

Hardening of Foreign Exchange Rates Causes Wall Street to Be Suspicious

FRAUD DETECTED IN COTTON

Solidification of Discount Percentage Dissipates Report That It Would Drop

NEW YORK, May 18.—The persistent hardening of the foreign exchange rates since the break caused by the first reports of a large sale of American securities to toreigners has begot the fear that the reports of these sales were exaggerated and partly unrounded. The difficulty in obtaining any authentic information on the subject from the bankers immediately concerned adds to the doubts which have come to be entertained.

The suspicion that has grown up as to the sales of bonds actually effected causes a reversion of discussion to come of the unfavorable conditions which it was hoped to have relieved by the free recourse to foreign supplies of capital.

Genuine strength in foreign exchanges is indicated by the course of foreign markets and the sales here of stocks for foreign account.

The troubles incident to the putting affoat of fraudulent cotton bills of lading also constitute an element in the scarcity of commercial bills of exchange. The hardening course of the private discounte rate in London today dissipated any expectation that the bank rate would come down tomorrow. The continuance of withdrawals of gold for sundry destinations from the Bank of England makes it likely that the protection will be sought by making the present bank rate effective in the open market.

There was a recurrence of discussion today of the unfavorable trade balance, the existing high price of commodities and the possibility of a widespread adjustment to correct the discrepancy and to reawaken demand and restore trade activity.

Today's dealings of 245,200 shares were the smallest of any day this or last year. In the hour between 1 and 2 p. m., less than 18,000 shares changed hands.

Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value, $1,175,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

before in local history. Primary reason for the high and still advancing market in pin beans is that the crop, which was a small one has been cornered by interests able to hol on until they secure the price they want Since May 10 the price has advanced from Since May 10 the price has advanced from what was then the highest mark in the history of this city, 1½ cents per pound, and yesterday the biggest handlers of pink beans predicted the price will go to 10 cents within a very short time. Ten cents per pound to the retailer means a price of 15 cents per pound to the consumer or two pounds for 3 cents. To this the old-time reta ir is holding up his hands in horror, yet it is impossible to buy pink beans under 7 to 7½ cents per pound in jbo lots.

SOUNDED THAT WAY

Bacon-"Did you ever hear Professor Hard play the plano?"
Egbert—No, I did not.
"I tell you he can make a piano talk."
"Oh, the piano has a phonograph connection
I suppose?"—Yonkers Statesman.

The Pomona College club of Los Angeles, at its luncheon at moon yesterday, in the Federation club, perfected plans for boosting the big Pomona college rally, which will be held at Simpson auditorium at $ o'clock p. m., May 27. G. Ray Horton, president of the club, presided, and introduced Myron Hunt, architect and designer of the college buildings and campus, who was given an enthusiastic welcome by the club members. Mr. Hunt told of the formulation of the plans for the campus and buildings, and stated that his address at the Simpson auditorium meeting will be illustrated by new and novel stereopticon views of the college grounds.

Dr. William Horace Day, always a favorite with Pomona students, spoke of the relation of Los Angeles to the college, and of his plans for the college rally May 27. Frank Strowbige, chairman, told of the excellent work that is being done by the special "crisis committee" of the Pomona club of Los Angeles toward making the college endowment a half million dollars in time for the June commencement,

HIT WITH WHIP

J. S. Pond, manager of the Pacific Coast Art Stone company, was struck on the head with a whip by W. F. Orwig, 2249 Santa Monica avenue, Hollywood, yesterday afternoon at Thirty-eiguth and Hoover streets. Pond was creating a disturbance. When told by Orwig to desist he began striking him. Pond was taken to the receiving hospital, where his head was dressed
