The meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Queen's Hospital, yesterday, was of a semi-private nature; and we are indebted to the courtesy of Mr. J. H. Paty for the information given in the report of the proceedings, which appears to-day in another column.

A native political meeting was held last evening in the Skating Rink, when a new political platform was submitted, and to a large extent adopted. Hon, J E. Bush was in the chair, and about 200 prominent natives were present. The meeting was very orderly.

A sailor, while engaged unloading cargo yesterday, on board the steamer Pele, received a blow from the swinging tackle which knocked him down the forehatch into the hold of the vessel. His fall resulted in the loss of a few teeth and the reception of a few bruises.

When the Charter was granted for the Queen's Hospital, thirty years ago, the following gentlemen were the Trustees: B. F. Snow, S. N. Castle, S. C. Damon, C. R. Bishop, J. W. Austin, E. O. Hall, J. T. Waterhouse, W. A. Aldrich, W. L. Green and H. Hackfeld. Six of these are still living.

Fossil Specimens at Punahou.

One of the interesting features of the exercises at Punahou, was the exhibition of specimens of fossil leaves, found by Prof. Lyons at Moanalua, fossil shells on Diamond Head, and fossil wood from Punchbowl. Miss Emma Bicknell's a lune 20th from a week's cruise around trating her "Study of Punchbowl," shows collection of geological specimens illuswhat interesting material for scientific investigation we have close at hand. Punahou Preparatory.

The annual examination of the "Preparatory School," in connection with Punahou College, took place yesterday forenoon in the school building on Beretania street. The grand exercises were carried on in the different rooms as usual, and visitors went from room to room, hearing the various classes. The school comprised about ninety pupils, most of them living in town, but a few board at Punahou.

The foreigners in Switzerland number 238,000.

HOSPITAL MEETING.

Reports of Committees-New Committees Appointed, Etc.

A semi-annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Queen's Hospital was held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday June 20th at 11 a. m.

There were present: A. J. Cartwright, James I. Dowsett, S. M. Damon, A rifle competition, under the auspices | C. P. Iaukea, W. G. Irwin. Rev. Alex. Mackintosh, Samuel Parker, M. P. Robinson, J. H. Paty, H. A. Widemann. and John S. Walker.

In the absence of the Vice President, who is at present abroad, Mr. A. J. Cartwright was elected chairman pro tem, and for a similar reason Mr. J. H.

The forty-eighth anniversary of Oahu College was held at Central Union Church yesterday evening when a large number of ladies and gentlemen assembled to witness the ceremonies.

The platform and choir gallery were profusely decorated with choice flowers and evergreens,-roses, iilies, white oleanders and rare terns predominating. Along the top of the organ were displayed the words "Vincit, qui se vincit," which in English signifies: "He conquers who overcomes himself." The chandeliers on the wall were very tastefully adorned with red flowers set in evergreen foliage, and the taste displayed was the work of the ladies of the congregation and a number of young girls. Owing to the lateness of the hour when a report of the proceedings reached us, we are unable to find room for it in this issue; but shall be glad to insert its full length in our next.
