

W. P. WALTON.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For County Judge, THOMAS W. VARNON;
County Attorney, JOSEPH B. PAXTON;
County Clerk, GEORGE B. COOPER;
Sheriff, J. N. MENEFFEE;
Jailer, SAMUEL M. OWENS;
Assessor, E. D. KENNEDY;
Sup't of Common Schools, W. F. McCLARY;
Surveyor, HARRY A. EVANS;
Coroner, ARCH CARSON.

Among the bills presented in Congress this session by Gov. McCreary are the following: To establish a U. S. Land Court in New Mexico; to dispense with the provision requiring soldiers and sailors of the Mexican war or their widows to be 62 years of age before they can receive a pension; to impose certain duties upon the department of labor; for the relief of Mrs. Mary L. Scott, widow of Lt. Scott; same for A. C. Robinson, executor of Jacob Robinson; same for R. H. Givens' heirs; same for W. T. Saunders, administrator of Susan Saunders; same for administrator of H. L. Carpenter; same for Arch Carson; same for trustees town of Crab Orchard; same for G. W. Evans, James M. Martin, John Baughman, W. G. Dunn, Gen. W. J. Landrum, D. N. Williams, J. G. Carter; and many others; also for granting pensions to Adam Petry, James Phelps, G. W. McClure, Martha A. Bibb, Carter Anderson and others; the petitions of Susannah Smith, Ira Manley, W. J. Owens, M. J. Harris, A. J. Settle and numerous others asking increase of pensions. He also presented petitions of James Naylor and W. J. Owens to remove the charge of desertion from their record. There is no man in Congress who looks after the interests of his constituency closer than Gov. McCreary and he serves them faithfully without regard to politics or favor.

The Somerset Reporter, which seems to have assumed the role of censor for this paper, says that it "rarely fails to strike a blow at the people who oppose the liquor traffic at every opportunity." As that paper sometime ago admitted it was a lying sheet, it is hardly necessary to notice this prevarication, but for fear some wayfaring man or a fool may be led into error thereby, we will state our sympathies are always with temperance people and for any sensible effort to curtail the evils of the liquor traffic, but we have no patience with hypocrites whether they call themselves prohibitionists or assume any other cranky or impracticable dogma. Is the thick caput of the critical censor capable of catching on to the difference between opposing cranky ideas and advocating sensible methods that experience has taught are the only practical ones for dealing with an acknowledged evil?

The Congressional committee appointed to investigate the Silcott defalcation finds that the government is better able to lose the amounts than the Congressmen and have accordingly suggested that everybody and everything be reimbursed. Judge Holman, the honest old Indian, and another member make a minority report against the government footing the bill. The majority report is very much like a salary grab, but is nothing more than might have been expected of men peculiarly interested in the result of their investigations, though it seems to be a great stretch of the conscience to report as they did.

SENATOR GORMAN, of Maryland, claims that he has been cured of neuralgia by following the advice of an old woman to wear a nutmeg to a string around his neck and placed so as to rest directly upon his breastbone. The Senator finds it quite difficult to keep it in place, but the ladies, or rather most of them, are better formed thereabouts for keeping the nutmeg in position, and to them we recommend the remedy.

ANOTHER mile-post on the journey of life is about to be passed, which causes us to note the rapid flight of time. "Christmas, 1889," is already in sight and again would we return our thanks to a liberal public for increased favors and wish each and every one of our patrons a joyous and happy season of good cheer.

SPEAKER REED is a vindictive animal. In making up his committees he left Representative Cheadle, of Illinois, entirely out, because he led the bolt which resulted in the election of Chaplain Milburn. Mr. Cheadle will have plenty of spare time, which he can put in worrying the man who snubbed him.

"HELL hath no fury like a woman scorned." This was terribly evinced at Milton, W. Va., Saturday, when Jennie Taylor threw boiling water into the face of George Wooler, putting out both his eyes, because, she alleged, he ruined and then refused to comply with his promise to marry her.

THE London Echo candidly admits that in order to secure its support the candidate must pay $2.50 for his announcement. That's cheap enough, to be sure.

—Henry Grady, the brilliant editor of the Atlanta Constitution, is said to be dying.

The Courier-Journal says of the McGibbens, who appear here on the night of the 26th: "In whatever formation the members of the company appeared—whether as full orchestra, brass band, vocal or instrumental quartets, or solos—they evidenced thorough mastery of the divine art, and their selections, invariably well rendered, were not only enthusiastically applauded, but encores were so frequent as to materially lengthen the performance. Without specifying individually the members of the family, it is sufficient to say that there was nothing done that was not well done, and that the performance was as pleasant a one as has been given at the Temple this season.

FOREIGN FUR FADS.

The new sealskin capes have triple folds of the fur and a turned down collar.

The new dolmans, whether of plush, velvet or seal, have very long, square ends in front, but are quite short at the back.

Both beaver and otter will be largely used as trimmings, as well as in capes and the long flat boas that will again be worn this winter.

Carmelite gray looks well when trimmed with natural astrakhan, and almost as well when the fur is dyed black. Hats and muffs are made to match the fur on the dress, and even bonnets have a little of it introduced in order to bring them into harmony with the costume.

Dresses are to be much trimmed with Astrakhan this winter, whether in its natural tint of gray or in black. Bands of the fur are introduced upon the skirts, and others of less width trim the bodices. The latter are often scarcely more than a hem or border, though the collar is always wide and protective.

Sealskin coats are made in the smoking jacket shape, which has proved so popular. On a fine day they can be worn thrown open, and on a cold one they are fastened in a moment across the chest, where the fur is then double. Others are long enough to reach to the hem of the dress, but these are only appropriate to midwinter, and I even then are too heavy for walking in.—Hatter and Furrier.

OUR HOLIDAY GOODS

this season. Got just what everybody wants to present everybody else with. Our prices HIT the buyer where it tickles him; hence we HIT last week the Biggest Business Ever Done in a Stanford House.

Having but two days in which to close a Tremendous Stock of Holiday Goods, we have lost sight of value, cost and profit and marked all goods bought for the holiday trade at prices that cannot fail to close every article. Nearly every merchant in Stanford was grumbling and growling last week on account of the awful weather, which occasioned dull trade with many. Such was not the case with the where Lowest Prices Rule. There can be no such thing as "dull trade." Throughout our entire establishment in every department we offer fresh, new, clean goods. One look at our immense new stock shows that experience and the nicest taste made the selections. Here you'll find something choice, serviceable and inexpensive for a gift to a friend or a loved one to commemorate the approaching happy holiday season. Give the useful, give the substantial, give the lasting and you'll be wise, and your wisdom will be greater if you make your selection from our Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Trunks, Carpets, Matting, &c.

Now are your last chances on the $200 Organ. Get as many tickets as possible this week.
