

SATURDAY'S PARADE AND MEETING.

reiously utter the name of one who figures so brilliantly in the history of literature; it signifies education, a man who has read. We wonder if there were any Hawaiians who spoke Saturday evening, who in an unguarded moment are apt to use the name of some man famous in literature. We wonder again if there are not some local prominent haoles who do not know whether Wm. Cullen Bryant was a base-ball player or a bookmaker. The anti silver feeling of the Eastern press has proved the kind of a man the Democrats have at the head of their ticket; when Mr. Bryan after four years of hard work for his party and principles, said to the convention assembled at Kansas City: Gentlemen, unless you adopt the Silver plank I step down and out; it only displayed the principle and straightforwardness for which he is much respected by all who know him. And though we hear of the opposition of a certain class to the silver part of the platform, we all know the confusion that would have followed Bryan's withdrawal and the utter impossibility to have selected, at the eleventh hour, a man half so strong, or one who could have held the party together; so we in unison with all the Democrats in Hawaii congratulate Mr. John Wise on his vote for 16 to 1. John says he is not familiar enough with the money question to publicly explain 16 to 1, which are the very same words we once heard John R. McLean say, when asked to explain the same question. Wm. McKinley ought to be as able to define its meaning as is Mr. Bryan, for when McKinley was a Senator he was a 16 to 1 man an advocate of the Sherman law and a strong opponent of anything English, he is now on the opposite side and his only reason for being there is, as he told a prominent silver man, that he "had to."

In Hawaii just now we are hearing a great deal about the actions of Senator Tillman; let me say to the Hawaiians who may see this that Mr. Tillman never saw an Hawaiian and of course cannot intelligently say what is required for Hawaii and the Hawaiians in the way of legislation or anything else; he does not know that it is possible to bring him into Hawaiian homes and show him culture and refinement to equal if not surpass that of the Tillman home. Senators Morgan and Barry are Democratic Senators and know the Hawaiian people; we all know their feelings in this matter. The action of a few Senators on the negro question in their home states does not apply to the principles of the party to which they belong, nor can it in any way apply to the Hawaiians. If it did the Democrats might refer to Oregon with her recent Republican majority of 10,000, their state constitution contains the most rigid restrictions regarding the negro and his rights, a proposal to repeal this clause was also defeated this spring. I see the Kamehameha Schools are to study the U. S. Constitution, this is a bad thing for the local Republican party; it must be prevented, the boys will read where all men are supposed to have the same rights and privilege, they will read, if a certain Territory or country becomes a part and parcel of the U. S. and is under and protected by the Stars and Stripes it must necessarily be governed by the same federal constitution which governs its neighboring territory under the same flag. They will also read that when a part of the United States over which the flag flies is being taxed without representation, it is being done unconstitutionally and was sufficient cause in 1776 to raise an awful row.

John Wise is an old Kam. boy and we strongly suspect that he is at the bottom of this, for John knows that copies of the U. S. Constitution scattered broadcast would be most eloquent campaign literature for the Democratic Party this fall. We viewed the procession from the corner of Hotel and Bethel streets, standing near us were two honest mechanics, whose nationality was unmistakably manifested when the green fire was burned. When a certain part of the parade reached our corner, the taller of the two said to his companion, "Would ye look at that, Moike! There's thim bloody Anarchists like we saw in South Chicago." Kulikuli said Mike, who is a kamaaina, "thims only Tim Murray and his Terriers." "Faith and who's Tim Murray?" asked the tall man, "Why ye ignorant divill!" 'Twas him and Lewis and Turk that first organized the Republican party in Hawaii.

HE DEMOKRATA OPINION.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

What is Harold M. Sewall after? The ex-minister, ex-special agent of a republican president, has never been accused of using good American coin for the fun of spending his surplus. On Saturday night he opened costly champagne at the Hotel and yesterday he lunched in almost elegant fashion the chairmen of the different Republican precincts. Is ex-democrat Sewall a candidate for the office of Hawaiian Delegate to congress?

What right had the committee in charge of the Republican meeting held last Saturday to place the names of citizens on the list of vice presidents, who never gave any authority to couple their names with the local republican party. It was, to say the least, very bad form and that men like Messrs S. M. Damon, Paul D. Isenberg and others resent this peculiar method of doing politics is only natural.

The Democrats in Hawaii are not asleep altogether although they do not hire boys from the Chinese quarters, or N. G. H. soldiers to parade the streets with old torches. An important meeting was held on Saturday afternoon, and considerable business would have been attended to yesterday if Prince David hadn't been called away by an urgent message to Waialua. The Prince returned from the festive halls of Haleiwa last night, and the Democrats are ready for action. There is no truth in the report that the princely delegate was abducted by Colonel Parker, the Republican orator.

The ungentlemanly and unprofessional attack on F. J. Testa, which appeared in the Republican yesterday, deserves no notice from this paper. All we wish to say is that at a public political meeting Americans as a rule express their opinions, by applauding or showing signs of disapproval. Had Mr. Testa violated any decorum the police officer standing next would undoubtedly have interfered, and Mr. Testa eventually found himself in the court of the writer of the silly scurrilous paragraph—with his coat on.

Escaped Priest Tells of Massacre.

HONGKONG, July 25, 4:55 p. m.—Rev. Stephano Sette, an Italian priest who has just arrived here after an adventurous voyage from Hensien-Fu, in Southern Hunan, in the course of an interview says that on July 4 the native converts warned him that the Bishop's house, a two hours' journey distant, had been set on fire and the Bishop, Right Rev. Antonio Fantozzati, three fathers and hundreds of converts had been murdered. Six other priests had fled to the mountains.

Father Stephano hid in the mountains for three days, and then some converts came and carried him to the river in a coffin as a corpse. They placed him in a boat. Afterward the boat people discovered that he was not a corpse, and were frightened at carrying a European, but ultimately they consented on promise of reward. After a hazardous journey and many adventures his devoted converts brought him safely to Canton, whence he took a steamer to Hongkong. He says that Hunan province is aflame with rebellion.

Russians Fight Their Way Out.

St. Petersburg, July 26.—The Russian Minister at Seoul, M. Pavloff, reports that the Russian detachment which left Port Arthur en route to Pyongyang, reaching Jigu on Sunday, July 23, has arrived at Pyongyang with the loss of fifteen killed and many wounded. They fought their way through opposing natives at the point of the bayonet. General Grodekoff in a dispatch dated at Chabaravosk Tuesday, July 24, states that a detachment of railway guards, safely brought a caravan of 220 civilians and officials from the railway to Zurughaitu. Chinese troops, General Grodekoff adds, are raiding and looting the Yalu valley.

Another steamer with Russian troops aboard was bombarded by Chinese from the river bank July 24. Securing reinforcements, the Russian commander returned to the scene and landed on the Chinese side of the Yalu river. He attacked the Chinese posts in the face of a heavy fire. Some Chinese pickets were taken prisoners. Three magazines were set on fire and exploded. The Chinese lost 300 killed, while the Russians' loss was only seven.
