Congressman McLachlan Given a Welcome Home

REPUBLICANS

Express Their Satisfaction With What Has Been Done

Doings in the Social World-An Unsuccessful Attempt at Suicide-Dunham Remains Uncaught-Brevitles

PASADENA, June 25.-The large mu sic room of the Green hotel was crowded last evening when Congressman James McLachlan of this district was given a reception in honor of his return from Washington. Besides Pasadena people of all parties and political beliefs there were visitors from Los Angeles, most of them members of the Young Men's Republican league. At the head of the hall the American flag was displayed and music was furnished by an orches tra from the Pasadena band.

The company was called to order by Captain Simpson of the committee on arrangements. It was gratifying, he said, to welcome Mr. McLachlan home with the knowledge that he had honorably discharged his trust, had kept all his pledges and was worthy the confidence of the people.

Captain Simpson called upon Mr. W E. Arthur for the formal address of welcome. Mr. Arthur said that the gathering was in a neighborly spirit, its object to do honor to a faithful servant on a non-partisan basis. Ever since Mr. McLachlan's arrival here the Pasadena people have delighted to honor him. He was first elected to the office of assist ant district attorney, then to the district attorneyship and finally to congress to represent the greatest district of the Though he had been once beaten by an unholy alliance of Populists, Democrats and Prohibitionists the people had not lost confidence in him, but had sent him to represent a district that has more seaboard than any Atlantic state. His course in congress had been straight forward and honorable and we extend to him the greeting of friends.

At the conclusion of the long applause which followed Mr. Arthur's address Mr. McLachlan replied. He had first come to Pasadena eight years ago, thinking that he had made a fortune from a real estate investment, which he negotiated while in the east. He had come upon his wedding trip and had return tickets purchased. The real estate investment proved an utter failure and Mr. Mc-Lachlan was persuaded by Judge J. G. Rossiter to remain in Pasadena. He sold his railroad tickets for $40, and with this is railroad tickets for $40, and with he and his wife set up housekeeping. He had felt very insignificant when in the presence of the great men of congress. He was proud of his district and did all in his power to its improvement. He had done his best to carry out his pledges, and judging by the heartiness pledges, and judging by the heartiness of his reception he thought he must have attained a measure of success.

Governor Markham upon being called on for a few remarks by the chairman was greeted with applause. He was glad to join in with a word of congratulation and greeting to Mr. McLachlan. Having had some experience himself in congress he could appreciate the difficulties that confronted the new member. He had learned while in Washington recently that the member from the Sixth cently that the member from the Sixth district stood high among his fellows. If the people want increased efficiency in their representation they should reelect Mr. McLachlan this fall. It takes about two terms for a congressman to become fitted for his duties, and the best thing that could be done would be to elect the present representative by a large majority, so that his contemporar-ies would feel that he was worthy of re-

The closing speech was made Mr. W. C. Patterson, president of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce. Having visited Washington in the interests of the San Pedro appropriation, he had learned that Mr. McLachlin bore a reputation there above criticism. He had been misjudged and misunderstood concerning the harquestion. He was glad to testify Mr. McLachlan's loyalty to his pledges.

The company then broke up for a short session of social intercourse and the en-joyment of refreshments in the form of lemonade and fruit punch, which were

A SURPRISE PARTY.

Miss Alberta Newby and Miss Callie Silver, who leave shortly for the east, were pleasantly and completely taken by surprise by a number of their friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newby, on North Marengo avenue, last evening. Nine tables were prepared for the playing of cinch. The ladies' first prize, a dainty vase, was won by Miss Newby. The gentlemen's first prize, a silver pocket knife, was won by B. O. Kendall. The Misses Ayers and Craig won the consolation prizes, two neatly bound volumes. Music was discoursed by the Mandolin and Guitar club, and dancing was enjoyed after the game, supplemented with the serving of refreshments. Those present were: A SURPRISE PARTY.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

A. H. Macomber, a painter, who resides on Illinois street, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by taking a large dose of morphine. He swallowed the drug before his wife could stay his hand. Dr. Bickford was immediately summoned, and, with the use of emetics, the painter's life was saved. He is a drinking man and had some trouble weighing upon his mind, which, combined with his besotted condition, led him to the deed. He at first tried a revolver, but finding it unleaded took the morphine which he ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

RIVERSIDE

Trouble Among the Republican Brethren
Social and Personal RIVERSIDE, June 25.—There is trouble among the Republicans of Riverside. In the last county convention the masses of the party quietly went to work and completely turned down the 'old gang," who have been dominating the party for the last fifteen or twenty care was not taken which should have been to clinch the victory in re-electing delegates to the state convention and the delegates fell down to the "old gang" and gave them in that convention just what they would have themselves taken had they been elected as delegates to the state convention. Naturally enough those who had controlled the convention and who had without doubt represented four-fifths of the party in the county, felt sore over having their good work all dashed to the ground by those whom they trusted as delegates, and the breech widens. A meeting was called for Wednesday to form a Young Men's Re-publican club, the call having been enpublican club, the call having been engineered by those who have no use for anything or any one not to be used in the interest of the old bosses. This renewed the displeasure of the party, and since the call was issued the air has been made blue. There were just thirteen persons all told at the meeting, and Boss W. U. Phelps thought it best to adjourn for a larger meeting, and a committee for a larger meeting, and a committee. for a larger meeting, and a committee on organization was appointed, all of whom are avowedly with the old ring. A club organized on these lines will accomplish, if anything, only disruption in the party in the county.

M. J. Burke will have served his ninety days in jail next Saturday for a violation of the prohibition ordinance, the principal portion of the past year having been spent in Hotel de Wilson, and it is given out that as soon as he is free he will shake the dust of Riverside from his feet and take up his residence in a more congenial community—San Bernadino. POMONA, June 25.—Yesterday occurred the graduating exercises of Pomona college at Claremont, the chapel being filled with interested friends and students. Above the rostrum was the class motto, "Row, not drift." and grouped on the platform were the members of the executive committee, the faculty and the members of the graduating class. The invocation was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Day of Los Angeles, and was followed by music. Arthur McDonald Dole of Pomona delivered an opening oration on "The Yankee," de-scribing him to be a hard worker, and he said that it was this energy of his that has made our nation what it is to-day. Harlow James Phelps argued that the detective system of the country was an ever active lie that could not be dean ever active system of the country was an ever active lie that could not be defended. Mr. Avery Turner Searle on the subject The Issue, showed how the great reformers of the world were the motive power that was moving the world on toward the higher and better civilization. Miss Dillon next sang a solo, Oh, For the Wings of a Dove, which was followed by Mr. William Sterling of Redlands, upon American Citizenship, recounting the dangers which confront us as a country, and saying that liberty was too priceless a boon to be jeopardized by inactivity and indifference to our dangers. Mr. Lucius M. Tolman discussed the subject of Economic Entomology. We have, he said, the reputation of being a practical people, characterized by hard business sense, and yet we allow dangers which are threatening our orchards to pass without affording them any help in the way of any well-organized system to do away with fruit bests. The last oration

1. Are you a good salesman?
2. Why do some men succeed in almost any kind of dramming, while others fail
Almost all business men are salesmen in some form or other. There is an old maxim: "When you buy keep one eye on the goods and the other on the seller; on the buyer." If you would learn the secret read this department
