FATHERS AND SONS—PALS.

The sentiment that fathers and sons should be pals was expressed Tuesday in the Lions Club meeting in the Amarillo Hotel.

Let the Lions continue this good work and may it increase to the blessing of all concerned.

EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYEES.

If the employers in the world could understand how much they would profit through showing a trifle more interest in their employes nothing could stop them from making this most desirable of changes.

When an employer has surrounded himself with dependable men and women he has a right to expect of them their best endeavor, especially if he takes the pains to make them know that he appreciates that class of service at their hands.

On the other hand, there are employes who know only indifferently, the people in their employ. They take, seemingly, no thought of them.

The result is that the returns through such an organization cannot meet the expectancy of the investors. There is an undercurrent of ill feeling, a lack of appreciation that must in measure at least, reflect itself into the products of the workers.

A SAFE RETREAT:—Be thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort; thou hast given commandment to save me; for thou art my rock and my fortress.—Psa. 71:3.

DEMAND WILL NOT DIE.

Ever and always, there is a lingering hope in the minds of the jobbers and manufacturers of Amarillo that the dream of a railroad to and through the North Plains country will be realized at some time in the future.

While this is true, let none overlook the fact that Plainview and Lubbock have a more interesting pastime than that of listening to the chatter in Amarillo about a railroad to the north.

These facts are mentioned for the purpose of calling attention to conditions as they are, for none of the other communities are waiting for Amarillo. Other live communities are pressing forward with a determination to outdistance this city if possible.

Amarillo will have to husband her resources, and look after the interests of her trade territory to offset by the right class of actions the belief that she is always on the "receiving" end of the "giving" hand.

The Panhandle and Plains Country need above all things else a well maintained system of roads. The way some routes have been pointed in this section of the state, has rather discouraged road enthusiasts but this has nothing to do with the practical building and maintenance of highways.

Hanson Post No. 54, American Legion is putting on a wonderful growth, and within a comparatively short time will be one of the biggest in all the southwest.

The Panhandle Brick & Tile Company, an Amarillo institution will soon be sending its highly desired building materials all over the Panhandle and Plains of Texas and into other sections of the country.

It has been determined that the Hudson river shall be bridged at Manhattan Island. Engineers used to say that this thing could not be done, but they are today going to do it.

Within a short time Amarillo will be erecting her brick buildings with materials manufactured right here at home. That will look rather like a "live at home day" in building materials, won't it?

AFTER CENTURIES OF CONFLICT

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR Chapter XXXVI—Cissy Sheldon Startles Me.

Rather than go shopping, some times I'd make a pot or two with materials gleaned from the one hundred boxes of oddities in my wardrobe.

That was fun, but what wore out my nerves and my patience was the fitting of the costumes made to order and according to special designs.

Each morning I make out my schedule for the day, before I get out of bed, to find too often that the luncheon I had expected to take in a luxurious hotel has to be snatched in my car on the road to the studios.

Once a great artist told me that work is the secret of genius. To keep on working, and never to care how much or how long one works, if one only can get a result which one has definitely planned before hand.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS "WHAT KIP DID" By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

At last Mr. Pin Pin stopped in front of a doorway over which were the words "The Enchanted Cupboard."

"Why didn't you get the shovels out of the cupboard?" "Because Kip stole my key," answered Pin Pin shaking his head.

(To be Continued)

Each morning I make out my schedule for the day, before I get out of bed, to find too often that the luncheon I had expected to take in a luxurious hotel has to be snatched in my car on the road to the studios.

That hurts Motherless more than it does me. Once, after we had had a strenuous morning of fittings for "Love Lorn," I was due at the studios at two for some short retakes.

I stopped at a bakery, bought some Vienna rolls, and nibbled them without butter as we rode along. That was my only refreshment between an early breakfast and a late dinner.
