Terminal Railway Rates-Visitors to Catalina. PASADENA, July 31.—At the Monday afternoon meeting of the city council the following communication was received from General Manager J. B. Burnett of the Terminal railroad:

"I regret that I am compelled to request your board to again postpone the consideration of the question of fares for another week, as our attorney, T. E. Gibbon, has not yet returned. He has been in Washington, exerting himself in a matter of importance to all Southern California, and will not reach home for two or three days yet. In a matter of so much importance to us, it is of conse-quence necessary that we should clearly understand what our legal obligations are before committing ourselves to any action, and I have no doubt your board will allow us the opportunity of consulting our attorney before definite action is filed, and the request granted.

There has been considerable complaint about the non-action of the council in this matter, and it is to be hoped that there will be no further delay. The rates should come down or the ordinance be thrown up.

The council also ordered at the same meeting that the space between the street car tracks and for two feet on each side be paved on Fair Oaks, between Colorado and Union, and that the work be done at the same time the rest of the street is being paved. This matter is a most important one as it is desirable that the work should all be done at once in order to insure a good

Catalina continues to attract large numbers from Pasadena, and the crowd of visitors grows larger as the season advances. Reports from the island show that Pasadena fishermen are string 1400 pounds, credited up to them as the result of one day's catch. Mesers. Bell and J. S. wash. He got his pan and soon washed out two and a half ounces of pure gold worth $16.50 per ounce. It is supposed there is a large body of this gold-bearing sand close by, and consequently a number of prospectors are out hunting for the ledge from where the gold-bearing comes. There is quite a little excitement at Capistiano in regard to the find, but they are trying to keep it as quiet as possible. Our informant was loth to tell us much about it. There is gold there, but we would advise people not to rush in and get excited over it, but wait developments.

in Gold.

New York, July 31.—Late this after noon Lazard Freres received a cablegram from Lazard Freres et Cie, Paris, confirming the exclusive report of the Associated Press announcing a cask containing $50,000 in gold was missing from the consignment of 40 casks shipped on the French line steamer La Touraine.

the French line steamer La Touraine.

An Associated Press reporter who inquired into the facts connected with the missing treasure learned that the casks were transferred from the steamer La Touraine at Havre to the railway for shipment to Paris. The officers of the railway company gave the steamship company a receipt for the gold and placed it in a locked and sealed van in charge of a special clerk. On the arrival of the train at Paris the wagon containing the gold was taken to the goods department of the railroad and the consigness were advised of its whereabouts.

M. Lazard said: "When our clerks applied for the delivery of the 40 casks consigned to us there was no sign that the van or seal had been tampered with, but only 39 casks were found. We telephoned to Havre and received repliag that everything had been properly verithat everything had been properly veri-fied and receipts given."

The station master at the Gare street lazare was asked to give the railway company's views. He said that as soon company's views. He said that as soon as the discovery was made that the consignment was not complete two efficials of the company and two detectives were sent to Havre to make inquiries. It was impossible, he asserted, that the cask could have been stolen during its transit from Havre to Paris. He said he doubted if there had been a robbery, and he would not be surprised if the missing gold had been left on board the steamer.

It seems certain that most of these fires were of incendiary origin. Two that were in woodyards in the north part of the city were certainly so. One evidence of incendiariem was the discovery of the cutting of hose at critical moments. Only the utmost vigilance and the fact that there was little wind prevented a general conflagration.
