LOCAL NEWS.

Band concert at Emma square to-night. The adjourned meeting of British residents will be held to-night.

A Chinaman has taken the premises where the Victoria restaurant ran its brief course.

The reformatory school band gave a concert on board the Kaimiloa yesterday afternoon.

In a skirmish between Arabs and Egyptians, the latter under Gen. Chermide, in the Sudan, the Arabs lost 200 in killed and wounded, and the Egyptians had forty wounded.

Members of the Honolulu Rifles will see elsewhere Battalion order No. 4, announcing a meeting for important business this evening. Those who do not possess fatigue uniforms are expected to be there anyway.

The training ship Kaimiloa made a trial trip under command of Lieut. McDonald on Saturday afternoon. She steamed out to sea as far as Diamond Head, making very slow speed. The steamer Surprise passed her easily.

Kaula, a native man, aged between thirty-five and forty years, reported to have lately served in the capacity of private secretary to Princess Poomaikalani, died Saturday evening at his residence in the Queen's yard, Punchbowl street.

The native schoolhouse at Lihue, Kauai, was burglarized on Thursday morning, and the clock stolen. The clock was recovered next day by the police and a lad named Kekoa arrested. He was, on pleading guilty, sentenced to five days' imprisonment and payment of costs.

At the regular meeting of Honolulu Typographical Union No. 37, last Saturday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Jas. S. Turner, President; U. G. Wilson, Vice President; J. J. Greene, Secretary; W. M. Pomeroy, Treasurer; Alonzo Kuhia, Sergeant-at-Arms. Trustees: Chas. A. Feistcorn, R. Sutherland, C. K. Spencer.

Mr. W. R. Castle, attorney for Mr. A. T. Atkinson, on Saturday filed in the Supreme Court Clerk's Office a suit for replevin of a consignment of printed matter against the Collector General. The latter is entered on the file as J. M. Kapena, perhaps on account of the new incumbent not yet being officially gazetted, although entered on the duties of the Collector General's office.

Fr. Burt, captain's steward, deserted the Kaimiloa on Friday. Harris, the boatswain, is fully believed to have got off on the barkentine Ella for San Francisco. A board bill unpaid on shore is among his memories. Harry Weeks, the deserting gunner, was captured, but it is said was dismissed the service on Saturday. He is one of the shipwrecked crew of the British ship Dunnotar Castle, who reached Kauai in an open boat from Ocean Island.

Mr. J. A. Magoon, lawyer, on Saturday evening took to himself a wife in the person of Miss Emmie Afong, daughter of Mr. C. Afong, the well-known merchant and planter. The Rev. J. A. Cruzan performed the ceremony at the residence of the bride's parents, the only spectators being the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The Herald extends its congratulations to the happy couple, wishing them a long and felicitous life in union.

Band Concert.

There will be a concert this evening at 7:30 at Emma Square. The following is the programme:

- March—Tannhauser, Wagner; Overture—Iphigenia, Gluck; Waltz—La Gitana, Boccaloni; Reminiscences of Meyerbeer, Godfrey; Pili Aoo.

Annual Show of the Society.

Exhibits and Prizes.

The Annual Show of the Hawaiian Agricultural Society took place, as announced, on last Saturday, in the Society's hall, Government Nursery lot, King street. The exhibits, in the various divisions of the advertised programme, were very meagre in number especially as such willing return was offered by the Society in the shape of prize awards to the different classes to which exhibitors were offered free space and competition. As is usually the custom in shows, in this country, but few exhibits were in position on the morning of exhibition, and if the management had adhered strictly to the rule that exhibits not in place "at the opening of the show" would not be entitled to compete for prizes, many of the lucky prize winners would have been justly ruled out. As it was the exhibits were small in number although excellent in variety, and in character would have been, probably, the winners in their different classes.

But few people were present up to noon time, although the excellent music of the Hawaiian Band, under the direction of Professor Berger, was freely and frequently discoursed from 9 a. m. At 1 p. m. the first noticeable installment of visitors arrived and from that hour until after 3:30 the attendance was exceedingly satisfactory, greatly to the relief and delight of the hard-working and somewhat despondent managers. A fair estimate gives the number of visitors at about two hundred and fifty, all told, and the gaily dressed and interest seeking company added a charm to the exhibitions of Dame Nature.

After time had been fully given, to the visitors, to examine the exhibits presented, judges were sought for, by the active Mr. Jaeger, one of the managers, resulting in the appointment of Messrs. Fred. H. Hayselden, J. A. Hassinger and W. S. Forsyth, the latter gentleman being identified with the culture of cinchona and other valuable aboriginal projects. But, when the time came for the action of their judicial prerogatives, it was found that Mr. Hayselden was called away on business, and Mr. Hassinger declined on account of common interests; therefore a new triumvirate was formed, consisting of Messrs. Henry Waterhouse, W. R. Castle and the Mr. Forsyth aforesaid. These gentlemen, with Mr. Frank Godfrey as their scribe, quietly made the round of the tables, viewed the exhibits, and found it a very easy matter, on account of the varied nature of the articles and the generosity of the Society (in prizes), to make their awards easy, until they came to the Butter department, at the Housekeepers' exhibits, and then they acknowledged the superiority of the gentler sex, by calling to their aid, as experts, Mrs. J. O. Carter and Mrs. W. F. Allen. The first prize was, after but little difference of opinion among the quintette, awarded to the well-moulded, golden-colored and sweet tasting exhibit of a donor whose name was unknown.

Space will allow of only a passing notice of the exhibits and general tout ensemble of the Hall at the time of the show, the exhibits themselves being, as before stated, each excellent in character. So, en passant, the visitor's attention, on entering, is attracted to a table on the right which is laden with a display of goods from the firm of Messrs. Hollister & Co. There the fair sex receive a spray shower, at the hands of an attendant, of the firm's latest achievement in perfumery, the Hawaiian perfume "Mokihana." Horticulturists are gladdened with the sight of an "Insect Destroyer," and pharmaceutical preparations for the benefit of the blood and system end this exhibit. On the next table are arranged the products of some of the busy housewives of Honolulu; butter, jellies, pickles, fruit, etc., being temptingly displayed, the offerings of Mesdames J. M. Whitney (the "unknown" prize butter maker), H. Berger, C. W. Chamberlain, T. R. Foster, A. Jaeger, J. A. Hassinger, and Miss May Waterhouse. At the end, Messrs. King Bros., present on view specimens of their handiwork, in picture frames and pantiles. Also a framed pen and ink sketch of the well-known engraving, "Pharaoh's Horses." This firm also exhibited a beautiful piece of wood carving, representative of a bunch of mangoes. The visitor now crosses to the opposite side of the building, viewing in passing Hawaiian geese with young, and a box of bananas, the exhibits of Mr. J. N. Robinson and Master Hills. Coming toward the entrance the tables display exhibits of roses by Mr. Carl Willing, boys and girls' hats by Mrs. Alice Metcalf and men's hats by Miss Maria Lane, both ladies exhibiting marked skill in their handling of the native straws. Mr. Jaeger adds to the interest by the exhibition of a specimen of the carleudo-cica palmata, or leaf of the palm from which Panama hats are made. Beautiful bunches of bananas, by Mr. Henry Macfarlane, a curious specimen of new cocoanuts and a comparative showing of common cocoanuts, by Mrs. V. Ward, greet the curious before their eyes are arrested by a huge bunch of beautiful flowers and flower wreath, exhibited as the handiwork of the little Princess Kaiulani. Another step, and a hand-made koa calabash, from Mrs. V. Ward, and twenty-four cocconut bowls and two calabashes from Mrs. A. N. Tripp, are presented to view; the end of the table reached and the interested visitor takes a breathing spell.

Now, being again at the place of entrance, opportunity is given to have a view of the excellent and rare specimens of horticulture, in the shape of palms, ferns, plants and flowers, which occupy the entire centre of the hall, the exhibits of Mrs. S. C. Allen, Princess Kaiulani, Mrs. C. O. Berger, and Messrs. A. Jaeger and J. N. Robinson. Rare, indeed, was the collection of palms which Mr. Jaeger presented, about fifty in number and comprising twenty varieties not grown generally on these islands. Mrs. Allen's caladiums, bigonias and anthuriums won merited praise from connoisseurs; Mr. Robinson's orchids, both in flower and ferns, were much admired, and Mrs. C. O. Berger's maiden's hair fern, Princess Kaiulani's cut flowers, Mr. Jaeger's crotons and a prize bouquet by Mrs. Jaeger, added greatly to the pleasure of the occasion.

After the awards had been announced Mr. Frank Godfrey, acting as auctioneer, sold the palms exhibited, which were donated to the Society by Mr. Jaeger; the proceeds, amounting to nearly $150.00, being intended to defray a portion of the expense in roofing the Hall with glass.

THE PRIZE WINNERS.

Following are the awards made by the judges, and prize-winners will receive their prizes in a few days at the hands of Mr. J. S. Webb the secretary. The first prizes, in nearly all cases, are, it is understood, to be diplomas of the Society.

Division 1. Horticulture: Palms, A. Jaeger. Growing Ferns, J. N. Robinson. Anthurium, Mrs. S. C. Allen; Bigonias, Mrs. S. C. Allen. Bouquets, Mrs. A. Jaeger (first), Princess Kaiulani (second). Cut Flowers, Princess Kaiulani. Crotons, A. Jaeger. Flowering Cocconut, Mrs. V. Ward (special). New Cocoanuts, Mrs. V. Ward. Bananas, H. R. Macfarlane. Mummie Apples, Antone George. Mammoth Squash, R. N. Mossman. Red Guavas, Mrs. A. Jaeger. Caladiums, Mrs. S. C. Allen. Floral wreath, Princess Kaiulani. Sapota pears and cacao, Mrs. T. R. Foster. China oranges, Rose apples, Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain (special). Mangoes, Major Hills.

Division 2. Dairy Produce: Firkin butter, Ahuimanu Ranch. Home made butter (excellent—the writer has divided it amongst connoisseurs), Mrs. J. M. Whitney (first), Miss May Waterhouse (second).

Division 3. Agriculture: Fodder plants, H. R. Macfarlane.

Division 4. Domestic Manufactures: Best display, Hollister & Co. "Mokihana." Hawaiian perfume, Hollister & Co. Pharmaceutical preparations, Hollister & Co. Cocconut bowls, Mrs. A. N. Tripp. Koa calabash, Mrs. V. Ward. Boys and girls' straw hats, Mrs. Alice Metcalf. Men's hats, Miss Maria Lane. Picture frames and pantiles, King Bros. Wood carving, King Bros.

Division 5. Poultry and Birds: Hawaiian geese and young, J. N. Robinson.

Division 6. Miscellaneous: Pickles, Mrs. J. A. Hassinger. Guava jelly, Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain. Red guava jelly, Mrs. A. Jaeger. Panama hat straw, A. Jaeger (special).

A Spartan Officer.

Officer Robinson, of the mounted police, on Saturday night, late, arrested a party of five persons, who in his opinion were disturbing the quiet of the night. The carriage containing the revellers was driven to the Police Station, where the occupants dismounted and, on marching to the Station keeper's desk, displayed faces well known in political and social circles here, amongst them being that of the Governor of Oahu, His Majesty's Chamberlain, the Lieutenant General and last but not least the Attorney General. The arresting officer, nothing backward, pressed his charge for the detention of the party; but the officer on watch, Hopkins, the regular attache (Keau) having gone home from his arduous vigils, decided on giving the Scotch verdict "not proven" and allowed the party to retire. Some indiscreet language was used by one of the crowd to the effect that, in any other country the "Attorney General would have kicked the head of the arresting officer." Officer Robinson proved braver, in comparison, than Officer Kauhane, who received a gold watch for the capture of Chun Hook.

A Word on Inexpensive Millinery.

While we admit that no goods come to this country for millinery purposes too fine for us to buy, at the same time we claim to carry the Largest Line and Best Assorted Stock.

Of general Millinery of all grades in Honolulu.

To those who do not have much time for shopping: Do not let the idea of industriously circulated by interested parties, who keep nothing but cheap goods, run away with your judgment, that because a house is largely patronized by those who give a great deal of attention to their dress, you must necessarily pay high prices for what you want. As a general thing such people have time and plenty of it to look around, and just as anxious to make a dollar go as far as you are, and take advantage every time of the opportunity to get the best bargains for their money.
