THE BOGUS DRAFT.

How Opponheimer Managed to Cash His Firm's Paper. It transpired yesterday that H. E. Oppenheimer, who ebtained $125 from Hirschfeld & Seldner on a worthless draft, had endeavored previously to cash it with other firms. It appears that on Saturday morning of last week he wen into the tobacco store of Jacob Sanders on Main street, and asked Emil Harris if he did not want to make $2.50 by cashing the draft. Mr. Harris, who did not take much stock in young Oppen-heimer, said that there was no use in not take much stock in young Oppenheimer, said that there was no use in giving him $2 50 for cashing the draft when he could go to the bank and get it done for lifty cents. He refused to be persuaded to cash the draft, and Oppenheimer departed. That afternoon he again appeared at the store and saw Mr Sanders, whom he asked to cash the draft. Mr. Sanders refused to do so, and then Oppenheimer wished him to go to the Farmera' and Merchants' Bank and identify him. Mr. Sanders consented to this sand they went to the bank, but they refused to cash it there unless it was endorsed, Mr. Sanders was not there to endorse the draft so that scheme fell through. Later in the afternoon Oppenheimer again asked Mr Sanders to cash the draft. He refused to do so but finally consented to cash it if it was endorsed by good names. Oppenheimer then went over to Mr. Scidner, who cashed the mote, and after he had received the money he returned to Mr. Sanders' store ostensibly to change it into green backs, but in reality to show that he had it.

backs, but in reality to show that he had it.

It also transpired yesterday that young Oppenheimer has been living here about four weeks, and during that time has borroved considerable money, besides selling his samples, which he obtained from H. Webster & Co., of New York. His reputation at San Francisco is not of the very best, as the letter from his parents sent to Mr. Seldner testifies. If he took the route indicated by the tickets which he purchased he would have been arrested there, but Mr. Seldner prefers to wait until he arrives in New York before he takes such steps.

THE FLANKER FEETIVAL.

THE FLOWER FESTIVAL.

Leaves and Lilies Wanted by the Ladies.

The work of decorating the Pavilion for the coming Flower Festival is pro-gressing very rapidly, and early next week everything will be in order. The ladies have been laboring hard, and it was almost a herculean feat they had on their hands to take an unfinished building and put it in good shape in so short a time. The public generally take a great interest in the progress of this work, and nearly every hour in the day a great interest in the progress of this work, and nearly every hour in the day a number of visitors are to be seen looking about the huge building. This indicates that there will be a very large attendance, and that the young ladies will have all they can do to supply their customers with flowers and ice cream In order that everybody may be accommodated with tickets they have been placed on sale at Day & Brown's, P. Luzurus, Mr. Bartlett's and S. A. Widney's place of business. These tickets have all been stamped and it should be the duty of every purchaser to see that his or her ticket is properly stamped. Everybody who has a garden should contribute towards the decoration of the building. This morning the ladies desire all the pepper tree leaves and palm leaves that can be furnished and those who can not deliver them will confer a favor upon the ladies if they will send word to the pavilion where to call for the leaves. It should also be remembered that on May morning 15,000 lilies and 45,000 lily leaves and thousands of marguerites will be wanted. Every citizen should contribute from his garden towards making this occasion one of which the city may be proud.

A large and appreciative audience gathered last evening at the Los Angeles Musical College, when an attractive programme was most excellently rendered. Especial mention should be made of the astonishing talent displayed at the piano by Mi·s Ethel Stewart, a young lady of only 6 years of age, as also of Miss Lilly only 6 years of age, as also of Mass Lully Sargent, a bright young miss of about 8 years of age, for the artistic manner in which she rendered some selections. Miss Mollie Adelia Brown graced the occasion with several songs, which were delightfully rendered, especially the Convent song of Falks. All the other young ladies acquitted themselves in an excellent manner, showing that they had devoted themselves earnestly to their studies.

That Robbery Case. examination of Charles B

Ernest Montgomery and Willie Fallor occupied Justice Austin's entire atten-tion yesterday afternoon. These youth are charged with having attempted to are charged with having attempted to rob T. W. Melton on the Aliso street bridge about two weeks ago, when one of them was out on the face by Melton, who claims he was defeading himself. Melton, who was on the stand all after-moon, contradicted the story of the boys told at that time, that they were only trying to frighten him as a joke. The case was continued until to-day.

Incorporated.

The American Rapid Transit Construc tion Company, incorporated for the pur-pose of contracting for the construction pose of contracting for the construction and building of electric railways, known as the Rose Elevated Electric Railways, filed articles with the County Clerk yesterday. The directors are H. G. Rollins, T. R. Bennington and J. K. Mulkey of this city; D. Gilbert Dexter, of San Diego; A. E. Clark and J. H. Bryant, of St. Paul, Mion. The capital stock is $500,000, divided into fifty thousand $10 shares. Of this amount $300,000 is actually subscribed.

The Cowles Sentenced. Florence Cowles and George Cowles the parents who were convicted of inhu sentenced vesterday by Justice Austin to sentenced yesterday by Justice Austin to ninety days in the county jail. It is said that the baby who was in such a horrible condition when discovered was doing somewhat better yesterday, owing to the good treatment it has been receiving. It was the general opinion yesterday that the sentence was none too heavy for the parents, who have inspired everybody with the greatest disgust. "ARCADIA."

A HERALD reporter yesterday met one in a position to know something about the matter, and who stated that Mr. E. J. Baldwin had ordered ties, rails and J. Baldwin had ordered ties, rails and rolling-stock for a railroad to run from the lower end of the town site to the base of the mountains, where his big hotel is to go. The ground needs no grading and there is plenty of granite gravel to thoroughly ballast the roadbed. After the material arrives only a few days will be required to lay it and put the affair in full motion. Areadia is to be pushed ahead of all the colonies in the county. A year hence it will be a a city of no mean pretensions.

A Colored Brother Speaks.

EDITOR HERALD.—We notice through your columns of the 8th inst., the appointment of twenty deputies made by the County Recorder; also several made the County Recorder; also several made some time ago by the County Clerk; and more yet to be made by other branches of the county officers, all of which are Republican, and we fail to see where any of our colored brothers, amongst whom there are several who are capable of filling such positions, have been appointed. In the last session of the Legislature the Senate, which was Democratic, appointed five colored men, and the Assembly, which was Republican, appointed five colored men, and the Assembly, which was Republican, appointed five colored men who hold minor offices. Three were appointed by Democrata and one by Republicans. What does our white Republicans brother think of it? We are waiting for further developments, when we will again be heard from.
