PAYNE WINS FOR HIS NEW OWNER

BEATS JUDGE DENTON IN THE FEATURE EVENT

Invictus Interferes With Akela and Is Placed Last-Three Heavily Played Favorites Go Down to Defeat

By Forest Lowry

Judge Denton was beaten in peculis fashion yesterday afternoon by Tir Payne in the race which he appeared to have at his mercy. The condition made the event a natural handicap six furlongs. It was for three-year olds and upwards, non-winners of more than four races since September 1994. Blue Coat and Tim Hurst wer well, but Tim Hurst and Blue Coat passed him going to the half and opened up a space of three lengths on the upper turn. This Judge Dention | Albert Enright 3. gradually reduced, coming down the stretch. The leaders swung wide, but hung on to one another closely. Tim hung on to one another closely. Tim Payne in going not exactly to his liking came up on the outside and soon had the entire field standing on their heads. Judge Denton was in on the rail where he had gone to save ground. He looked all over the winner at the paddock, but while he was racing Tim Hurst and Blue Coat down Payne got up under powerful handling and won with something to spare. Tim Payne was never considered seriously, far as the betting was concerned and went to the post at 7 to 2. Judge Denton was always favorite.

There was hardly a bettor on the track that did not think that Parker and Thwaite's Fossil was certainly the goods in the one-mile race fourth or the card. Fossil was in with a fair crowd and had weighed off. He was well played at short odds and prominent during the race for six fur longs. When asked to go on he was not there and Emperor of India, com-ing up on the inside, scored an easy victory, with Fossil stopping to nothrace over a distance which was a trifle too far for him, finished third.

The Free Handicap steeplechase, first on the program, brought out a field of seven jumpers. Cazador was installed favorite and rules supremely short price of 3 to Flea at 4, Lanark at 7 and Jim Boze represented the backed starters while Ed Lanigan, Decimo and Au tumntime went to the post unbacked At the first jump the boy on Autumn time fell off. The field ran well up to Lanigan and Lanark ran out. Bozeman was in the lead and would have been a dangerous contender had the horse stayed in the course.

Jimmy Coffey's Cloche d'Or found a track exactly to her liking and won the second race on the card at the good odds of 8 to 1. Dorice was second and Great Mogul third. Dorice had a world of early speed, but ran disgracefully in going that suits he Barney Schreiber's Buchanan beat : shifty field in the fifth race and scored at the liberal price of 7 to 1. Edinat the liberal price of 7 to 1. Edin-borough, the favorite, failed to run in the money. Agnes Mack was second and Effenyeseenes third.

ond, but was disqualified and placed last. Akela was backed for a good BOOKMAKERS HAVE GOOD thing at 3 to 5.

The steeplechase race proved a joke. Autumntime threw his rider at the first jump, and after the field cleared the water jump Jim Bozeman, Flea and Decimo ran outside of the course, but returned and finished.

BERT NOT TO ATTEND MEETING OF NATIONAL BASEBALL COMMISSION

Rumor Has It That Seattle Will Trade Grandpa George Van Haltren for Hildebrand or Waldron

The Pacific Coast Baseball league of the national commission which is to be held at Cincinnati this month. Baseball magnates from all over the United States will be there, and President Bert of the Pacific league would attend, but he will be prevented by a case which he has in court, which makes it impossible for him to leave California.

At this meeting the minor leagues will appear before the commission, consisting of Pulliam, Johnson and Herr-man, to urge the adoption of the new drafting rule. Though Ban Johnson has come out strong against it, President Bert thinks that Pulliam and Herrman will vote with the minors.

in Los Angeles seem to think that Grandpa George Van Haltren will not be on the Seattle team this year. However, Manager Hall has not as yet given out anything definite in regard to the matter. There are rumors of a trade with San Francisco for either Hildebrand or Waldron. That would be a great trade for Seattle, but Uncle least not until Parke Wilson has cast a spell over uncle and reminded him that about eighteen years ago Van was probably about the best southpaw fielder in the business.

Some of his catches on the Polo grounds are still talked of in York, and while on the coast he many times brought the fans to their feet by making seemingly impossible connections with the ball. George might have a renewal of youth in San Francisco, but the cold winds and fogs of Puget sound kinked the old boy

Blankenship, who caught for the Siwashes last year, will wear a Cincinnati uniform next season. Before the close of the past season he was fined $100 and suspended for the rest of the year for assaulting a sporting writer, who had handed him a well deserved "Blankenship loses nearly $100 roast. in salary," says the Cleveland Leader. This would be all right if it was true, but it's a fake, for the suspension did not stick after the team left Seattle. The magnates were simply having their little joke when they made their dec-laration against rowdyism. The action of the Cleveland club in deciding to send its six regular pitchers and two catchers to Hot Springs for several wecks' training before the entire team assembles is an important innovation. After a thorough boiling out process and plenty of work the twirlers should be in midsummer form when they join the team. This will aid materially in developing the batting of the club.

The "Bookies" Got There Yesterday—We'll Get Ours Today

Never saw it happen any other way than that a good day always follows a bad. And by that token I'm due today to relieve the layers, made buoyant by a single day's success, of their ill-gotten wealth of yesterday.

Broke Bad for Me Yesterday

My AD wouldn't be complete without a word or two of advice; and for the benefit of my clients and the racing public in general, which may itself be a trille skeptical. I want to state emphatically that when I have WINNERS I publish them in my AD the next day, and you can bet every dollar you have on earth that whatever WINNERS I publish, there are hundreds of clients who received them and will verify my statement.

received them and will verify my statement.

I don't believe in misrepresentation to continue in business; I am not a FAKIR, GRAFTER OR A "GBT-RICH-QUICK" man; I run my business HON-ESTLY, OPENIT AND ABOVE BOARD, and don't have to change my name EVERY MON'TH OR TWO IN ORDER TO KEEP IN BUSINESS.

If you have a bad day, 80 DO I. If I didn't have more GOOD DAYS than BAD, I couldn't continue at the same old stand, doing business day In and day out, without getting a "call down."

HONESTY IS MY POLICY, FIRST, LAST AND ALL, THE TIME. IT IS A HAMMOND SPECIALTY WHICH HAS FEW IMITATORS.

$5.00 for a Guaranteed Winner

I GIVE YOU BUT ONE HORSE A DAY (NOT TWO OR THREE) NO WIN-NO PAY

If any horse which I give you as a "Guaranteed Paddock Special" is scratched or loses, your subscription is continued until you receive a winner. But these $5 specials seldom lose. (See last week's record below.) Recollect, I positively name but one horse in my message, not half a dozen.

Last Week a $20 Flat Bet Won $140

Monday—Hildebrand 4 to 1, Won Tuesday—Descuento 9 to 5, Won Wednesday - McGrathiana Prince, 7 to 2, Lost Thursday Merwan 3 to 5, Won Friday—Blissful 13 to 5, Won Saturday - Witch Hazel 4 to 1, Lost

A 15 to 1 Shot Goes Today

Here's a spot where I know something. I'm right in on the ground floor. The people who have this "ace in the hole" that comes off today are nearer to me than any one suspects. I know their whole plans, from sour to unearer to me this "baby" we'll do business with today light on neget of case of stake horse masquerading as a selling plater. This is another case where the HAM-MOND STAFF have the right word.

MY INFO' COMES DIRECT

the info. I have "up my sleeve" on this "un comes direct from those in control, might say (if I chose) that they are under obligations to me, but that's my isiness—not yours. All I will say is that this is as sure a thing as I ever disiness, with (from a fast work standpoint), and I've done business with a mich of 'em.

Get in on today's "good thing." It'll be a good fat price, and in my opinion—Will Win and Win Sure—

It Will Be Given in the Regular Message
