Tillman here came in, to call the at tention of his "Democratic brethren" to the rates they had been given in the Drink Health to England's Wilson bill to certain raw materials If this was a fraud, then the present contest over taxing raw materials was merely as to the amount of the fraud. Then Tillman added: "And I say plainly, if we are going to have this stealing want my share for South Carolina." There was a momentary sensation over the vehemence of Tillman's remark. Burrows of Michigan attempted to bring the debate back to the flax questhat article. Stewart made a general argument in support of a duty on raw material. He aserted that any other course was contrary to the last Democratic platform. Stewart said the money uestion was the real question.

NELISON'S AMENDMENT WASHINGTON, June 18 .- Senator Nelson of Minnesota has prepared an anti-trust amendment which he offer to the tariff bill, and which he thinks will meet the objections that have been made to other amendments of a similar character. It is as follows:

Every person, firm or corporation who shall monopolize or engross, or attempt to monopolize or engross, or who shall combine or conspire with any other person, firm or corporation to monopolize or engross the trade or commerce in raw or refined sugar of any kind among the several states or foreign nations, for the purpose of unduly enhancing the price of sugar, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by fine of not less than $500 or more than not less than six months nor more than two years, or by both said punishments, in the discretion of the court. And in case of a corporation found guilty of and find what officers of the corporation caused or directed the corporation to commit such offense, and such officers on being found guilty of causing or directing the corporation to commit the offense of which it is found guilty, shall be liable to the punishment aforesaid. It shall be sufficient pleading in the indictment to describe the offense in the language of this law, and the fact that a manufacturer or refiner of sugar refuses to sell his sugar to the public, in interstate or foreign trade otherwise than through special factors or agents, shall be deemed prima facie evidence of monopolizing or attempting to monopolize the trade in sugar among the severa! states or with foreign nations. The several circuit courts of the United States are hereby invested with jurisdiction to prevent and restrain violations of this law and it shall be the duty of the several district attorneys of the United States in their respective districts under the direction of the attorney-general, to institute proceedings in equity to prevent and restrain such violations. Such proceedings may be by way of petition such violation shall be enjoined or otherwise prohibited. REGIMENT

No Two Agree, But Each Has an Interesting Reminiscence of the Diamond King

OAKLAND, June 18 .- Fred Holturn who lives in Berkeley, denies the story told by the sister of Barney Barnato that her brother never played in a circus. Holturn says he and Barnato performed together in the same ring in London many years ago.

"I first met Isaacs, or Barnato, as he afterwards called himself, while working in John Holturn's Royal London Circus, many years ago. Isaacs and his brother Jake joined the circus at Leeds My brother John, the 'cannon ball king, did an act where he was shot at by cannon, which I fired. Barnato held the ropes that bound my brother. John would give the order to fire at his head. At the word 'fire' Barnato was supposed to let loose the ropes so that my brothe could catch the cannon ball.

"On one occasion young Isaacs, or Barnato, became 'rattled,' and at the signal 'fire' he did not loosen his hold or the rope, but tightened it instead. The big ball plowed along the top of John's head and left him with an ugly scalp wound. "From that moment to this I have never laid eves upon Barnato and his two brothers. The two Isaacs, as we then called them, did not even wait to dray the salary due them, and we never hear! of Barney again until his African successes, which made him world-famous."

ANOTHER BROTHER BUFFALO, June 18 .- Samuel Barnett, serving a sentence in the Erie county penitentiary for assault, declares he is a brother of Barney Barnato. He says Roland Barnett of Montreal, who also claimed that he was a brother of the "Diamond King," is his brother, and a Chicago woman calling herself Alice Esther he believes to be his sister, Alice Esther Barnett, who went to Africa several years ago to keep house for Barney. Since then he had lost all track of both.
