

SENATOR McENERY DIES SUDDENLY AT LOUISIANA HOME

Seemed in Best of Health When Congress Closed but Was Soon After Stricken

INDIGESTION CAUSES DEATH

Democratic Leader Almost Totally Deaf but He Took Big Part in Nation's Affairs

NEW ORLEANS, June 28.—United States Senator Samuel Douglass McEnery died at his home here this morning.

Senator McEnery arrived from Washington yesterday morning suffering from an attack of indigestion. He was taken to his home here, where physicians were summoned. The senator rallied somewhat after treatment, but late last night his condition took a turn for the worse, and early this morning he lapsed into unconsciousness and died shortly before 10 o'clock.

The senator was in his seventy-fourth year.

Senator McEnery left Washington Saturday evening only a few hours before the session of congress closed. He appeared to be in the best of health. His son, Dr. McEnery, started for New Orleans last night on receipt of a telegram saying his father was ill.

WAS SENATOR'S THIRD TERM

The present term of Senator McEnery, which was his third, would not have expired until March 3, 1915. During his service he was known as an independent Democrat, who voted frequently with the Republicans.

That was true particularly in tariff legislation. Throughout the last two sessions of the tariff he contented himself with the protection of cane sugar interests and was willing to make concessions to the majority party in return for favors shown to him.

At times his attitude provoked some criticism from his party associates, but this never swayed him from his independent course.

The fact that Senator McEnery was afflicted with almost total deafness prevented him from taking an active part in debates.

Sergeant at Arms Randall telegraphed today to learn the wishes of the family in relation to having an official funeral. Until he gets a reply no committees will be named.

Vice President Sherman today designated the following senators to attend the funeral of the late Senator McEnery, which is to be held at New Orleans at 10 o'clock a. m. Thursday: Messrs. Foster, Dilliver, Bailey, Gamble, Clay, Bradley, Johnston and Chamberlain.

SANDERS TO BE SENATOR

BATON ROUGE, La., June 28.—Gov. Jared V. Sanders today announced that Senator McEnery in the United States senate, according to the party leaders gathered here. The legislature is in session, and Sanders' election is being arranged for. Lieut. Gov. Lamberton will succeed Sanders.

BROWNE JURY STILL OUT: ONE JUROR HALTS VERDICT

Talesmen Have Disagreed for More Than 100 Hours

CHICAGO, June 28.—The jury that is deliberating on the case of Leo O'Neill Browne, legislative minority leader, charged with bribery, passed the 100-hour mark tonight without indicating that an agreement is in sight. At 10 o'clock p. m. when the jury had been out 102 hours, it was announced at the court house that there was little chance of an agreement to-night.

The strain attending the long session of the jury was slightly relaxed at noon today when Judge McBurney on his own initiative brought the twelve men into court to give them further instructions. Juror Spars, who is said by state's attorney Wayman to stand alone against the other eleven seemed calm and self possessed. The court told the jurors it was "important to the state and defendant in this case that the jury should arrive at a verdict."

DEMAND INVESTIGATION OF LORIMER GRAFT CHARGE

PEORIA, Ill., June 28.—In resolutions introduced by Representative Martin Hull before the conference considering the breakdown of representative government, the demand goes forth from 600 citizens of Illinois that a complete investigation of charges of bribery in the election of Senator Lorimer be made.

The resolutions demanding both federal and state investigations were adopted tonight.

Other resolutions introduced by Mr. Hull and adopted by the conference are those demanding an amendment to the constitution providing for the initiative and referendum similar to that in Oregon, the passage of a corrupt practice act and a comprehensive state civil service system.

WICKERSHAM MEN BARRED FROM ALASKA CONVENTION

JUNEAU, Alaska, June 28.—The Republican territorial convention met here today with National Committee member Shackelford in control. No Wickersham men are allowed to take part in proceedings. The principal work of the convention will be to name a candidate for successor to James Wickersham, who was elected two years ago on a Republican ticket. Two candidates were placed before the convention, Ed S. Orr and Leroy Tozier, both of Fairbanks.

'TRUST BUSTER' IS AFTER OLEOMARGARINE DEALERS

CHICAGO, June 28.—Plans for a sweeping inquiry into the alleged oleomargarine and beef frauds were laid at a conference yesterday by Special District Attorney James H. Wilkerson and W. S. Kenyon, first assistant attorney general, and the government's official "trust buster."

The venire for the special grand jury was drawn yesterday and deputy marshals were busy serving notices.

Mr. Kenyon left for Washington last night.

"I can't discuss the investigation at the present time," Mr. Kenyon said as he left the conference. "Until Judge Landis delivers his instructions to the grand jury we will be somewhat dense as to what course to pursue."

COMMITTEE TO DISREGARD A. G. SPALDING'S REFUSAL

SAN DIEGO, June 28.—Although A. G. This decision was reached today at a meeting of the business men's committee, which voted to begin at once an aggressive campaign in Mr. Spalding's behalf.

The first step will be to send out canvassers for signatures to his nominating petition. Eight of these will set to work tomorrow. Some will go nearly as far north as the Sacramento river.

AMBASSADOR AND ROOSEVELT SUED FOR $1,000,000

Mrs. Ida M. von Claussen Attempts to File Papers in New York

MINISTER GRAVES INCLUDED

Charges of Malice, Slander and Revenge Had Beginning in Sweden

NEW YORK, June 28.—A big bundle of papers, purporting to be the complaint in a suit for $1,000,000 damages against Theodore Roosevelt, Robert Bacon, American ambassador to France; Charles Graves, American minister to Sweden, and his wife, is in the county clerk's office here awaiting disposition.

The bundle was thrown into the office today by Mrs. Ida M. von Claussen after the clerk's refusal to file them because of irregularities.

The attempted suit is an outgrowth of the refusal of Minister Graves to present Mrs. von Claussen at the court of the late King Oscar of Sweden in 1907. The complaint begins:

"I hereby make formal demand of the supreme court of the United States to procure me an honest lawyer to plead for justice to me if the United States of America has laws capable to protect me. If not, then the legislature must be appealed to."

"I hereby file in the supreme court this complaint and institute a suit for slander, malice and revenge, to recover $1,000,000. The gross insult and slander I received in Sweden, of which the world has cognizance, is laid directly to the foregoing conspirators."

Mrs. von Claussen says King Oscar gave her his photograph and invited her to visit him.

MRS. VON CLAUSSEN WRITES BOOK EXPOSING DIPLOMATS

Claims Life Attempted to Prevent Publication of Expose

WASHINGTON, June 28.—After having failed to be presented at the court of the king of Sweden, Mrs. von Claussen came to Washington in April, 1907, to lay the matter before President Roosevelt. She tried to arrange an interview with the president, but found the official bars too tightly closed to permit of her entrance to the president's presence.

She remained here for some time, expressing the belief that she would secure satisfaction for the snub she said had been administered to her by the king of Sweden, if she could be presented at court.

Mrs. von Claussen on the occasion of her first visit here also attempted to demand that the state department take her case, but in this, as in her appeal to the president, she failed. Since 1907 she has visited the national capital a number of times.

On the occasion of a visit here several months ago she declared she was the object of a conspiracy on the part of great men in this country and abroad which had as its object the prevention of the publication of a book she had written exposing diplomatic intrigues. She said her life had been attempted six times by her persecutors.

CADET, WOMAN AND FRIEND MISSING, AND BOAT ADRIFT

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 28.—Mrs. Nellie E. Bowyer, widow of Joseph Bowyer, and daughter-in-law of John M. Bowyer, superintendent of the naval academy; Midshipman Grissie Thomas of Union Point, Ga., and Sherman M. Nelson of Newport, R. I., left the naval academy about 11 o'clock this morning in a sail boat which was found drifting on the Severn river this afternoon.

In it were portions of the clothing that had been worn by members of the party. It is believed the midshipmen took Mrs. Bowyer to the bathing shore used by the naval academy and attempted to teach her to swim and that all three were drowned.

Keep the Heals and Houghtons Out of These Vast Enterprises

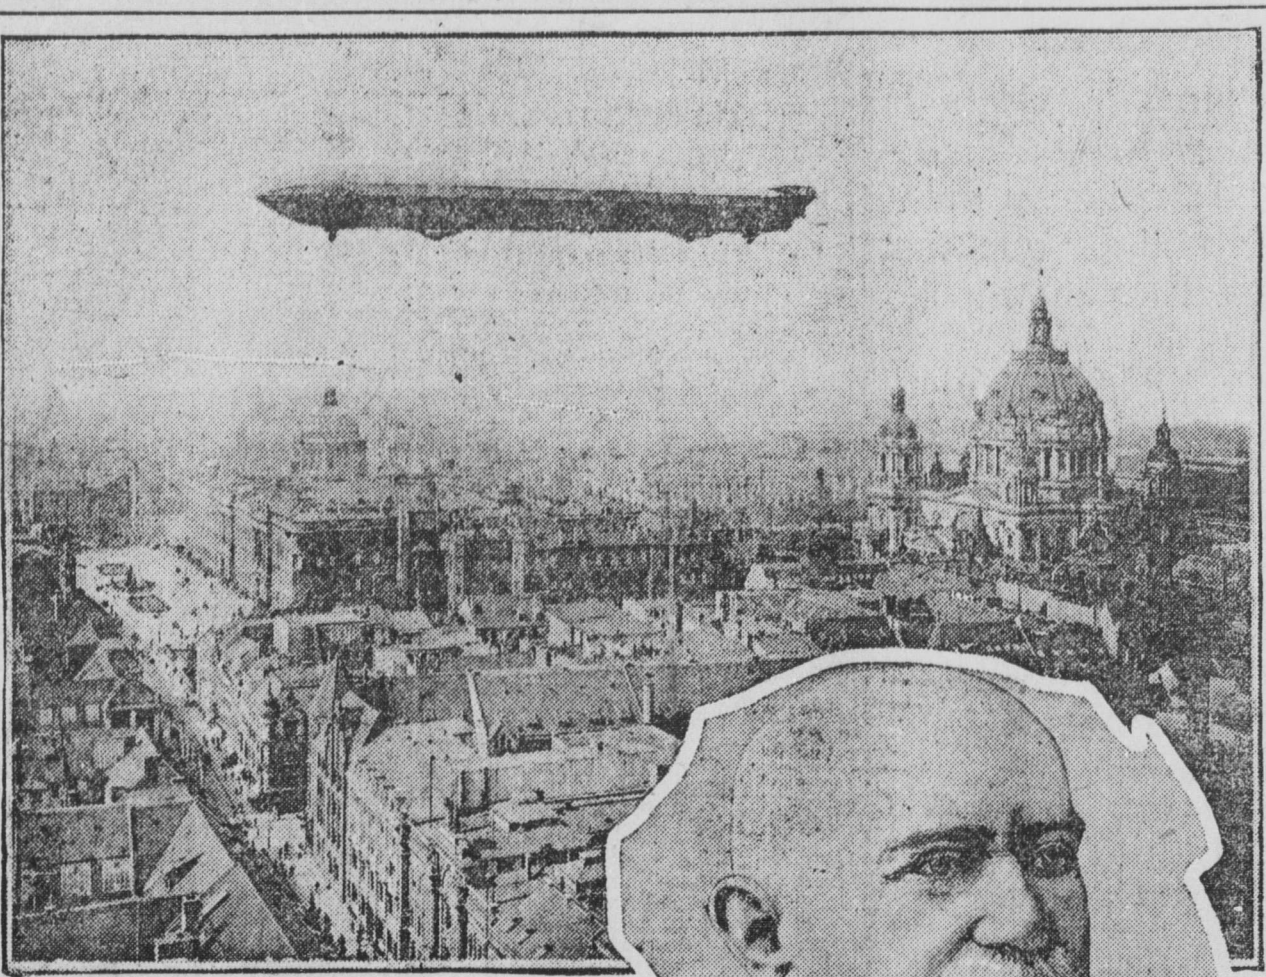

A 25-million dollar water enterprise. A 25-million dollar electric light enterprise. A 10-million dollar harbor enterprise.

The management of these enterprises are controlled by the city council. Honest and efficient men in that body will insure these enterprises being properly managed. Dishonest or inefficient men will insure these enterprises being wrongfully managed. The city is also engaged in an effort to obtain reduced rates for certain classes of public service.

Mr. Barney Healy when a member of the city council voted: To give away to private parties the river bed, a piece of public property valued at one million dollars; Against an 8-cent electric lighting rate, although as a result of the action of the present city council the electric lighting companies of the city have offered that rate to the city.

Dr. Houghton while a member of the city council voted: To give away to private parties the river bed, a piece of public property valued at one million dollars. Do the citizens of Los Angeles feel that these men should be entrusted with the management of the three great business enterprises which the city now has under way? Do they believe that these men will either honestly or efficiently manage these enterprises?

NICARAGUANS ASK U.S. INTERVENTION

Consul Telegraphs Petition to the State Department—Estrada Countered

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Intervention in the Nicaraguan situation came to the fore again today when American Consul Moffatt at Bluefields telegraphed the state department that a petition with 500 signatures had been presented to General Estrada asking that the United States intervene.

The department has heard nothing from General Estrada himself. The suggestion that the United States intervene is taken as a counter move to offset the undesirable impression likely to result from the refusal of General Estrada to accept the proposal of the Cartago court of justice to have the warfare ended by mediation.

The dispatch from Consul Moffatt said nothing about the courtmartial of William P. Pittman, the American engineer held by the Madriz forces as a prisoner of war. The silence of the department on this point, taken in connection with the fact that the treatment of Pittman has been under diplomatic consideration, led the state department to the conclusion that the report of Pittman's courtmartial was premature.

Senor Corea, representative of the Madriz government in this city, today received two dispatches from Madriz, one denying many of the reported victories of the Estrada forces and the other telling of the anti-American manifestations and the determination of his government to keep them from resulting in harm to Americans.

FIRE SWEEPS TACOMA SAWMILL DISTRICT

TACOMA, Wash., June 28.—Ten acres of tide land flats in the saw mill district were swept by fire this afternoon, the plant of the Onn Lumber and Shingle company and the planing mill, office and storage shed of the Wheeler-Osgood company being entirely destroyed.

The total loss will reach $55,000. The Wheeler-Osgood company was fully insured, but the Onn plant will be practically a total loss, as there was almost no insurance.

NEARLY DESTROYED BY FLAMES

CARSON CITY, Nev., June 28.—Genoa, the county seat of Douglas county, twelve miles south of this city, was almost completely destroyed by fire this afternoon. The loss is estimated at over $100,000. The Masonic hall and several other brick structures were completely ruined by the flames.

Taft's Last Day Taken UP BY IRRIGATIONISTS

Supporters of West Besiege the President in Business Session

WASHINGTON, June 28.—President Taft's last day in Washington prior to his departure for Beverly was a busy one up to the hour of his leaving for the summer capital late this afternoon. Many congressional callers and conferences occupied the time between the assembling of the cabinet for the last regular meeting in this city until fall.

Western senators interested in the thirty-year irrigation projects in various stages of completion which may be affected by the $20,000,000 advance from the treasury authorized by congress, talked to the president about the subject with the chief executive. They want to get the inspection body of the United States engineers at work at the earliest possible moment.

Medical Student Rescues Sweetheart from Sanitarium with Writ of Habeas Corpus

Taft Leaves for LAW AIDS CUPID SUMMER CAPITAL TO GAIN VICTORY

President Quits White House to Pass Three Months at Beverly

BEVERLY, Mass., June 28.—When President Taft arrives in Beverly tomorrow his only public greeting will be from the Stars and Stripes, which have been ordered raised on all public buildings at sunrise each day of his stay here.

The city would be glad to show its loyal spirit but he has requested that his arrival be entirely informal.

The president is expected to arrive tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Taft and other members of the family will meet him at the station.

With a wealthy and angry father shouting, "Let me at him," an enraged mother declaring, "I would gladly hang if I could kill him," and the villain, personified by a young medical student who refused to court, but instead triumphantly waved a writ of habeas corpus for his sweetheart, there was real melodrama in Judge Monroe's department of the superior court yesterday.

However, Judge Monroe was absent and Judge Oster of Santa Barbara was sitting for him.

Owen S. Parrett applied for and got the writ to effect the release of his sweetheart, Miss Vera V. Schupp, from the Bishop sanitarium in Pasadena. The parents of the young woman, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Schupp, wealthy residents of Pasadena, were the ones stirred to wrath by the romance involving their daughter and her determined wooer.

It was evident that the statement of young Parrett, made before the hearing that the only way the parents could oppose the writ was to prove their daughter insane, was practically true. At least, it appeared that publicity was the thing most feared by the parents, for it was stipulated promptly, without a word of testimony being taken, that the writ be issued.

The young woman is twenty-two. Parrett charged her parents were detaining her against her will.

The father's anger, which was held in check during the making of the agreement, knew no bounds when the affair was over.

"Let me at him, let me at him!" he cried, and made a dash toward young Parrett. The combined efforts of three men were required to hold him. The attitude of the wife was little less impassioned.

"I would gladly hang if I could kill him," she declared with emphasis.

Parrett's side of the case, as given by himself, was as follows:

"I became very much interested in Miss Schupp only about three weeks ago. That is the first time I met her. She was being cared for following an attack of nervous prostration in the Loma Linda sanitarium, where I am a medical student. It is a Seventh Day Adventist institution. She became a convert to that faith about a year ago, as I understand it. She is what her parents object to most."

"They wanted her to leave, and when she would not, as she was making rapid improvement, the father came Sunday with some men and forcibly dragged her out to an automobile and took her away. Since that time she has been kept in the Dr. Bishop sanitarium in Pasadena and has been allowed to see no one and communicate with no one."

"I finally concluded to take the matter in my own hands, and that is why I petitioned for the writ. She is twenty-two years of age and they have, therefore, no legal right to detain her. I won't exactly say I am engaged to her, but I will say I am very much interested in her."

"That young fellow is a liar," raged the father.

"They have been working her up to death in the kitchen without a cent of pay," added the mother. "The physician said she should not go to church or see a Bible till she recovered, for we feared her mind would be affected. There they insist that those things were just what she needs most."

"I think we have convinced her of our good intentions," continued Mr. Schupp, "and we hope that this habeas corpus will avail them nothing."

ZEPPELIN AIRSHIP PREY OF GALE; 33 VOYAGERS SAVED

Limps, Disabled, from Path in the Clouds and Is Wrecked on Forest Tree Tops

FORCED 4000 FEET IN THE AIR

Tops Whirlwind in Battle with a Storm—Passengers Rescued with Rope Ladders

DUSSELDORF, Germany, June 28.—Count Zeppelin's passenger airship Deutschland, the greatest of all the famous aeronaut's models, lies tonight in the Teutoburgian forest, pierced by pine trees, a mass of deflated silk and twisted aluminum.

The thirty-three passengers aboard the airship when it struck the pines after a wild contest with a storm, escaped uninjured, climbing down from the wreck on rope ladders.

Herr Colesmann, general manager of the new airship company; Chief Engineer Duers of the Zeppelin company, and Captain Wanneberg, who had charge of the crew of ten, and twenty newspaper men sailed from Dusseldorf at 8:30 o'clock this morning for a three hours' excursion.

The objective point was Dortmund, about thirty-five miles from Dusseldorf, but a high wind prevailed, and an effort was made to reach Munster, a Garrison town, so that a landing might be made on the parade ground with the aid of the soldiers.

It was realized it would require a large number of men to hold the vast contrivance of silk and metal against the wind.

RISES ABOVE WHIRLWIND

In the high wind one of the motors refused to work and the other two did not give sufficient power to make any headway in a gale. The airship drifted, swaying in the violent gusts and sometimes leaning to an angle of forty degrees. All the while the engines were at work repairing the disabled motor. When this was done all four screws were driven at their full power. Under normal conditions the engines were capable of driving the airship at a speed of forty miles an hour, but the helmsman was unable to keep his course and the great craft was swung about at the mercy of the winds.

Colesmann did not dare to come about for fear of overturning, and decided to drift with the gale toward Osnabruck, also a Garrison town, where he expected to continue to Senne.

Suddenly he perceived a whirlwind coming and ascended to a height of nearly 4000 feet to avoid the center of it.

With the whirlwind came a heavy downpour of rain. After half an hour the Deutschland came down to permit observations and it was seen that the Teutoburgian forest lay below.

The forward motor stopped again and Colesmann sent five of his attendants to the aft gondola to balance the vessel.

WRECKED ON TREE TOPS

The Deutschland sank rapidly, having lost much gas in the high altitude, and dragged along the top of the dense forest. A heavy branch of a tree broke through the bottom of the cabin amidships, throwing two of the guests to the floor. Other branches ripped through the gas compartments and the whole great structure sank and down it fell forty feet from the ground.

"It isn't the fault of the Zeppelin system," exclaimed Herr Colesmann; "that is all right. It is our own fault, our benzine ran out."

The airship, for which Herr Colesmann's company had just paid $187,000, looked like a giant's foot, the frames were broken, but the motors were not damaged. The silk was ripped and had fallen in a torn mass on the tops of the trees.

Reports of disaster, explosion and death were widely spread. A party of officers and surgeons came by automobile from Iburg and the district governor and a wife arrived at the scene within half an hour by special train.

A company of infantry was sent from Osnabruck and picked the wreckage.

The disaster occurred at 5:30 p. m. In the early part of the journey the airship maintained an altitude of about 500 feet and the passengers enjoying the new sensation expressed contempt for the train rumbling down below and spoke of automobiles as out of date.

BACK FROM HOLY LAND AND HIS MONEY GONE

Long Beach Man Started for Palestine for Coming of Messiah

(Special to The Herald)

LONG BEACH, June 28.—Peter Martens of this city is in New York and has sent his family here a request for money to complete the return journey from Palestine to which he started with the Rev. Mr. Lawrence and Lawrence's sister to prepare for the second coming of Christ.

According to the request for funds, Martens had entrusted his money to the sister of Lawrence, and when he and Lawrence quarreled because he would not purchase mining stock which Lawrence wanted to sell him the woman would not give him back his money.

The Lawrences, he says, deserted him in Alexandria, Egypt, and a wealthy New Yorker who he chanced to meet paid his passage as far as New York and then supplied him with funds to communicate with his family here.

The family of Martens has arranged with a bank to forward him sufficient money to repay the New Yorker and make the trip home. Before leaving for the Holy Land Martens sold valuable property here to secure money to make the trip.
