

TROPIC OILS.

By the "Iolani" over a hundred barrels of this well-known oil, and now afloat over 200 more barrels; so we don't think we will run short of oil during the coming sugar season. Tropic Oils for engine, cylinder, dynamo, car box, roller and all other lubricating purposes have not got their equal in this market. Our sales prove this, for from a small beginning we have worked up to an oil business that shows that the article used is all right. Get your season's supply from us.

PA DISCUSSES IT

Ma Thought the Cup Was Hand Painted.

George Tell's All About the Yacht
Race and How Much His Father
Knew About Yachts.

"I dunno," paw sed, Last nite when maw was puttin' sum needed repairs on the After Deck of little albert's every Day pants, "whether it's me Gittin more Sensable as I gro older or if the other Folks in this country keep a slip-pin Back all the time, But enny way it Seems like if they was a Good Deel more foolishness Goin on Every year. Here's this yoi race. You'd think Everybuddy in Yountied Staits was a sailer and Had a Haff interest in the Botes By the way they are Goin on. I never seen so mutch fool Bizness before. Who cares fer the Blamed old cup er what Bote wins it? Who—"

"What cup is that?" maw ast.

"The Amuriky cup," paw says.

"That's what they're agoin to Race fer."

"I shouldn't Think they'd Go to so much trubble jist about a cup," maw says.

"But then I spose it's Hand painted."

"Hand painted nawthin," paw says.

"Gee I'd Hate to Haft to Snow my ignerance every time I opened my mouth the way you do. It ain't no cup to use on the Table. It's silver or mebbly gold plaited and mite of cost fifty dollars when it was new. But it's purty old now. You see This Sur Tommus that wants to win it is in the Tea Hisness. I gess He'd like to use it for advertizin. If he got it I spose he'd fill it up with Tea and put it in the Frunt windo of His store. I Don't Blame him so mutch fer wantin it, But it's the people that's Talkin about the Race that makes me sick. They all purtend to no sich a Blame Lot about yotten."

"I Gol it makes a Laff to Hear the Land lubbers argy about the Botes. One feller says the Shamrock can't win Becoz her keel ain't the rite Shaip, and Then Summuddy else comes along and purtends He's afraid the Columby mite'n't come up to Expecktasheens Becoz her Boom don't soot him. What Do thay no about sich things? I'll Bet most of Them never seen solt water."

"Did you ever see the oshen?" Little Albert ast.

"Corse I have," paw says. "I come purty near crossin it wunst. When I was at New York I rode Down to Coney lien on a Bote, and Thay ain't mutch I Don't no about yawts nuther. It's grait Sport all rite. I tell you it puts new life in a purson to Glt out on the water an man the Sales. You no That time I was up the Lakes visaten Uncle Jim Don't you maw?"

"Yes," maw anserd.

"Well Him and another man had a yot and fer a week I jist Lived on the water. Thay ain't mutch about a yot that I Don't no. Thay told me I'd made a fine sailer. You see that's what makes these people that Gits to Talkin to me about the Columby and Shamrock seem so Blame redickulous. Why, these here agriculturists what thinks the Shamrock stands enny show to Win Gives Themselves Ded away rite at the start."

"That's the forren bote ain't it?" maw ast.

"Don't call it a Bote," paw says.

"Never call a yot a Bote when thay are people around. That no about sich things if you Don't want to g't laft at. Yes, the Columby's our craft, and it won't take her long to show her heels to them people from the other side nuther. I Been studdyin the Fine points about Them, and it's a twenty to one Shot fer our Side. Look at the Columby's top gallant Sail. That's agoin to give Her a Big advantage, and her after Boom's a Day too. I Don't like her keel gaff as well as I mite, But that Don't Cut much figger enny way. It's her Spinnaker that's agoin to Set them Crazy. You jist wait and See. I wisht I Had a Thousand bet on her rite now. The minit She gits where she can put up her Spinnaker the other people won't no what's Becum of her. If she Didn't have another foot of canvas on her Deck except the Spinnaker it'd Be a proseshen all the way around. That's where Amuriky has the advantage. Thay can't make spinnakers over in England like ours."

"Why?" maw ast.

"Oh, I gess its on account of the climate," paw says.

"Well, what is a spinnaker?" maw ast.

"I thot you'd haft to ast that or bust," paw says. "You always think you're agoin to Be so blame smart and Ketch me Between the bases, But when it comes to yots I want you to understand I no all about Them from the Bulkhead to the port bilge. The spinnaker's the main tarpaulin on the stabbrod side."

Before enny of us recovered paw had went out to take a walk around the Block.—Chicago Times-Herald.

William Bradbury, a wealthy man of San Francisco, has been defying the law for two years by spitting on the floors of street cars and has been frequently fined therefor. Some months ago he was sentenced to spend twenty-four hours in jail. He appealed to a higher court, which has just confirmed the judgment, so he was compelled to do time the other day like any other convict. His friends are deeply chagrined at his obstinacy in the matter, and they hope that he will now cease defying the law in order to make a disgusting and offensive nuisance of himself.

Hives are a terrible torment to the little folks, and to some older ones. Doane's Ointment never fails. Instant relief and permanent cure. At any chemist's, 50 cents.

THE BOYS CLUBS TRADES SCHOOL.

Mr. Editor: An effort is being made to establish a 'Trades' School in connection with the Boys' Clubs. At present these clubs are weekly gatherings of native and half-white boys who are called together and drilled and otherwise instructed by various gentlemen who wish to do these boys good and keep them off the streets. As a further development of this central idea it is proposed to erect a suitable building and teach the best-behaved and brightest boys to work wood in a practical manner, by which it is meant that they shall be taught in the manner of apprentices in the old English style, whose first efforts are always directed to the production of some article of utility, even from the first day they enter the workshop. And as the boys see that his labor has a definite aim he will be encouraged to excel in skill, as the skilful worker gets the finer kinds of work to do, an emulation in production is set up that is entirely beneficial to the boy. Merely planing a piece of wood without an objective point is, in the opinion of practical men, unsatisfactory. To saw out, to plane, to mortise and tenon; in fact, to unite with others to produce an article of well-known use, is, to the average boy, fascinating in the extreme; and as industry directed into a proper channel is all that the natives need to become useful members of society, this movement to take hold of the boys and show them how to make an article of everyday use which will sell, will give them a chance to see how valuable the golden hours are that they are loafing away on the streets learning what?—To waste time and opportunity. A young loafer means an old bum every time.

This is a charitable idea which will appeal to all. Further information on this scheme will be given by the courtesy of the press from time to time.
