On the denial of said protest and overruling of said objections your honorable body to pass the ordinance ordering the work if you so see fit, which said ordinance is herewith prewhich said ordinance is herewith presented.

In the matter of the grading, etc., of Chestnut street from lot 5, block 7 of the Hamilton tract, to Pasadena avenue, it appears that these proceedings are irregular, from the fact that the grade of the street was not established at the time of the commencement of these proceedings, and for this reason I would recommend to your honorable body the passage of a formal order abandoning the proceedings in order to clear the record.

The above report will be acted upon by the council at the regular weekly session to be held on Tuesday.

A Seventh Ward School Site Which Had

It looked for a time yesterday as if there would after all be a slip up to provent the signing of the contracts by the city with Mackay & Young for the erection of the proposed new school buildings. The owners of the site at the northwest corner of Omar and Boyd streets, in the Seventh ward, had to confess at the last moment that they could not turn over to the city a clear title to the property. City Attorney Dunn, after a consultation with the school building committee of the council and with Councilman Ashman, in whose bailiwick the site is located, agreed to accept in place of the corner lots offered the inside frontage directly adjoining, which is equal in size to the land which but to be excepted.

Ah Pong Brought a Tale of Woe to the City Hall Yesterday Morning
Ah Fong, a neat appearing Chinaman was at the city hall yesterday morning for the purpose of interrogating Councilman Savage. The latter was invisible and the Mongolian was prevailed upon to tell his tale of woe to President Teed. Fong's story was to the effect that some police officer, whose name the Chinaman gave game on Los Angeles street, compelling every player to pay $4 a month tribute for protection. There is no such officer as Jackson on the force. The matter is being officially investigated.
