

COMPLETE PROGRAM

GRAND MARSHAL'S ORDERS FOR THE FOURTH OF JULY

The Line of March and the Divisions That Will Illuminate the Parade

The complete program for the most extensive celebration of the Fourth of July ever held in Los Angeles follows:

The day will open with a salute of 45 guns at sunrise. The parade will be formed on Fifth Street between Main and Eighth streets, along Main street, beginning at 8:50 a. m., and will proceed as prescribed in the orders of the grand marshal.

Line of March
The parade will start from Eighth street at 10 o'clock, and will proceed on Main street north to Temple block, then south on Spring street to Sixth, then west on Sixth to Olive, thence north on Olive to Fifth, thence east on Fifth to Broadway, thence north on Broadway to the court house, where it will disband. The parade will be reviewed at the city hall by the mayor and guests, the grand marshal, the division marshal and the aids.

Formation of the Parade
The column will consist of eleven divisions, each headed by a division marshal and his staff, a band of music and the national colors, borne alternately by Union and Confederate veterans, and will march in the following order: John M. Glass, mounted. Chief of Police. Platoon of mounted police. American Pipe and Drum corps. Platoon Police Rifles, with flag. Grand Marshal Johnstone Jones. Chief of Staff Frank T. Barnes. SISTERS' SCHOOL
Forty-Second Annual Commencement Exercises
The forty-second annual commencement of the Sisters' school of Los Angeles was held Thursday. At the entrance march 400 pupils, all attired in white, kept perfect time with the music. The fifty mothers of this school, on the other side, were dressed in blue from 2 to 5 years. The long and interesting program was given without a hitch or fault. From first to last the spirit of joy and to the flag was prominent. "The Star-Spangled Banner," in pantomime, rendered by the Delarste class and the flag drill by the juveniles were exceedingly effective. Bishop Montgomery conferred the graduation honors upon Margaret Miller, Ynez Evans and Ethel Jones, presenting, at the same time, a gold medal to each and placing upon their heads the crown of laurel honorably won by patient, persistent effort. The closing address was given by Bishop Montgomery, the keynote of which was: "What shall we do with our boys and girls?" pressing home the fact that labor is honorable, and next to the love for God and country, this idea should be instilled into every young heart.

UNKNOWN ASSAILANT
C. H. Oliver was Savagely Assaulted on Spring Street
Chas. H. Oliver, a laborer, was attacked on Spring street near Third by an unknown man last night shortly after 11 o'clock and knocked nearly insensible. His assailant escaped capture. There appears to be some mystery connected with the case, as Oliver refused to say anything concerning the affair, although this might have been because he was badly dazed. Oliver had been drinking rather heavily, and as he was passing the excavation of the new Sunston block on Spring street a man stepped on him and struck him violently with his fist on the left cheek under the eye, knocking him down. The assailant then started to run south on Spring street and a yell was raised to capture him. The fellow turned into Third street and started in the direction of Broadway. Harry Lowe, better known as "Shorty," was driving his hack along Spring street when he heard the crowd call. Lowe lashed his horses into a run after the fellow, but the latter turned south into Broadway and when he found that his pursuers were overtaking him he darted into a little alleyway on the north side of the Methodist church, jumped a fence and escaped by running over into Hill street.

Maine Now at Large
Justice Owens continued the case against Robert D. Maine, charged with threats to kill, yesterday, to be reset, Maine in the meanwhile being given his liberty on his own recognizance. Maine is alleged to have threatened to kill his divorced wife, but it is probable the case will not be tried as long as Maine behaves himself and does not try to annoy the woman.

Finger Cut Off
Charles White of 608 East Eighth street, an employe on the oil wells, applied at the receiving hospital last evening for treatment. While reaching under a defective lathe to adjust some of the machinery the most of the fore finger of White's right hand was cut off. Dr. Hagan had to amputate the remainder of the finger. The department responded to an alarm from box 377, at the corner of Yale and Bernard streets, last night, shortly after 8 o'clock. An oil well on Bernardo street caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished before the department arrived, no damage being done.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT LAST EVENING

Hazard's Pavilion Crowded With an Enthusiastic Audience—Nine Diplomas Awarded

Hazard's pavilion was filled last evening with the largest audience that has graced any similar occasion. It was the twenty-seventh annual commencement of the Los Angeles high school. The pavilion had been dressed in its Fourth of July colors. The Seventh Regiment orchestra, varied the program with patriotic and other musical numbers.

The curtain rose at 8:30, with the large graduating class seated in tiers in the center—sixty young women, attired in white mull and Swiss gowns, simply made, alternating in the front rows with the twenty-seven young men, eighty-nine in all. John A. Morlarty stepped at once to the front of the stage and made a clear, practical and well-delivered address on the "Disposition of the Philippines." The practical shifted to the metaphysical when Miss Stella Knight followed, an oration on "Seeing the Invisible." Miss Laura D. Gray had a definite purpose in mind in her earnest plea for "Our School Library."

Miss Edith S. Miller followed on "Dickens' Child World." B. Frank Kierulf closed the students' orations with "The Future of our nation." The address of the evening was given by Professor Foshey and dealt with the educational problems of the day and the growth of the system from the simplicity of the past to the complexity and advantage of the present.

Professor Housh talked straight to the point in a brief address, stating the crowded condition of the High school building, which has been seated from attic to cellar to accommodate its 1400 pupils in space intended for probably half that many. There are more pupils enrolled in it than in any high school in San Francisco, and Los Angeles should have two buildings, one in the north and one in the south part of the city. The speaker then briefly presented the class to Charles Cassat Davis, president of the board of education, who in a short address awarded the diplomas to the graduates.

A UNION MURDER
Well-Known Chicago Labor Leader Killed—Lured to a Meeting
CHICAGO, July 1.—John J. Finnegan, President of the American Federation of Steam Engineers, died at the county hospital as a result of a fractured skull, supposed to have been inflicted by some of the Stone Cutters' Union. He was found unconscious on the third floor of 183 Washington street, and it is thought he had been hurled down stairs from the floor above. John A. Weber, a member of Finnegan's association, was assaulted by the same men and is at home with a broken leg. For several months the Stone Cutters' Union has had a grievance against the engineers who are employed in stone yards. A committee from each union was to settle the difficulty.

HICKORY CLUB
Business and Pleasure Combined at Last Night's Meeting
The Hickory club held a meeting last night at which the following vice presidents were elected: First ward, D. K. Trask; Second ward, Jacob Guhrts; Third ward, C. S. O'Brien; Fourth ward, Julius M. Krause; Fifth ward, F. R. Hill; Sixth ward, John P. Moran; Seventh ward, Geo. Furstch; Eighth ward, J. B. Fulton; Ninth ward, H. W. Patton.

ROYAL LIVES IN DANGER
The Czarina of Russia Poisoned With Arsenic
LONDON, July 1.—A special dispatch from Bucharest, capital of Roumania, referring to the report from Vienna on June 25, that Count and Countess Zuanoff, said to have been respectively chamberlain of the czar and lady-in-waiting to the czarina, had been arrested on a charge of attempting to poison their Majesties, says: "The czarina showed signs of slow poisoning from arsenic which had been administered daily to her in cups of coffee by the lady-in-waiting. The czarina," the dispatch adds, "is very unpopular and is frequently dubbed 'The German.'"
