AMARILLO HARDWARE COMPANY

STREET CARS WILL SOON BE RUNNING

THIS IS PREDICTION OF GUY W. FALLER AND MAYOR MARRS SEEMS SATISFIED.

This is prediction of Guy Faller and Mayor Marrs seems satisfied. Guy W. Faller, general manager for the City Light & Water Co., in a statement yesterday, affirmed that the John M. Daugherty Co., of New York city, owners of the Amarillo street railway system, would soon have their proposition ready for final action by the city commission of Amarillo.

The proposition will virtually be the same as previously stated with the exception of a few minor modifications. About the only item of doubt at present is that link of the street railway connecting Glenwood addition with the loop encircling the main portion of Amarillo proper. As the proposition stands, it provides for the cutting off of the line running to Glenwood. It is stated this is a personal and local matter which Mr. Faller says he hopes can be amicably adjusted but the street cars he thinks will soon be running.

Mayor Len D. Marrs says everything is all right and working out very satisfactorily and that the city commission is ready to take action on the proposition but that the influenza epidemic and the present cold spell have hindered the progress of negotiations.

During the meeting of the Henry M. Daugherty Co. in New York city at which such members of the executive committee were present and attending which were Mr. Faller and other Amarillo parties, Mr. Faller went over the street car proposition and was assured by the company that they were in harmony with the Amarillo people and were doing all they could and as conditions possible to get street cars running again.

The Glenwood matter is one for adjustment between the Glenwood interests and the Daugherty company, it is said.

SKIMMED MILK LAW MAY BE PASSED BY CITY COMMISSION

Many hotels, restaurants and the dairies of this city are seriously interested in the matter of using individual milk bottles for service where the customer asks for milk to drink and are in favor of such an ordinance being passed by the city commission requiring them to use the individual milk bottle, according to Mayor Marrs.

Mayor Marrs says the city commission will follow the example of the cities of the east and pass an ordinance requiring all places selling milk for a drink or for the glass to use the individual milk bottle, which is filled by the dairies before delivering to the dealer.

"What is skimmed milk?" Mayor Len D. Marrs has the following to say on this question.

This question often arises and should not be a difficult one to answer. The city ordinance of Amarillo provides that milk must have at least 2.5 per cent butterfat in order to be sold as whole milk in this city. Any milk containing less than this percentage of butterfat is termed skimmed milk. Skimmed milk may not always mean that the milk has had any of the cream taken off of the milk or that it has been taken out by a separator or skimmed in any other manner but always means that the milk is below the city standard in regard to butterfat content.

Some Holstein cows after give milk that will not test 2.5 per cent, but it is such is the case richer milk or cream must be added to the milk before it is lawful to market it. Otherwise it is called skimmed milk. It is standard milk is served in a cafe and the top dipped off first or poured off and then the other milk served later the later milk is found to be below standard in butter fat, and the sale of such milk is unlawful.

The only practical method of serving whole milk and keeping it up to standard at all times is to serve individual bottles to each customer. The milk in these bottles having been bottled warm and when freshly milked.
