool, will be astonished at the length of time it will preserve the coldness of the water.

A FINE SAFE.—The Detroit Safe Company have just completed one of the finest fire and burglar proof safes ever made in this country. It was built for Mr. J. V. Painter, a banker of Cleveland, and cost $2,000. The locks alone cost $900 and are of Sargent's Magnetic Patent. This fine piece of workmanship will be on exhibition at the Company's establishment on Atwater street, between Hastings and Rivard. We advise those of our citizens interested in safes to pay it a visit. To says the Detroit Free Press.

BRUTAL ASSAULT.—A man named Bill Wilcox last evening brutally assaulted a woman named Brown who keeps a saloon on St. Clair street, between Bank and Water streets. He struck her in the face with a broken glass bottle, cutting frightful gashes, and literally cutting off her nose. He is now in the Central Police Station awaiting trial.

CLAIRVOYANTS.—One humbug follows quick upon the heels of another, and magnetic doctresses, clairvoyants, astrologists, doctresses who cure by "laying on of hands," healing mediums, &c., have been blessing(?) the credulous of this city for the past few weeks. One offers through posters stuck up around town—

"One thousand dollars to any one who will equal her in the science. She shows you the likeness of your future wife or husband, and in love affairs she never fails. She has the secret of winning the affections of the opposite sex. She is a Sister of Seven Sisters, born with a natural gift. Being but 24 years of age, she is the most gifted young lady living; in fact, the most remarkable."

Just think what a wonderful "secret" she possesses: "born with a natural gift"—and only 24 years old!

PROF. STEINER BALOONING.—The Cincinnati Commercial says "Professor Steiner started, at about five o'clock yesterday afternoon, on a little pleasure trip through the air and among the clouds. Having occasion to empty his balloon, as it leaked somewhat and needed mending, he concluded to take advantage of the clear weather, and comparatively quiet atmosphere, and make a trip. The air ship arose majestically and steady to the hight of about a mile, and then floated off slowly and gracefully to the east, rising still higher as it traveled. It was watched, with much curiosity, by thousands as it made its way through the other blue, disappeared in the white cloud and reappeared beyond. We presume that the Professor had safe and pleasant trip."

Thousands of certificates testify to the fact that Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor is a positive cure for the worst forms of Piles, curing cases which all other remedies have failed to reach. It costs but 25 cents to try a box, and the results are sure to astonish you. Sold by all druggists. jy12:336

EMANCIPATION CELEBRATION.

West India Emancipation under the Auspices of the Freedmen's Educational Society—Music, Songs and Essays—Address of J. M. Langston, Esq., of Oberlin—Viands, &c.

The Freedmen's Educational Society of this city celebrated the anniversary of the abolition of slavery in the West India Isles by a grand festival at Garrett's Hall last evening. The programme was long and varied, consisting of songs, choruses, essays, and an able address by J. M. Langston, Esq., of Oberlin. Little Johnny Van Epps recited in a very fine spirit and manner T. Buchanan Read's famous poem, "Sheridan's Ride." The programme has already been given, and needs not here to be repeated.

The hall was well filled with a respectable and highly appreciative audience; and the celebration cannot but be called a splendid success in every respect. Some of the essays were decidedly meritorious, and the singing was good. There was beauty there, too—rivals of many city belles.

At the close of Mr. Langston's address he was elected an honorary member of the Freedmen's Educational Society. After the conclusion of the exercises refreshments were served to those who saw fit to remain.

We append a few brief extracts from Mr. Langston's address, regretting exceedingly our inability to present it entire.

He said no one ought to make more than one speech in 24 hours; and had he known that he would have been so imprudent as to make so long a speech at Warren as he had done, he would not have promised to speak here, as he found himself in the poorest conceivable condition for speech-making.

The time is come in the history of the colored people of this country when no one ought to make a speech simply for the sake of speaking. The work before us is of very great import. The work of the colored people of the North is to educate and elevate the colored people of the South. The colored people of the South, and indeed of the North, need a very peculiar education—just as boys and girls are taught in our common schools. The colored people of the South need to be taught what is meant by possession—what is meant by being the owner of oneself.

He had made us once and he expects us to remake ourselves—make ourselves honest industrious and intelligent. Heaven never spoke into existance a Daniel Webster—a Henry Clay—a Demosthenes—or an Eschines. If you would be a Daniel Webster, a Clay or a Demosthenes, exert yourselves. If you would thunder like Cicero, stand up and let your words come forth hot from your heart. God never spoke a Russia, an England, an America or a grand and glorious negro nation into existence. As the white man comes up—advances on and still on—so the black must rise in the scale of Intelligence, education and power. This is the education that the negroes of the South want to understand; and they look to the colored people of the North for example. The difference between great men and little men is that the former possess individuality—have thoughts; but the latter are everybody else in the world but themselves. Abraham Lincoln made his own fortune. He possessed thought. He said it is in me, and by the help of God I'll make it come out, and it did come.

The great thing the colored people of the South have to learn is self-ownership—not merely ownership but the meaning of self-making, and they look for examples to the colored people of Ohio, New York and all the Northern States. The black man of the North must prepare the path for the South.

The people of the South must next be educated HAVING them to the dignity and meaning of self-ownership, they must be taught that their destiny is in their own hands. They must be taught the value of time. No man can innocently throw away a moment, a minute, an hour, a day, or a month. They must also be taught the value of money, but that can be learned with which to make ourselves property. We, too, must learn it; and they must learn from our example. Money is a moral, as well as material power. It raises its possessor, and its want is often the cause of degradation. The representative of dollars and cents is always the one most influential in a community. There is no use in South, or in the South one colored man who can afford to waste one cent for drink or frivolous amusements. I remember standing on the bank of your lake in this city some years ago and begging a young man who had just heired $200 per by the death of a rich father, not to drink intoxicating liquors. He promised, but violated his word. A few days ago I stood by his grave in Leavenworth, Kansas, to which he had been brought by drunkenness and gambling.

If you have money it is your business to employ it for the education and elevation of the colored people South and South. I am glad I have the honor of addressing a society whose object is the enlightenment and aid of the people North as well as South. Teach our people character, and teach them to shun intoxicating liquors.

There was a young man whom I knew. He came into the possession of a large fortune. He gave his life away to wine sometimes a dollar, for blacking his boots. But he commenced drinking and gaming, and I have lived to see him willing to black my boots for ten cents had I asked him. When you get money do not squander it.

The colored people must also be taught the value of character. You want to understand that we are no longer negroes but Americans. We have been called all manner of names. I have always called ourselves Negroes. Perhaps you don't like it. I do. I want it to become synonymous with character.

We are no longer negroes simply—no longer colored people simply, but a part of the great whole of the great American people. The Democrats have been saying "Oh, how ignorant they are!" And the Conservative Republicans have also been saying "Oh, how ignorant they are!" If you would ever become President, Senator or Member of the Legislature, make yourselves worthy, and the trust the people to discover your worth; and then the Democrats and Conservative Republicans will no more go around, saying "how ignorant."

Every man is the moulder and builder of his own destiny. God Almighty set the white man here and the black man at his side, to live together, and labor together since their destinies have become interwoven.

I glory first that I am a black man; second that I am a white man; third that I am a negro; fourth that I am an American citizen; and fifth that I may boldly speak under the protection of this great and noble Republic.

Mr. Langston closed his address, of which we have presented but a very imperfect synopsis, amid enthusiastic cheering.

TOMATOES.—Tomatoes are now coming into market, and, apropos to the fact, here is what a distinguished medical authority says about them:

1st. That the tomato is one of the most powerful aperients of the liver and the other organs, where calomel is indicated; it is one of the most harmless medical agents known to the profession.

2d. That a chemical extract will be obtained from it that will supercede the use of calomel in the cure of disease.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Pence Hath its Victories.—To prevent or conquer disease is a grand achievement; and as surely as bull-t and bayonet will destroy, so surely will BO TETTER'S BITTERS preserve and prolong life.

This is the most trying period of the year. The stamina of the strongest yields more or less to the consuming temperature of midsummer. Vigor runs from every pore. The strength of man passes away in invisible vapor, and weaker women become relaxed and nervous. It was to meet such difficulties that Hostetter's Bitters were given to society. It is to prevent the evil consequences to which an unbraced, depleted, debilitated organization is liable, that they are recommended as a summer TONIC for both sexes. Old people die of exhaustion every day, who might have kept it with all ray for years to come by an occasional resort to this powerful and harmless vegetable stomachic.

Nine-tenths of the community, rich as well as poor, work continuously. If their hands are unemployed their brains are busy, and their work is as depressing to the vital energies as muscular toil. But tone the system with Hostetter's Bitters and the wear and tear of business life will be comparatively unfelt even in the most oppressive weather. No languor will be experienced, for as fast as the vital forces are expended they will be recruited and renewed by this healthful restorative. As a summer Invigorant it is indispensable to young and old. Sold everywhere. jy20

A Remedy for the Piles.—It is a blessing to the suffering to know that we have an effectual cure for this truly troublesome disease. Dr. Hazards, of 164 Second street, Cincinnati, Ohio, takes great pleasure in informing all who are suffering with piles, that he used a small quantity of Dr. Strickland's Pile Remedy, and it effected a permanent cure. This seems to be the case with all who make use of this splendid preparation. It is manufactured at No. 6 East Fourth street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and sold by all Druggists.
