

TREASURY TO BE MADE OVER VERY QUIETLY

Elmer Dover Says Process Will Continue as Before.

Special to Indiana Daily Times and Philadelphia Public Ledger.
WASHINGTON, April 7.—Reorganizing of the Treasury—"Hardingizing the department in the interests of efficiency" —is up to the President himself.
This situation arose when Secretary Mellon issued a statement flatly denying that any general reorganization of the Internal Revenue Bureau is contemplated, followed by an assertion by Assistant Secretary Dover that the bureau would be "Hardingized." Despite these conflicting statements, high officials did not regard the incident as a break between the men.

Secretary Mellon's statement, addressed to the officers and employees of the bureau, was regarded more as a move to allay the fears of employees frightened by the clean-out of chiefs in the bureau, to maintain the highest standard of efficiency and to influence all employees to give loyal support and complete cooperation to their chiefs.

Mr. Dover, who yesterday talked with the President concerning the contemplated changes in the bureau, emphasized that no drastic or sudden changes are to be made. A reorganization of the bureau has been quietly going on for some time, he said. This will continue until the heads of all divisions are efficient men friendly to the policies of the Administration.

The persistent rumor that Collector of Internal Revenue Blair is to resign, was revived as a result of the conflicting assertions of his chiefs. While Mr. Blair refused even to discuss the report, he is known to be greatly concerned over losing good men from his bureau. He has found it difficult to keep efficient experts on low salaries from accepting private employment and the reports of wholesale dismissals has aggravated the situation.

In his statement to the "Officers and All Other Employees of the Bureau of Internal Revenue," Secretary Mellon said:
"My attention has been called to the reports which have been appearing in the press predicting a general reorganization of the bureau of internal revenue and the removal of certain officers and heads of divisions."

"These reports do not emanate from any official source and are absolutely without foundation. No such reorganization is now nor has been at any time contemplated. It is my desire, however, that the efficiency of the bureau should be maintained at the highest possible

Workhouse Is Speeders' Sanitarium

DETROIT AND CLEVELAND TRY REMEDY

John Duval Dodge Says He's Cured

Workhouse sentences curb speeders and reduce street accidents almost 50 per cent.
Experiences in Detroit and Cleveland prove it, in cold statistics.
Both cities are automobile centers.
Both have suffered a rapidly mounting and injured list from traffic accidents, despite the efforts of safety committees, well-trained traffic squads of police, and educational campaigns.

standard, and with that end in view I shall expect every employee of the bureau to give the commissioner and his deputies their loyal support and complete cooperation."—Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company.

It so happened that the traffic courts of Detroit and Cleveland were at about the same time placed under the jurisdiction of judges who believe jail sentences were the proper doses for traffic ordinance offenders. Both judges have courtesy. Irrespective of polls, personages, or personal friendship these two judges have refused to let off traffic ordinance offenders with small fines and suspended sentences.

As for results—
In Detroit, where Judge Charles L.
Bartlett presides over municipal court, street accidents have fallen off nearly 50 per cent as compared with a year ago.
In Cleveland, where Judge Alva R. Cor-lett is falling even the first offenders under a new city traffic law, street accidents dropped 20 per cent the first week and Police Lieutenant Martin Biecke, in charge of traffic, predicts a 50 per cent reduction as soon as the terms of the new law have a chance to percolate thoroughly among the ranks of the "bandit drivers."

"One of our motorcycle men, who usually has forty arrests a week," said Judge Corlett, "caught only two speeders going more than twenty-seven miles an hour last week."

Women in Cleveland get workhouse terms the same as men.
"It makes no difference to the victim of an autoist whether the car is driven by a man or woman," said Judge Corlett in sentencing Mrs. Elizabeth Cheney, society woman, to two days in the workhouse for driving her electric automobile past a street car as four passengers got off.
Money and social prestige carry no influence in the Detroit court either. It was Judge Bartlett who sent John Duval Dodge to the workhouse for five days, where he washed dishes and shoveled coal.
Dodge says he's cured.

"I'm going to settle down now and go into business," declared Dodge, who inherited $1,000,000. First he is going to build his wife a home in Grosse Pointe, fashionable Detroit suburb.

Actual figures in Detroit show 185 street accidents for March, 1922, as against 345 for March, 1921. In Cleveland accidents dropped to 80 the first week as against 300 for the corresponding week a year ago.

It was feared that jail terms would result in so many demands for jury trials that the courts would be clogged. But experience shows that autoists don't ask for juries. They take their medicine.
And the medicine cures.

GETS REVENGE FOR LOSS OF EIGHTY BUCKS

Nick Charles, 702 Ketcham street, proprietor of a soft drink establishment at 702 Arnolda avenue, and his bartender, Boris Sorchya, 701 Ketcham avenue, today were arrested on charges of operating a blind tiger, following complaints of Amos Waddell, an employee at the Central Hospital, that he and a woman had been robbed of $80 in Charles' place.

Waddell told the police that early in the evening he met Violet and Jetta

Miller, sisters, living at 427 East Ohio street, and that they asked him to take them to Charles' place to get some drinks.
While there he said his pocketbook containing $45 was taken from him. One of the women complained that she had lost $35.
The women are held on vagrancy charges, pending investigation.
