YOUTH, 19, KILLED PASTOR AND SEXTONS WIFE, CLAIM

ROWAN MUST SERVE TERM IS SUPREME COURT EDICT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The Supreme Court today refused to review the cases of Albert Rowan and Ben Luna, convicted of the robbery of a post office sub-station in Dallas in January of last year. The court also refused to review the case of William Livesey, convicted in Dallas for fraudulent use of the mails in connection with his dealings with the Little Motor Car Company.

Although no opinions were delivered by the Supreme Court today, it cleared its docket of all petitions for rehearing which had accumulated during the summer recess and advanced for agreement the Pennsylvania anthracite and the Minnesota iron tax, the New York Telephone and a number of other important cases, besides pending orders in other cases.

Important Cases Settled. By denying rehearing in the case decided during the closing days last term the Court made final its decisions in such important litigation as the Southern Pacific, the Colorado Coal, the Emergency Fleet Corporation, base ball, and the Laramie River irrigation project cases, the latter of vital importance as laying down governmental policy in respect to the diversion of water for irrigation purposes from interstate streams.

Lower Court Reversed. In applying the evidence in the case, however, the Supreme Court reversed the lower federal courts and held that the United Mine Workers of America district December 27, the labor leaders and others involved in the strike which resulted in the destruction of the property were not liable for tort damages under the Sherman law because not actuated by an intent to restrain or monopolize interstate commerce. The coal companies sought unsuccessfully to have that feature of the decision reversed, contending that the prime object of the strike was to prevent the interstate shipment of coal.

In Dallas Jail. DALLAS, Oct. 9.—Albert Rowan, whose twenty-five year sentence was affirmed by the federal Supreme Court today, was the alleged mastermind in the Dallas post office robbery in January, 1921. The plot to rob the post office however failed ending in the killing of a post office employee and the death of one of the bandits in an automobile accident. Rowan, son of a prominent Dallas business man, was under a fifty year state sentence for murder in connection with the post office robbery death.

LATEST BOND ISSUE HAS GONE OVER WELL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Preliminary reports to the Treasury indicate that the government's $500,000,000 bond issue—the first since the war—has had a very satisfactory reception by the country. It is so early, officials declared tonight, to estimate the probable amount which will be subscribed by investors for the four and one-quarter per cent, thirty-year, refunding bonds but the reports from both the east and west of the first day's results are remarkable with approval by the treasury.

Curfew Is Unnecessary

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 9.—Ringing of the curfew is no longer necessary to keep the children of Southwest Washington off the streets at night. A blackboard has been seen several times at night in the residence district. Bruin all-ways shambles off into vacant lots or alleys when disturbed and never appears in day light. No one has gone sunning after the animal.

WAS CASE OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY IS ALLEGATION

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 9.—Clifford Hayes a youth of 19, was held incommunicado in the Somerset County jail at Somerville tonight on a warrant charging him with the first degree murder of the Rev. Edward Winkler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills on September 16.

But if the authorities who caused his arrest have any evidence which would show a logical motive for his alleged act they have carefully withheld it. The explanation of Raymond Schneider, 22, whose accusation caused Hayes' arrest, was that it was a case of mistaken identity. Hayes, he said, though he was shooting 15 year old Pearl Bahmer and her step father, Nicholas Bahmer.

But the only motive he advanced for the reckless crime was a sort of quixotic aim on Hayes' part—a desire to right a supposed wrong done a friend, Schneider, who, although married admits he is in love with Pearl.

Hayes' father says that Schneider was a "damned liar" he admitted going with Schneider to the deserted Phillips farm where the bodies were found in search of Pearl and her step father.

They heard shots and screams, he said, and ran toward the crab apple tree where the shots seemed to come. Schneider, an unscrupulous dish washer as they say.

Stole Minister's Watch. Beneath the tree, he declared, they found the minister's watch and chain, and the minister's watch, Schneider in turn accused Hayes of having committed the theft.

One of the most glaring discrepancies in Schneider's story is his assertion that neither he nor Hayes touched the bodies except for the filing of the which-which he accuses Hayes.

It has been established by a related autopsy that Mrs. Mill's throat was cut from ear to ear and her head all most severed, Schneider could not explain this.

Neither could he explain how the bodies came to be laid out carefully side by side as if for burial.

His story does not tally, however, with the first statement attributed to Mrs. Hall after the murders were discovered—that her theory of the double slaying was "mistaken identity."

BONUS FOR VETS AND RECLAMATION OF LAND URGED

THESE ITEMS THE MAIN POINTS URGED BY MORROW

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 9.—(Special) of the fight for a soldiers bonus, reclamation of New Mexico land, a tariff that does not tax the people. These three items, with better educational facilities for all children, were put forth by John Morrow, Democratic candidate for congress, as the things for which he would take up arms.

The motion brought praise from President Harding in a message of greeting expressed gratification at the steps taken to meet the emergency and also at the cooperation of the Red Cross with the New England relief for funds of whom a national appeal for help was authorized yesterday by the president.

The committee's decision was that "the job is done," Chairman Dyer announced.

SEPTEMBER HARD MONTH ON CROPS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Crops generally suffered loss in prospective yield during September, but the loss is not so large as it was last year, except in the case of corn, buckwheat, sugar beets and peaches.
