EMBEZZLEMENT MYSTERY IS DEEPER

Investigations of Officials of Five Departments Only Complicate Case.

CHINESE ARE STILL IN JAIL

Mysterious Cablegram Is Found on Jue Yuen Mow. Alleged Frisco Criminal.

One of the most interesting cases which has come to the attention of the local officials in years was the statement United States District Attorney Joe King made yesterday in regard to the proceedings now in the courts over the extradition of Jue Yuen Mow, accused in San Francisco of felony embezzlement.

Charles Moller, who is defending the Chinaman, is now arrayed upon [illegible] five local departments, besides the criminal departments of California, as the United States immigration agents and the United States district attorney here, the county department and the attorney general's department are now bringing all their talent to fight the case finally decided of the San Francisco officials.

The history of the case developed yesterday served only to complicate matters still further, instead of clarifying them any. The man was produced in court yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Rose and Chief McDuffie, the hearing of the writ of habeas corpus and the city [illegible] experiment was given until this afternoon to file its answer. Attorney General Beckwith was present at the trial on behalf of his department.

At two o'clock in the afternoon Moller brought up a motion to admit the case to bail, and as Judge Robinson, who had heard the writ, was occupied, Judge Whitney ruled on the motion. The case was denied, with permission to enter it again after return had been made on the writ.

Deputy City Attorney Milverton then returned before Robinson and moved that the respondents to the writ be given until Thursday to file their answer. This met with strenuous objection from McBride, and the court denied the motion. In his argument, however, Mr. Milverton referred to what he called the "reprehensible methods of the head police officials of the San Francisco department of [illegible] and other warm matters to which [illegible] objected, and Milverton agreed to apply.

The [illegible] meeting of the directors of something to say on the matter and [illegible] the Y. M. C. A. will be held on the [illegible] such business that when we [illegible] and Monday in December, which falls [illegible] something [illegible] be learned to [illegible] on the [illegible] grass. At this meeting it [illegible] that the matter of Japanese [illegible] be discussed. [illegible]

[illegible] of the meeting, which is [illegible] provided for in the by-laws of the association, sent out [illegible] Dr. Pierce Trent [illegible] special meeting to deal with the question should be called or not.

"Dr. Trent, on being queried by an Advertiser man stated that he saw no reason why [illegible] call a special meeting before the date called [illegible] the regular meeting of the association.

Physical Director Hand had a number of interesting things to say in the matter to an Advertiser reporter yesterday. He was [illegible] and [illegible] his remarks which were [illegible]

"The newspapers have been dying [illegible] the battle in the matter of the re-[illegible] of the association [illegible] Japanese to membership. When they have done talking the association will have [illegible] something to say in [illegible] but a Christian. The association has tried to [illegible] questions and [illegible] we have kept out of the papers as [illegible] We have tried to handle [illegible] Japanese membership question [illegible] quietly and we have succeeded [illegible] enough, and as long as [illegible] we shall [illegible] great number [illegible] give the Japanese [illegible] membership.

COMPETITIVE SERVICE DRILL

Floral Parade Committee Will Ask Army and Marines to Participate.

A competitive drill of representative detachments from each of the army organizations stationed on Oahu, including the marine corps, for Floral Parade day, is being considered by Director General Arthur Wall. The matter is being placed with the committee in charge of the military section.

The committee will call the competitive drill to the prospective plate and when the matter is arranged will lay it before Col. Walter Schuyler, Fifth Cavalry, [illegible] commander of the district of Hawaii, and before Major Neville, commandant of the marine barracks. The organizations which may be invited to take part in the drill, which would be for a cup or for first and second prize cups, will be a troop of the Fifth Cavalry, a detachment of Battery F, First Field Artillery, a company of the Coast Artillery, a detachment of engineers, a company of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, a company of [illegible] and a company of the First Regiment, National Guard of Hawaii.

MARINE CORPS HAS A BAND

Battalion at the Barracks Has Music at Guard Mount and Inspections.

Honolulu will soon be able to boast of the title of "The Musical Paradise," when the infantry regiment arrives here next spring to take station at Leilehua, for that regiment will bring its regimental band. The Fifth Cavalry, at Leilehua, is equipped with a band, and the Marine Barracks has the makings of one of the best bands in the marine and naval service. Fort Shafter at present has no band, being only a battalion post, but if another battalion is [illegible] there the post will [illegible]
