The remains of J. K. Kaulia were lying in state last evening in the undertaking establishment of H. H. Williams on Fort Street. The casket is laden with flowers and leis, and several floral pieces are arranged in an artistic manner about the room. A guard of Hawaiians is present day and night, and will remain there until the funeral takes place on Sunday.

CASE SUBMITTED.

Eloquent appeal of Geo. A. Davis in Behalf of Circuit Court.

At 10 o'clock this morning George Davis resumed his address in the Supreme Court in behalf of the Circuit Judges and finish his argument at 11:30. Attorney Lewis of W. O. Smith and Lewis, then started on in his endeavor to rebuke some of Mr. Davis arguments. At noon the Supreme Court adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

George A. Davis arguments this morning attracted considerable attention from the Court and the small but select audience present. He cited authorities and precedents from nearly every State and Territory in the Union, in support of his argument that Walter G. Smith's is not a constructive but a direct contempt. He concluded his address as follows:

"If your Honor's please, the idols of today may be mobbed tomorrow during times of political excitement. Newspapers will sing your praises today, they will land you to the skies and tomorrow, they will hold you up to public contempt and ridicule. During these troublesome and exciting times, the Judiciary must be kept sacred and newspapers must not be allowed to invade the sanctuary of Justice.

"No effect is made to control the press, when the press confines itself to its legitimate sphere, but liberty of the Press stops when it invades the rights of others, rights which pertain to the life and liberty of every citizen. According to the Constitution of the United States, every man is guaranteed the use of free speech, free opinions and free writing. The judiciary is not above criticism. When a case has been duly and fairly tried and a decision has been rendered, that decision is open and subject to the criticism of the world.

"But Freedom does not mean license. When a Judge according to the law liberates a prisoner, the Advertiser has no right to begin a campaign of insult and defamation. It has no right to appoint itself a court running in opposition to the Judges.

"The work of the Advertiser has been a constant pounding and this vile cartoon was a coronation of acts and malicious insults. We are all human and we must forgive, we must give due credit to a man who in his own defense passes the limits of decency and we excuse him when he apologizes. But this is another case. Nothing can be more humiliating, more contemptible than the course taken by the Advertiser. It is no use to keep the courts open.

"But let them beware! We have not arrived at that stage yet. The matter is in your Honor's hands and your Honor's will protect the lower Courts. I submit my case and I thank the Honorable Court for their kind and continued attention."

Damage by Blasting.

Honolulu's sewer system is said to be endangered by the blasting going on at the new Bishop wharf. It is pointed out that the waterfront is made up of filled ground and consequently the concussions caused by the heavy blasts shake the sewer pipes from their foundations. The brick wall in the rear addition to Lewis & Cooke's new building on King street has been cracked for a distance of 20 feet and it is said to be the result of these confounded blastings.

Fire Claims Commission.

Arguments begun this morning before the fire claims commission on behalf of the insurance companies and will be continued tomorrow. A. G. M. Robertson of Robertson and Wilder, Holmes of Holmes and Stanley and Judge Silligman appeared for the insurance companies and the Attorney General for the Government.

Reporters Called Down.

During the arguments, in the Supreme Court this morning in the Walter G. Smith contempt case, George Davis paid his respects to the reporters present in Court. As they were indulging in a discreet smile during Davis' comment on the liberty of the Press, the attorney noticed them and requested the Court to compel them to keep quiet. His remarks were undoubtedly for benefit of the Advertiser man, but the other reporters present were included in the general laugh which greeted the attorney's remarks.

The First Local Mint.

One of the institutions here which has the special attention of tourists as well as the local people is the Mint, which is established on Nuuanu street, opposite Queen Emma Hall. It is interesting to enter the large main working room, where general manager McDonough and his corps of assistants are at work. The cool and large lanai is a proper resting place and the vaults, where the "bars" to be minted and beer are kept present a very tasty spectacle. The Mint is open from 5:30 a. m. to 11:30 p. m. and during those hours the work never ceases. Visitors after looking over the place will find first class refreshments and the purest of liquors.
