CRIME IN THE FAMILY.

JOHN CRAIG'S FATHER IS ACCUSED OF A MURDER.

The Father Was Himself Killed, Although by Accident-Story of the Affair From Ohio.

The awful murders of ex-Policeman John Craig, who killed his wife, his father-in-law and mother-in-law, William and Mrs. Hunter, and wounded his brother-in-law, George Hunter, has recalled a murder in the Craig family, committed 23 years ago. John Craig's father William, according to the news from the old home, killed a man named Walters at Middletown,

The following history of the crime is taken from the Signal of that place:
"Word was received in this city today announcing that John Craig of Los Angeles had killed his father in-law, James Hunter, and then attempted to kill him-self. The Craig family formerly lived among the hills of Wayne township.
They were quite wealthy and the family stood high in this community.
"About the year 1870 William Oraig, then a comparatively young man, got into an altercation with Daniel P. Walters, a neighboring farmer. They had been warm friends, but a single reflec-tion on Walters' part broke the friend-ship and the feeling between them grew acrimonious.

One day in the hot month of July the two men met. Craig was going after the doctor for his sick child, John, when he was intercepted by Walters on the streets of the village, they grappled. Walters, being the stronger man, threw Craig to the pavement, and was on top f him when Craig drew a revolver and fired. Walters loosed his hold, rose to his knees and fell back, dead.

"A number of trials in the courts of Butler county resulted in Craig's acquittal, Thomas Millikin being his attorney. The family shortly afterward moved west, but filled with remorse the ghost of his murdered victim haunted Craig to his death, which resulted from a great rick of cord wood toppling over on him, pinioning him in a hundred places. His family scattered to the four winds of the earth, and little Johnny for whom the father sought the doctor on that eventful day is now to answer for an awful deed in the far away coun-Beautiful Bellevue Terrace, the finest try on the Pacific coast.

"Verily the sine of the father are visited upon the family even unto the third and fourth generation."

Kenneth Bazemore had the good fortun to receive a small bottle of Cham-berlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy when three members of his family were sick with dysentery. This one small bottle cured them all, and he Baker, a prominent merchant of the place, Lewiston, N. C., and it cured him of the same complaint. When troubled with dysentery, diarrhea, colic, or chol era morbus, give this remedy a trial and you will be more than pleased with the result. The praise that naturally follows result. The praise that naturally follows its introduction and use has made it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Off & Vaughn, Fourth and Spring; O. F. Heinzeman, 222 N. PRICE'S THIN DEFENSE.

He Tries to Shunt His Crime on an In- The Accident at San Fernando Tuesday nocent Man.

Leo Price, a young colored man, tried McKinley presiding, but the facts were caused by an explosion in a shaft. too much for him. He was charged with stealing $115 from a safe in the barber shop of George P. Loos, under the United States hotel, the night of April 24th last. The night in question Mr. Loos put the money in the safe but forgot to lock the door. George Snee, a colored man who worked in the shop called Price's attention to the door being left open, and closed it, but did not turn the combination.

That night Price slept with him in the shop, and he says that the next morning he found Price and the money gone. He was caught at Santa Monica a day or two afterwards.

a day or two afterwards.

It was found that Price, at 5:30 o'clock the morning after the robbery, routed a shoemaker named Bates out of bed and left $90 with him to take care of. He told Bates he won $93 the night before at Chinese lottery. He had other money with him which he said was his own.

Price told a very flimsy story about the affair. He denied sleeping at the barber shop the night of the robbery. He was there and saw Loos put the money in the saie and heard Snee call attention to the open door, and the latter, hetsaid, called it his money. Snee wanted him to go to Santa Monica the next day and agreed to meet him at the shop at 5 o'clock to see whether he could go. When he reached there the next morning Snee, he claimed, handed him $100 to keep for him, and told him to take $10 of this to gamble with at Santa Monica. This very diaphanous atory did not go down with the jury. They were out half an hour before agreeing upon a verdict of guilty. Judge McKinley set Saturday for Price's

BREAKFAST—SUPPER.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural lews which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocos, Mr. Eppa has p-orded for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to discass. Hunareds of subtle malad es are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourse ves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—(Ivil Service dazette.
