TAXI MAN NIPS ALLEGED THUG

Violates Traffic Law to Attract Police; Eugene Duvall Held.

Charged with assault and battery with intent to rob Pat Murphy, a chauffeur for the Wilcox & Herr Taxi Cab Company, a man giving his name as Eugene Duvall was being held today by the detectives under a $10,000 bond.

Following Duvall's arrest last night after a coup on the part of the taxi driver, Inspector Manning of the detective department questioned Duvall for hours.

Finally at 1:30 o'clock this morning Duvall was sent to jail on a charge of assault with intent to rob.

Murphy, the taxi driver, said he was called to Meridian and Washington streets last night and waiting for him there were two men. The taxi driver states that he was given instructions to drive to Meridian street and west on the Bluff road.

Suddenly one of the men seized Murphy by the throat and poked a revolver against his ribs. Murphy told the police he was taken to the intersection of Meridian and Washington streets.

A third man in the automobile jumped from the auto when the officer arrived and escaped.

LOCAL SHOW TO BE EXCEPTIONAL, ORMAN INSISTS

A mile of music, one yard wide, is not enough to fill the requirements of the scheme of decoration which has been worked out for the beautification of the Manufacturers' building at the state fair grounds during the week-end automobile show in the Indianapolis Automobile Trade Association, March 8 to 13.

"We're going to have the most beautiful show in America, without a doubt," predicted Mr. Orman. "We can't fall to the country in charge of this part of the show."

The man in charge of decorations is Charles Read, it was announced. He has secured Frank J. Zimmerman to assist him. Mr. Zimmerman's services were made available to the automobile association through the courtesy of the Circle of the Circle M. Zimmerman is recognized as one of the foremost masters of theater decoration and scenic art in the country.

Just as the association went a step ahead in getting Mr. Zimmerman, the artist himself has gone in advance of others in the decorative scheme. The usual columns, festoons and scrolls will be in evidence, but in most unusual colors. The step ahead consists of dozens of large panels, bearing scenes, which will be hung over the ground glass windows, forming at least two-thirds of the walls of the vast building, so much cloth will be required to construct these, it was discovered, that there is not enough available in all the department stores and wholesale houses in Indianapolis to fill the order. The merchants are rushing orders for more. It will take the scene painters all the time from now until a short time before the opening day to get the panels ready. Never before has there been such a tremendous call for exhibition space so long before the opening date, Manager Orman said. When he is not answering telephone calls for space he is attending to the pleas of dealers who call in letters, or opening letters and telegrams which come by the dozens.

Tells 'Liberal's' Views on Reforms in U. S.

Miss Malinda Alexander of Chicago, secretary of the Chicago branch of the committee of forty-eight, headed by "liberal" citizens, advised a meeting last night in the Claypool hotel. John F. White presided.

Cafeteria Company Out of Receivership

The Fletcher Cafe Company, which operates a cafeteria in the basement of the Fletcher Savings and Trust Company's building, has been released from the control of a receiver by Judge Louis E. Bank of the circuit court. In July, 1916, the Fletcher Savings and Trust Company was appointed receiver of the cafeteria company. Since that time all obligations have been paid and the property turned over to E. J. Robinson, owner of the cafeteria.

INDIANA COUNTY IS NEGLECTING CHURCH WORK

Rural Population of Tippecanoe Without Proper Influence, Survey Shows.

FEW ATTEND SERVICES

Only about one-sixth of the rural population of Tippecanoe county, Indiana, attend church. This condition was brought about in the first survey of rural Protestant churches in Indiana under the direction of the Interchurch World Movement, and made public today. The whole survey will be laid before church workers in Lafayette on Feb. 22 and 23.

The survey of the rural section outside Lafayette has brought out that of approximately 36,000 people in the county, 20,000 live in the rural section. The total number of people living within the parish boundaries is 14,000. This means that more than four-fifths of the rural population are living outside the boundaries of any church parish.

One hundred square miles of the county are untouched by church influence. Fifteen churches have a membership enrollment of 47 to 104, thirteen churches have more than 100 members, while four churches have between 200 and 250 members.

Speaking in terms of adequate church equipment found in the thirteen townships of Tippecanoe county, only five townships possess churches that approach a modern standard in rural church situation, that of meeting the needs of the community.

Six Protestant denominations are represented in the survey, the names of which and number of churches follow: Disciples of Christ, four; Friends, one; Methodist Episcopal, sixteen; Presbyterian, four; Evangelical Lutheran, four; United Brethren, two.

Prof. William Sweet of the history department of DePauw university will speak tomorrow night at the Meridian street Y. M. C. A. on the subject, "America's Moral Obligations."

The old church at Prospect street and Villa avenue soon will be torn down. Church announcements are as follows: BROOKSIDE PARK U. B.—Rev. J. B. Parsons, pastor, will preach Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Evangelical sermons. Subject for evening service, "Fidelity Plus Faith."

MORNING CHURCH.—Morning subject, "The Parable of the Sower." Evening, "The Parable of the Good Samaritan." CENTRAL UNIVERSALIST.—Morning subject, Rev. Lucius R. Paige, "Our Red Resources."

MANSER PARK METHODIST PROTESTANT.—Morning subject of Rev. J. C. McCall, "Grieving the Holy Spirit." Evening, "The Devil's World."

City Chemist Says Home Brews Contain Many Dangerous Poisons

Jesse R. Dunwoody, city chemist, in laboratory at city hall examining suspicious liquor.

If your nose really knows the half-score or more substitutes of old-time liquor, in other words, the "cousins" of wood alcohol, you've got the one nose in the world, declared Jesse R. Dunwoody, city chemist.

He's met every one of the "wood alcohol cousins" in the chemical laboratory and Mr. Dunwoody warns every one against taking chances on home-made booze.

Many other cities of the country have substituted that which has been discovered: "Blatin-jack mixed with refined wood alcohol; 'real-fer-sup' whisky doctored with wood alcohol; gin and refined wood alcohol; crude wood alcohol; refined wood alcohol with characteristic odor that also medicine alcohol mixed with formaldehyde; grain alcohol denatured with wood alcohol; kummetl mixed with refined wood alcohol; anisette mixed with refined wood alcohol, and special made drink containing wood alcohol.

"The danger in these various drinks," explained Mr. Dunwoody, "lies in the seeming safety of the drink, for everyone of the liquors may tempt the inexperienced to try them out. These various 'restroom' formulas may turn out to contain fusel oil, crude fusel oil, but deadly poison. The mixing of real liquor with refined wood alcohol does not affect the smell of the original liquor."

Here are the ten wood alcohol cousins, which have been discovered: "Blatin-jack mixed with refined wood alcohol; 'real-fer-sup' whisky doctored with wood alcohol; gin and refined wood alcohol; crude wood alcohol; refined wood alcohol with characteristic odor that also medicine alcohol mixed with formaldehyde; grain alcohol denatured with wood alcohol; kummetl mixed with refined wood alcohol; anisette mixed with refined wood alcohol; and special made drink containing wood alcohol."

Cadle will relate a story of his religious experience. "How I Came Back." FLITCHER PLACE M. E.—Morning subject, "The Tragedy of the Unseeing Eye." MORNING CHURCH.—Morning subject, "The Tragedy of the Unseeing Eye." WEST SIDE CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE.—Morning theme, "Practical Christianity." Evening, "Personal Salvation." KING AVENUE M. E.—Morning subject, "Beating Our Burdens." Evening, "Passing Through the Desert." SOUTH SIDE CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE.—The morning subject will be "The Road to the Cross." Evening, "Almost Persuaded." GRACE EVANGELICAL.—Morning subject, "The Road to the Cross." Evening, "God's Program for the World." ST. GEORGE'S EPISCOPAL.—Rev. George E. Young will preach in the morning on the theme, "A Woman of Character." Vesper services at 4 p. m. subject, "The Road to the Cross." TRINITY M. E.—Rev. C. N. Willson will preach evangelistic sermons both morning and evening. ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN.—English services at 10 a. m. subject, "The Road to the Cross." TRINITY CONGREGATIONAL.—Rev. W. Allen will preach in the morning and evening. Rev. W. Porter of Bluffton, Ind., who was expected to preach Sunday, is unable to come because of sickness.

300,000 POGROM TOLL SINCE WAR

Jewish Speaker Says Conditions in Poland Are Worst.

The lives of more than 300,000 Jews have been taken in the near east since the end of the war and pogroms have been conducted in no less than 128 cities, A. B. Seelenfreund, secretary of the executive committee of the Independent Order of B'Nai B'rith, who spoke at the Jewish temple last night, declared.

"What has the Jew gained by his sacrifice in the war?" asked Mr. Seelenfreund. "What has profited him the patriotism and devotion to whatever country happened to claim his loyalty which prompted his giving 900,000 to various branches of service and the lives of 200,000 on the altar of that loyalty?"

"Hatred and ostracism, persecution and murder are his lot today in central Europe as never before."

"The wholesale bloodshed which is a daily occurrence in the near east is only in a very small degree revealed to you through the news that I see in the newspapers in this section. In three countries in that section more than 200,000 lives of Jews have been taken since the war ended, and pogroms have been conducted in no less than 128 cities."

"The condition of the Jew in Poland is the worst, the speaker said. He said that there the Jew has no privilege whatever and can not even send his children to school."

"The danger in these various drinks," explained Mr. Dunwoody, "lies in the seeming safety of the drink, for everyone of the liquors may tempt the inexperienced to try them out. These various 'restroom' formulas may turn out to contain fusel oil, crude fusel oil, but deadly poison. The mixing of real liquor with refined wood alcohol does not affect the smell of the original liquor."

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The United States shipping board steamer William Henry Webb was being towed to port today by the steamship Panaman, according to a message received at the naval radio station here. The Webb was crippled and reported a fire off the New Jersey coast between Beach Haven and Tucker Beach light. The steamer carries a crew of forty.

The coast guard cutter Seneca, which was already at sea in response to a distress call from the Avondale, another shipping board boat, started for the Webb on learning by wireless that the cutter was in distress. When in sight of the Webb, another wireless distress message was received from the New England Coal Company steamer Malden, disabled off Fire Island. The Seneca was standing by the Malden at last reports.

LONDON THINKS WE'RE TERRIBLE

Movies Blamed for Giving Wrong Impression.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—It's a terrible life we Americans lead in America. That's what the average Englishman thinks, basing his "thinks" upon what he sees in movie-land. Please remember, you home movie fans, that millions of Englishmen depend almost entirely upon the screen for their knowledge of America. And, remember also, that the bulk of the movies they see are produced in American studios by American movie stars, with American directors and acting.

According to scenarios written by Americans, who presumably are acquainted with American life.

An English newspaper writer recently summed up his impressions of America, gained totally from the screen. Here is tabloid form are some of his discoveries: All rich Americans live in palaces or gorgeous hotels.

When the family is not at a restaurant, father chews a cigar and telephones to business associates and daughter phones to some young man.
